PRESIDENT MAY TAKE CRUISE TO SOUTH AMERICA

Returning to Job in Capital Today.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—A triumphal battleship cruise to Buenos Aires will be undertaken by President Roosevelt late this month. The newly reëlected President of the United States will show himself to South American rulers at the Pan-American peace conference Dec. 1.

After a day of refusal to comment on the expedition, Mr. Roosevelt tonight authorized a statement through his secretary, Marvin H. McIntyre, that it was "possible" that he would extend a vacation fishing cruise in order to make the trip to the sister continent.

Would Sound Out Public.

It was learned that the decision has practically been reached, but that a definite announcement was withheld by the President, who cautiously wished to sound out the public for a possible unfavorable reaction to this plan to go so far from home. Before his reëlection, the President on several occasions remarked that it would be unsafe for him to leave the capital for more than four or five days at a time because of the foreign situation.

"You've heard a lot recently about balancing the budget. Well, I'm going back to Washington and try to balance the budget, thereby carrying out the first of the campaign pledges."

After working on the budget for a week or so, the President remarked, he was going to board a ship and rest.

Nine Days in Washington.

President Roosevelt will stay in the White House not more than nine days before entraining for an as yet unnamed southern port, where he will board the Indianapolis Nov. 17.

Accompanied by at least one destroyer convoy, the big battle cruiser will proceed leisurely southward. No decision has yet been reached concerning the fishing grounds Mr. Roosevelt will choose, but he probably will drop anchor in Caribbean waters to indulge in his favorite sport.

The pace of the expedition will be so planned that the Indianapolis will arrive in Buenos Aires on the evening of Dec. 1 and the President next day will participate in the opening ceremonies of the peace conference. Present plans call for the President to stay one day in the city. He is said to have a desire also to visit Rio de Janeiro, but no announcement was made about other visits to South American capitals.

Back Dec. 13 or 14.

The tentative schedule would have the President return to Washington about Dec. 13 or 14.

Mr. Roosevelt today received several messages from South American rulers urging him to make the trip and his advisers, almost without exception, have counseled him to go. He probably would make a speech at the conference, airing his views on a program for international peace.

There was also a story that the President had in mind a trip to Europe, where he would urge the heads of world powers to join in an international peace movement. It was recalled that the President several weeks ago in the course of a dinner conversation mentioned a desire to summon Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, the king of England, the president of France, and some others to a conference at which some moves for world peace could be worked out.

Cardinal Luncheon Guest.

Today the President had as his luncheon guests Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state; Bishops Francis J. Spellman of Boston and Stephen J. Donohue of New York; Enrico Galleazzi, secretary to the cardinal; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Walker.

Afterward the cardinal talked to reporters. When he was questioned about the attitude of the church on the political activities of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, he seemed about to speak when Bishop Spellman stepped in and stopped him.

"The cardinal already has talked more than he planned to reporters on his visit thus far," Bishop Spellman

Will Link North and South Sides.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

The north span of the great steel framework to the outer drive bridge over the Chicago river, which Chicagoans have seen projecting 132 feet into the air, will be lowered next Monday morning when the bridge machinery is put into operation for the first time.

In the last few days the motors have been installed, electric power lines brought in and other preliminaries to the bridge lowering accomplished. This is an important milepost in converting into reality Chicago's years-old dream of an outer drive link connecting the south park and Lincoln park boulevard systems.

When workers under Frank A. Randall, bridge engineer for the Chicago park district, started laying the foundations for the bridge last Jan. 14 they dusted off designs made seven years ago. Plans for the whole outer drive improvement were brewing as long as 20 years ago, Randall said.

A Big but Delicate Job.

Despite the bulkiness of the materials, the machinery of the bridge alone weighing 360 tons, the lowering of the bridge will be a delicate operation.

"When we say we will lower it on a certain day, we cannot be dead certain we will," explained Engineer Randall. "We have estimated the counterweight as well as we can. If we find when we start to lower the framework that it is heavy in front, we will halt the proceedings and put in more counterweight."

This is done by adding to the 400 tons of concrete now partly filling the huge box fastened to the trusses at either end of the bridge. The box drops into a deep pit as the bridge is lifted.

Floor to be Concrete.

When the bridge is lowered the floor will be laid. It will be an innovation in Chicago bridges, the surface being of concrete instead of the slippery rubber used on the Michigan avenue bridge. It is to be no ordinary cement, but "a special, vibrated cement," the vibration tending to make it more dense. It will be placed in special curing ovens to make it almost like stone, Randall explained.

Workmen have been pouring this concrete in an I-beam grid which will form the floor of the bridge. The work was done in Clearing, Ill., and shipped to the bridge site in sections. There are 160 units to be laid and welded to the steel after it has been brought down. Each one is marked and must be fitted in a certain place. They will be lowered by crane, each one weighing about five tons.

Use Extra Heavy Concrete.

In the counterweight a special heavy concrete is being used, weighing 255 pounds to the cubic foot. A cubic foot of water weighs about 66 pounds and a cubic foot of ordinary concrete about 150 pounds. Including the foundations, approximately 5,000 cubic yards of ordinary concrete are being used in the bridge. Nearly 5,000 tons of steel are used in the bridge proper. Twenty-three thousand tons additional were used in viaducts in the outer drive improvement.

By Nov. 1, 1937, the entire outer drive improvement project, including Field boulevard and the Wacker drive extension which will connect it with the outer drive bridge, will be completed and ready for use, and the engineers hope it will be ready earlier, Randall said. Field boulevard will extend north from the present Leif Ericson drive, which will become part of Field boulevard.

Second Level for Trains.

The "mezzanine" level of the bridge, which was designed for railroad tracks, possibly the Illinois Central tracks, is not completed, but work on this will await prospective users' needs. Ultimately lower levels of the Randolph street viaduct, the Wacker drive extension, and Field boulevard will be used for local trafic, Randall said.

The width of the upper deck of the bridge is 108 feet. It will clear the river by 22 feet. From center to center of the trunnions, the pins on which the bridge rotates, the distance will be 264 feet. A clear chan-

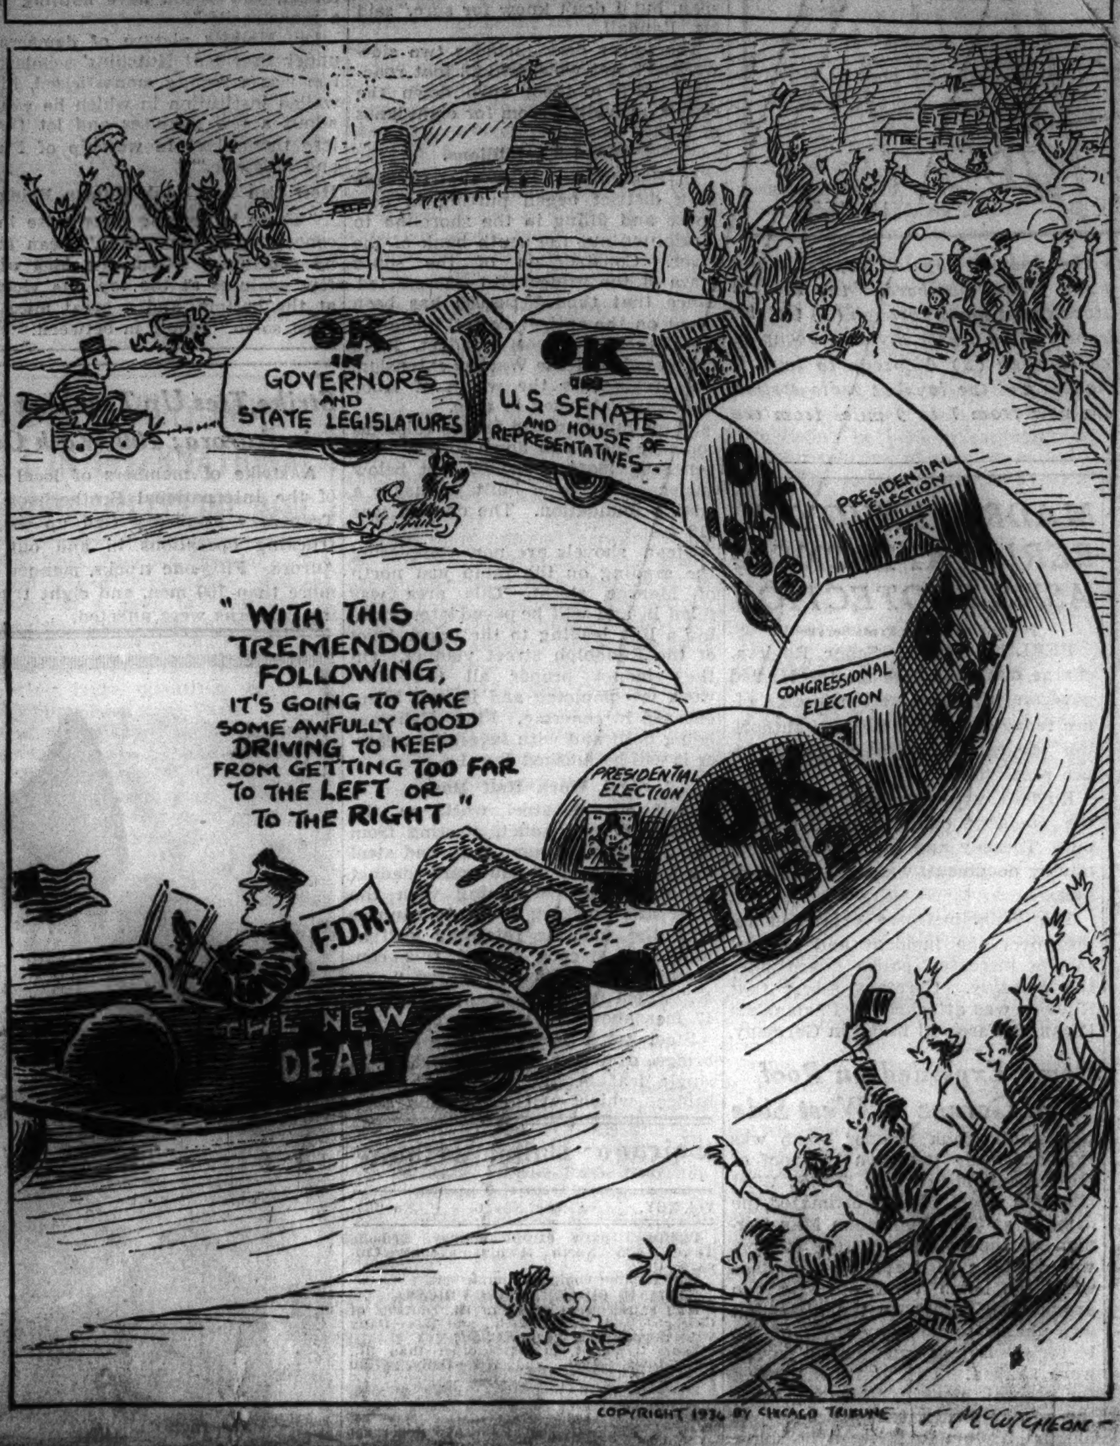
THE ALPHABETICAL PARADE REVISED UP TO DATE



Slanderers Hit by New Nazi Code of Laws

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The new Nazi penal code, on which a committee of legal experts had labored for three and a half years, was published today. It was announced by Franz Guertner, minister of justice. According to Nazi legislators, the code is to represent the "true sense of justice of the people" and supersede the old "non-German code influenced by Roman law."

Penalties for Slander.

Heavy punishment is promised for those who slander Adolf Hitler, the Nazi party, the army, the labor service, or memory of the war dead. Penal servitude awaits him who slanders the memory of the late President Paul von Hindenburg, the Nazi martyr Horst Wessel, or Leo Schlageter, who was executed by a French firing squad during the Ruhr occupation.

In line with the Nazi policy for more children, disparaging remarks in public about "motherhood" or marriage and public propaganda for birth control are punishable offenses. Incitement to suicide is also a criminal offense.

Death for Kidnapers.

The new code confirms the death penalty for kidnaping with the purpose of extorting ransom.

Strikes and lockouts are to be punished. A factory owner may suffer if he spends money recklessly, ruining his plant and causing dismissals of workers.

The new code eliminates dueling as a criminal offense. It is explained that members of the army or party cannot be expected to defend their honor with weapons and simultaneously be threatened by punishment.

Fines will be paid in proportion to the earnings of the offender. A wealthy man will pay more for the same misdeed than a poor one.

Purported Death Message Found in Bottle Near Lake

While hauling gravel near Hosea beach, about 2 miles east of Shiloh temple, Zion City, last night John Hildebrand, Zion, found a whisky bottle containing a scrawled "farewell" message. Written in pencil, the message stated: "Three or five miles off of Milwaukee. No oars. So long, ma and dad." It bore the date Sept. 17, 1936, and was signed "Waujewski Jewett." Chief Alven Ruesch of Zion turned the note over to Milwaukee police.

JAP STABBED IN SHANGHAI; CALL OUT MARINES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Nov. 5.—Shigeru Kagoshima, a Japanese civilian, was stabbed tonight by an unidentified assailant in the Hongkew [Japanese] district of Shanghai. The wound was superficial.

Kagoshima was walking with his wife and two children along a poorly lighted street when a man sprang from an alley, stabbed Kagoshima in the neck and escaped. A cordon of Japanese bluejackets and Chinese police was thrown around the district where the assault occurred. Japanese residents are incensed over the stabbing.

Chinese Fight Invaders.

KALGAN, Inner Mongolia, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Manchukuan troops and irregulars were reported to have invaded China's Eastern Suiyuan province tonight with resultant heavy fighting between the invaders and the defending Suiyuanese. Chinese sources said the invaders were repulsed near Taolin, "with heavy losses."

Cabaret Raid Fiasco to Bring Quiz on Liquor

Mayor Kelly said last night that he would order a police investigation of charges that night clubs in Chicago are selling liquor to patrons after the legal hour for the closing of bars. Earlier in the day Judge Eugene L. McGarry declared from the bench in the South State Street court, "I don't believe there is a club in Chicago which isn't selling liquor after hours."

The judge's remark came after he dismissed charges of selling liquor after hours and of keeping a slot machine against John Oliver, 40 years old, manager of the 554 Club, a tavern at 554 Center street. The judge said he usually "gives a break to first offenders."

Tell of Raid on Club.

When three policemen entered the club at 4 o'clock on the morning of Oct. 10, they saw the slot machine in operation and bought liquor. As they prepared to take Oliver and the slot machine to the station a patron intervened and introduced himself as Judge Joseph H. McGarry of the Municipal court. He accompanied Oliver to the Central station and ordered him released on a no-schedule bond.

Before Judge Eugene McGarry yesterday there was no denial by the defendants' attorneys that the police had purchased liquor and played the slot machine in the club. The only indicated defense was that admission to the club was by membership card and that the policemen had sneaked in.

Allman Plans Inquiry.

Concerning Judge McGarry's remark that night clubs are selling liquor after hours, Police Commissioner James P. Allman said last night that "such a general statement is obviously untrue."

"I am going to find out," Allman said, "how one judge can turn a man loose on bond and how a second judge can free him without even giving the police a chance to present evidence.

"Many taverns have been masquerading as night clubs, so as to stay open all night. This must stop."

Eddie Guerin Asks Share of Chicago Estate

Eddie Guerin, a Chicago criminal who gained international publicity thirty-one years ago as the first man to escape from the French penal colony on Devil's island, off South America, appeared yesterday, through an attorney, to claim a share in the $67,000 estate of a Chicago woman who he claims was his half-sister.

His attorney, William S. Kleinman, yesterday filed an appearance on Guerin's behalf in the Probate court in the estate of Mrs. Harriet A. Mitchell, wife of a stockbroker, who died May 18 in the Buena Park hotel, 4541 Broadway. Guerin was the black sheep of a respectable Chicago family, and his brothers and sisters, who live in Chicago and Los Angeles, disowned him long ago.

Guerin has lived for more than a quarter of a century in England, to escape extradition to France to serve the remainder of a penal term imposed on him in 1902 for robbery of the American Express company agency in Paris.

Born on British Ship.

The accident of his birth on a British ship crossing the Atlantic gave him a claim to British citizenship, by which he escaped extradition following his arrest in the United States soon after his escape from Devil's Island in 1905.

As attorney for Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Kleinman knew of her kinship to Guerin, he said yesterday.

The proof of heirship in the Probate court shows her heirs to be Mrs. Mary Horan, 1236 Morse avenue, and Mrs. Anna Kailer, 1238 Winnemac avenue, sisters; a brother, George Guerin of Los Angeles, the children of Mrs. Johanna Fo. Bell, a half sister, who died several years ago, and "E. Guerin, address unknown."

Guerin's real name was Fox. He was a brother of Mrs. Bell. His mother, left a widow when he was a baby, remarried shortly afterward, and Eddie took the name of his stepfather, Guerin.

British Detective Finds Him.

Mr. Kleinman located Guerin through Charles Edward Leach, a London private detective, who was formerly a Scotland Yard inspector. Leach's father, now 81 years old, was also a Scotland Yard detective, and many years ago gathered evidence in the United States on which Guerin was sentenced to prison for a British burglary. The elder Leach identified Guerin, who is now 75 years old, when the two met a few weeks ago in London.

Attorney Kleinman was present at the meeting and obtained affidavits from Guerin which will be presented to bolster his claim to a share in Mrs. Mitchell's estate. The lawyer said that he will present a petition today to have Guerin paid an advance of $3,500 out of his share of the estate.

No Big Shot to Police.

Guerin owed his fame partly to his escape from Devil's Island and partly to his copious reminiscences, of which he released a new set every few years when there was a market for them. Chicago police, who knew him as a pickpocket fifty years ago, always maintained that he was not a "big shot" as a criminal. He went to jail, they said, for nearly every crime he committed.

At the time of the American Express robbery in Paris, Guerin had already served several terms in American and French prisons. He was arrested in France, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's Island.

Woman His Accomplice.

"Chicago May" Churchill, a woman accomplice who was fully as well known in her own right as was Eddie, has usually been given credit for supplying the funds with which he bribed his way to escape. He did not flee, actually, from the island penal colony, but from a hospital on the mainland.

Louis G. Kailer, 849 Irving Park boulevard, a son of Mrs. Kailer, is administrator of Mrs. Mitchell's estate. He said that Guerin was a half-brother of his mother and Mrs. Mitchell, and that the other heirs will not contest his claim to a share of the estate provided proper proof is presented.

King Edward Plans to Visit Canada After Coronation

FASCIST ARMIES SWEEP THROUGH MORE SUBURBS

Appeal for Truce

LONDON, Nov. 6.—[Friday.]—(AP)—The London Daily Mail today said Great Britain and France had made a joint eleventh hour appeal to the Madrid government to reach "some sort of an arrangement" with the Fascist rebel commander, Gen. Francisco Franco, in order to avert slaughter of the civil population in Madrid.

The effort was made "to save Madrid from destruction by bombs and many thousands of the civilian population from horrible deaths," the paper said.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was said to have instructed Maurice Ogilvie-Forbes, British chargé d'affaires in Madrid, to present the appeal to the authorities in the Spanish capital.

The besieged inhabitants rushed to the lines of the government militia fighting to keep the attacking Moors and Fascist troops from breaking through into the very streets of the capital.

The roar and clatter of cannon and machine guns shook the city while overhead government planes fought off Fascist bombers. Insurgent shells screamed over Madrid's suburbs with government batteries at Carabanchel replying with a heavy barrage.

[An unconfirmed report in Lisbon said 2,000 persons were killed in the bombardment of the Madrid area.]

Two Rebel Planes Crashed.

Two of the insurgent attacking war planes were blasted from the sky by government ships. One of the Fascist pilots rode his ship to earth and saved his life by crashing the plane in a tree top. His leg broken, he was taken to a hospital.

The other Fascist ship crashed in flames. Its crew was trapped in the wreckage.

Government officials said the injured pilot was an Italian and that one of the planes was made in Germany and manned by Germans.

[Fascist commanders announced their aviation forces had shot down seven government planes.]

Flee to Subways.

Some of the city's terrified residents, their ears ringing with the sounds of nearby battle, sought refuge in subway kiosks and basements, while others ran through the streets beside their men marching to the front.

The insurgent attack, for weeks an ever narrowing semicircle south of Madrid, was converged into a solid front driving toward the heart of Madrid through Getafe, eight miles south of the capital, where one of Madrid's two major airdromes was located.

Getafe, its 4,500 population evacuated several days ago, was in smoldering ruins. Its streets and homes were the targets for gunners of both sides during the week-long struggle for possession of the gateway to Madrid.

Form New Lines.

During the day long bombardment of the Madrid area from land and air a 100 pound bomb scored a direct hit on the Carabanchel military hospital. Débris crashed into the street, but apparently the bomb did not explode. At the Getafe airport another insurgent bomb scored a direct hit on a gasoline dump.

Loyalist Planes Raid Alcorcon.

Carrying the aerial battle to the enemy for the first time during the bloody civil war, government planes bombed Fascist infantry units in Alcorcon county, west of Madrid.

In retaliation rebel airmen splattered machine gun bullets on concen-

Triangular Offensive.

WITH THE INSURGENT FORCES NEAR PARLA, 11 MILES SOUTH OF MADRID, Nov. 5—(AP)—Their paths cleared by artillery and aviation, three lines of insurgents advanced in triangular formation on Madrid tonight.

The right wing occupied Getafe, eight miles from the capital. In the center other Fascist troops took control of Leganes, almost straight west of Getafe.

The third column moved into positions overlooking Cuatro Vientos airport, on a small hill about seven miles southwest of Madrid. Their immediate objectives were the government aviation field, the Socialist radio station at Campamento, and suburban street car line terminals.

Alcorcon Taken.

The sweep into new strongholds near Cuatro Vientos airport carried the insurgents through Alcorcon, eight miles southwest of the capital and the last large suburb on the Madrid-Navalcarnero highway.

Fascist forces were being augmented by deserters from the Socialist lines. Exhausted and haggard, the government soldiers told their new commanders, "we have not eaten properly for a week."

Gen. Varela, cheerfully predicting the fall of the capital, said "We'll end this inside the week, perhaps."

Counterattack Fails.

Under cover of darkness, 1,200 government militiamen crept close to the insurgent positions. As dawn broke, they attacked, but warning cries of Fascist sentries spread the alarm quickly.

Moorish troops of Gen. José Varela poured out of billets to defend their lines while planes joined in a sky battle overhead. After much fighting, the Socialists were repulsed and scattered back along the way they had come.

2 Tanks Taken by Rebels.

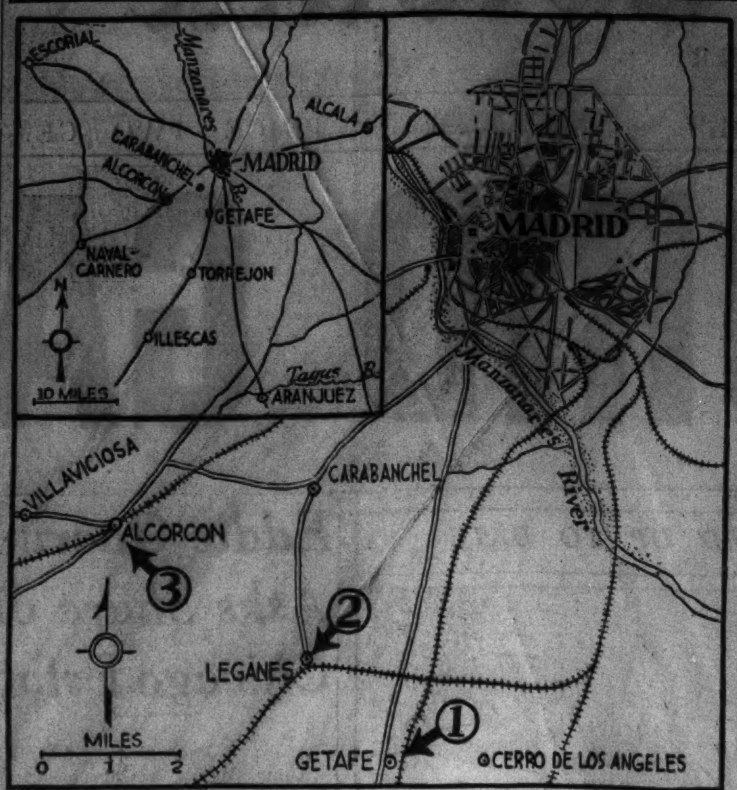
Two of the seven government tanks in the assault were seized by the Moors. Insurgent officers said the tanks were manufactured by Russian companies.

As the government tanks fled from the battle three jammed their noses into a ditch and were unable to crawl out. Moors surrounded them and peppered their half-inch armor plate with steady rifle fire and grenades. Fascists wheeled up a trench mortar.

As the sun broke over the flat plain, one of the tanks pulled out of the ditch and escaped.

Shells from the trench mortar, only a few yards away, tore through the other two tanks until their trapped drivers and gunners were only bloody pulp.

FASCISTS TAKE MADRID SUBURBS



Rebel columns smashed on to the Spanish loyalist capital along three routes yesterday as artillery and planes bombarded the Madrid area. The right wing of the rebel forces swept north through (1) Getafe, site of an important government airport. The center division occupied (2) Leganes. The left wing pushed through (3) Alcorcon to imperil another airport nearby at Cuatro Vientos and the loyalist radio station at Campamento. The rebel lines are now from 7 to 9 miles from the heart of Madrid.

JEWISH IMMIGRATION TO PALESTINE IS CUT FROM 8,000 TO 1,800

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A few hours after waving good-by to Earl Peel and the members of his royal commission at the start of their journey to Jerusalem, William Ormsby-Gore, colonial secretary, today announced one of the most sweeping reductions ever made in the number of Jewish land immigrants to Palestine.

Ormsby-Gore told the house of commons that for the next six months a maximum of only 1,800 labor certificates would be issued. This includes 300 German exiles who are already in Palestine and compares with a schedule of 8,000 permits granted in April last year, 3,250 in October last year, and 4,500 in April this year, just before the Arab-Jewish disturbances began.

To offset the chilling effect of this news on Zionists, Ormsby-Gore added, however, general immigration would not be interrupted or whittled down even temporarily while the royal commission is at work. The reduction of labor permits, he explained, would not affect the owners of over $5,000 and their families who might wish to settle in Palestine.

MADRID ENVOY IN BERLIN ATTACKED; ASKS PROTECTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—Señor Ruviera, chargé d'affaires here for the Madrid government, called at the foreign office today and asked German authorities to provide him with special police protection.

Ruviera was attacked on leaving the embassy building in Berlin at dusk Tuesday and his briefcase containing documents was wrenched from him.

The Wilhelmstrasse expressed regret over the incident and pointed to the increased police guard near the embassy. Germans assert that Ruviera was attacked by Phalanxists [Spanish Fascists] living in Germany.

Bomb Exploded on Roof of Garage on West Side

A small black powder bomb was exploded early today on the roof of the Dependable garage, 5542-52 West Harrison street. Police estimated the damage at $20. Policeman Max Terman of the Fillmore street station, was walking in front of the place when the bomb went off. He ran around the garage to the alley, but was unable to find any trace of the terrorist. Several men in the garage were shaken. The blast was heard for several blocks. Thomas Loach, the garage owner, told police he has had no trouble to invite a bombing.

FASCIST LEADER MAKES THREAT TO KILL CAROL

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 5.—A memorandum containing a threat to shoot King Carol of Rumania and the members of his government was presented to the king today in the name of Zelea Codreanu, leader of the Fascist Iron Guards.

Following the murder of Premier Duca the Iron Guard was suppressed, but it later was revived under the name of "All for the Faherland." Authorities allege that the organization is liberally supplied with funds, apparently from Germany. Codreanu has summoned Fascist leaders throughout the country for an immediate conference at Bucharest.

The memorandum declares King Carol and his cabinet should understand they will have to answer for Rumania's foreign policy with their heads.

"If Rumanian youth should find itself compelled to fight for bolshevism and international Jewry, they would draw their revolvers and shoot down all those responsible for that policy," the memorandum says.

BLOOD LETTING OPERATION UPON POPE REPORTED

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Pope Pius, seeming reasonably vigorous, presided today at a memorial service for four cardinals who died in the last year.

The ceremony coincided with rumors that Prof. Aminta Milani, chief Vatican doctor, ten days ago was obliged to carry out a slight blood letting for the pontiff in consequence of a disquieting increase in his blood pressure.

Twenty-seven cardinals attended today's services, which were held in the Sistine chapel and lasted an hour and a half.

SPAN OF OUTER DRIVE BRIDGE IS READY FOR TEST

Provides Link for North and South Sides.

nel of 220 feet will be left for ships when the bridge is up. The length of the movable part is 331 feet.

"It is the widest bridge in the world and is said to have the longest span, but I don't know for sure," said Mr. Randall.

The upper deck includes two sidewalks 14 feet wide, two 38 foot roadways with a 4-foot curb down the center, providing room for eight lanes of trafic.

Spend 3½ Millions.

In September, 1935, the Chicago park district began putting in new docks and filling in the shoreline to straighten out the south bank of the river. Construction of the south plaza of the bridge also was started. Since that time $3,500,000 has been spent on the entire project, including the Randolph street viaduct, Field boulevard, and the Wacker extension. This represents the worth of labor and materials used to date.

Three hundred and twelve caissons, concrete piers run down to bed rock, generally more than 100 feet below surface, have been built to insure a lasting foundation. The deepest was 118 feet.

Steam shovels are now completing the grading on the ramp just north of Monroe street. This area was filled in and will be payed later, forming a link leading to the upper level of the Randolph street viaduct. On the viaduct proper all the steel work is completed and is now being encased in concrete. Floor slabs are being built and with favorable weather it will be finished Jan. 1.

Steel Work Half Done.

Half of the steel work on the Wacker drive viaduct, starting from the west end, is completed, and steel work for the Field boulevard viaduct is under way, beginning with the river and working south to connect with the concrete retaining wall at Randolph street. All of this construction is at a level called "plus 47," which means it is approximately 47 feet above the lake level.

Steel work is under way in the bridge over the Michigan canal, a single leaf bridge, unlike the river bridge, which will be double leaf.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Dr. Ernest O. Melby, dean of Northwestern University School of Education, took President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago to account today in his address to the character education and the elementary principals section of the State Education association.

He defined President Hutchins "new scholasticism" as "stark and sterile medievalism," said it denoted a "fundamental lack of faith in democracy."

Would Admit Few Geniuses.

"It would rule," Dean Melby said, "everything out of education but the intellectual phase. If you could successfully educate a man to be all intellect, you would have nothing but a monstrosity."

Dr. Melby's picture of democracy under President Hutchins' scholasticism was a "smug monasticized, high walled institution in which he would admit a few geniuses and let them lose themselves in worship of Plato and Aristotle.'"

How Can You Rank Human Beings?

"There is nothing more false in a conception of democracy," Dean Melby continued, "than the idea of a few geniuses at the top, the vicious at the bottom, and a great mass of 'just so so" people in between.

"How then can you rank human beings who are vastly more complex?

"All humans are significant. All are important. All are precious. All are different. Their significance is different and the difference is desirable.

"Democracy is not only faith in human beings, boys and girls as well as teachers and professors, but it is a belief in change, in growth and improvement.

Calls Constitution Device.

"Our constitution is not really an important part of our democracy. It is just a device—a means to an end. It provides for its own amendment. We have amended it many times and probably will amend it again.

"We can change our constitution. We can set up a new one and our democracy still would go on. The important things in democracy are not the constitution and the Declaration of Independence. The important things are respect for personality and a belief in growth.

"Don't shape boys and girls in preconceived patterns. We must help all of them grow—not only a few of them. Then leaders will emerge in a natural way that is fitting for a democracy."

REIGN OF TERROR CHARGED IN N. Y. SEAMEN'S STRIKE

Plans Made for General Shipping Walkout.

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Charges of racketeering and intended violence accentuated maritime troubles here today as plans were made to extend a water front "sitdown" strike into a general shipping walkout.

John M. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine corporation, charged that an "organized group of malcontents had instituted a reign of terror."

Joseph Curran, chairman of the seamen's defense committee, insurgent union sponsoring the "sitdown" here in sympathy with the huge strike of Pacific coast seamen, made the countercharge that shipowners had hired mobsters to break up picket lines.

Volunteer Pickets Sought.

Curran announced he had issued a call for volunteers to picket all docks. He declined to say how many docks might be affected in the strike, but maintained that 49 ships already are tied up in this harbor.

Franklin, head of the company that operates the United States Lines, said he had affidavits and other proof of men being beaten and terrorized into leaving their ships against their will. He said communist racketeers were responsible and demanded that Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey, racket investigator, look into the situation to end "unbelievably dreadful" conditions.

"No lasting peace between the shipowners and seamen can ever be reached while there is an organized nucleus whose wish is not for peace in the industry but rather for constant turmoil and unrest," Franklin told Dewey.

Denies Receiving Charges.

Dewey said today, however, that he had received no accusations of racketeering in the seamen's strike from Franklin.

"As I have repeatedly stated in the past," Dewey said, "bona fide disputes arising from an effort to improve the conditions of men working in any industry are under no circumstances any part of the special purposes of this investigation."

Meantime striking seamen at Boston renewed their efforts to tie up the port there, despite the temporary loss of their leader, Bennett Murphy, who was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

The Boston strike was given another setback when crews of the Eastern Steamship company's passenger liners, Yarmouth and St. John, turned down pickets' pleas that they desert their ships.

Agree to Move Foodstuff.

The threat to San Francisco's food supply was at least temporarily removed when striking warehousemen, affiliated with the International Longshoremen's association, agreed to move perishable fruits and vegetables.

A truce for one week prevailed at Philadelphia, but at New Orleans police detained fifty-six seamen arrested during raids on marine strike pickets.

Thirty-eight pickets also were jailed at Galveston, Tex., in a roundup of "rank and file" seamen who struck in sympathy with the Pacific coast walkout. Charges of unlawful assembly were filed against the group.

Officials of the Munson Line said here today that they expected the liner American Legion to sail on schedule Saturday with the American delegation to the peace conference in Buenos Aires. They said they had "no intimation that the sailing will be held up by the strike."

Hiring Hall Thwarted.

Striking seamen here prevented the functioning today of the hiring hall opened by the International Seamen's union, which is opposing the "sitdown" strike sponsored by the seamen's defense committee, one of its units.

Soon after the hall was opened for business about sixty grinning strikers arrived and filled the place completely, leaving no room available for any one who might seek employment. On a bulletin board intended to list jobs, they wrote: "Scabs wanted for S. S. Hardship."

U. S. AGENTS SEARCH FOR HOEPPELS; JAIL TERMS AWAIT THEM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Justice department agents were ordered today to search for Representative John H. Hoeppel of California and his son, Charles, at the request of United States Attorney Leslie C. Garnett.

Garnett told reporters he had asked the department to join in the hunt because deputy marshals were unable to locate the Hoeppels for service of bench warants for their arrest.

"They are and have been very definitly fugitives from justice," Garnett said.

The Hoeppels are wanted for commitment to jail on charges of conspiring to sell an appointment to the United States Military academy at West Point for $1,000.

A fruitless search was made at Evansville, Ind., by a United States marshal after a report that the Hoeppels were visiting relatives there.

TRAVEL RECORD FALLS AGAIN AT CHICAGO AIRPORT

Records for travel from Chicago airport were broken for the fourth consecutive month when 12,325 persons departed from the field during October. Edward J. Eidson, manager of the Consolidated Airlines ticket office at the field, said that October's mark was 39 per cent higher than in the same month of 1935 when 8,864 persons flew from Chicago. In the last four months 49,908 persons departed from the field, Eidson said.

United Air lines yesterday commemorated the first transcontinental flight from Long Island, N. Y., to Santa Monica, Cal., made 25 years ago by Calbraith Rogers. Yesterday was the anniversary of his landing at Santa Monica after a journey of nearly two months during which he had innumerable forced landings and minor smashups.

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Upstate New York tonight was digging out from under a heavy snowfall that reached a depth of 18 inches in the region surrounding Saranac Lake. The storm disrupted communications and travel in widely separated areas.

The storm swept across the northern part of the state and into the northeastern part of New England. Several Adirondack villages were isolated temporarily and trees, telephone, and power poles were knocked down.

The storm transformed Niagara falls and the gorge into a winter scene, covered Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Ithica, and Utica with snow and whirled on to New England with a fall of from six to eight inches in northern Vermont.

In Chattaraugus county citizens did not learn of the final vote of their country in Tuesday's election nutil noon today because of damage to communication wires in the storm.

23 Ounce Indiana Baby Is Expected to Survive

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Florence Evelyn Dover, 23 ounce daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dover, today reached her tenth day and was given a good chance to survive. Born in the one-room tar paper covered home of its parents, northeast of here, the child has clung to life tenaciously although unable to take any food except a few drops of corn sirup and water for the first three days.

FEDERAL JURY INDICTS 13 IN INTERNATIONAL DOPE SMUGGLING RING

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The federal grand jury today indicted thirteen of a gang of international smugglers, including four women, who were accused of employing members of crews of trans-Atlantic liners to bring large quantities of crude gum opium here from Paris. Two of the women pleaded guilty after the indictments were handed up to Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard.

Ten of the suspects have been taken into custody in this country, including the reputed boss of the ring and his wife. Authorities said they expected early arrests in Paris of the man supplying the opium and two accomplices. Extradition proceedings will be instituted to bring them to trial here.

The breakup of the ring began on Oct. 13, when customs inspectors captured the ringleader and a baggage steward of the liner New York. Later three men and a woman were arrested in connection with smuggling on the Ile de France. The customs men believed they finally smashed the gang Monday night when they captured two men after a chase on the roof of a shed of pier 61, where the liner Manhattan was docked.

Gets 6 Months for Failure to Support Daughter, 10

Jack Karron, 35 years old, was sentenced to six months in the county jail yesterday on a contempt charge for being $750 in arrears for the support of his daughter, Ruth, 10 years old. Karron was divorced in 1933 by Mrs. Selma Karron, 31 years old, 1518 North Rockwell street, who was given custody of their child. He was ordered to pay $5 a week for the girl's support, which he failed to do.

PASS ORDINANCE FOR RESETTING CLOCKS NOV. 15

Unanimous Vote Returns Central Time.

The city council passed an ordinance yesterday restoring central standard time to Chicago, with summer daylight time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. All the 45 aldermen present voted for the ordinance, which followed the 2 to 1 victory for summer daylight time in the referendum Tuesday.

The change from eastern standard time, which has been observed here many months to central time will be made at 2 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 15, a week from next Sunday. As eastern time is an hour ahead of central time, Chicagoans will turn back their clocks an hour. Next April they will again move them forward an hour for summer daylight time.

Mayor Recommends Change.

The ordinance was passed yesterday on the recommendation of Mayor Kelly, who said that summer daylight time "is the will of the people expressed in an election, which is the American way and Chicago's way." Ald. B. A. Cronsor [Fourth], who had introduced the eastern time ordinance, then presented the new measure. It was seconded by Ald. John A. Massen [Forty-eighth].

More than 1,450,000 persons voted on the time referendum, the greatest number to give a decision on a public policy question in the history of the city. The referendum, however, was merely advisory and not legally binding on the council.

Many suburbs had followed Chicago's example by going on eastern time last spring. These suburbs have arranged to restore central time.

Phil Sheridan Day Set.

Mayor Kelly announced at the council meeting that next Sunday—Nov. 8—will be Gen. Phil Sheridan day, the anniversary of the birth of the great civil war soldier. Memorial services will be held at Fort Sheridan and the mayor urged Chicagoans to attend.

Two Belgian public officials visited the mayor yesterday and watched the council proceedings. They are Emile Vinck, first vice president of the Belgian senate, and Rene Didisheim, secretary of the International Institute of Administrative Sciences. Both men live in Brussels and are visiting the United States for a survey of city administrations. They were introduced to the mayor by Prof. Albert Lepawsky of the political science department of the University of Chicago.

DAUGHTERS SHUN FATHER; JUDGE ORDERS INQUIRY

Court Takes Custody of Peters Girls.

After a day of activity in court and school during which Policeman Thomas E. Peters' two daughters refused to leave their mother and return to him, Judge John C. Lewe of the Superior court decided last night that neither parent will have custody of the children until he has made a thorough investigation.

The children, Jacqueline, 12 years old, and Arlene, 9 years old, will be kept in a private home temporarily and their parents will be permitted to visit them, Judge Lewe ruled.

Father Awarded Custody.

Peters, who is assigned to the Warren avenue station, divorced Mrs. Ruth Peters, 3849 West End avenue, in 1933 and was awarded custody of the children.

They returned to their mother a week ago and last Saturday Judge Lewe ordered them to go back to their father. They wept and said they wanted to remain with their mother.

"Kidnaped" at School.

Peters' relatives "kidnaped" the girls as they were leaving St. Mel's parochial school at 4318 Washington boulevard on Monday. They returned to their mother the next day and yesterday Attorney Walter Prendergast, counsel for Peters, asked that Mrs. Peters be held in contempt of court for refusing to obey the custody order. The judge ordered an investigation of her conduct.

The children eluded their father at the parochial school yesterday afternoon and went home to their mother. From there deputy bailifs brought them back to court, where Judge Lewe made his decision.

ADMITS KILLING HIS BROTHER TO GET INSURANCE

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Lester Bedford Slack, 34, house painter, confessed today, Police Chief A. Elmer Manning said, that he poisoned his brother, Elgy Slack, 39, in order to collect the latter's insurance so he could take a trip to Florida.

After Elgy died Monday night as the result of poison crystals Lester said he put in some wine, police found two $500 policies on Elgy's life which named his brother as beneficiary.

Police said Lester and Mrs. Helen M. Kercheval of Mishawaka planned to be married Nov. 28, and that Slack had told her they would go to Florida for the winter.

Authorities said they would investigate the death last spring of Lester's wife. She was believed to have died of pneumonia.

Reno, Nev. Nov. 5.—(AP)—The body of Francis McKeon, 38, former New York City police officer, was found hanging from a tree by an electric light cord here today. Police said McKeon apparently had killed himself because of despondency over financial troubles.

WOMAN SOLVES SCIENCE'S RIDDLE OF CELLULOSE

Industrial Changes Are Expected to Result.

New York. Nov. 5.—(AP)—Solution of the riddle of cellulose, from which most of the world's clothing is made, was announced to the United States Institute for Textile Research today by slender, girlish looking Dr. Wanda K. Farr, one of the scientists of the Boyce Thompson institute.

It appears from her microscope that most of the artificial fibers and the colorful dye effects have come not from cellulose, as industry and science both believed, but from a thin, cement like coating overspreading the cellulose.

This coating has been partly identified as pectin, the substance which caused grandmother's fruit juices to jell.

What Discovery May Mean.

The discovery is expected to lead to industrial changes in dyeing, laundering, mercerization and improvements in special fabrics.

Cellulose is the structural substance in cotton, flax, rayons, and the newsprint and paper industries. This structure was until recently supposed to be invisible under the microscope.

Mrs. Farr discovered that it was merely the cement which shrouded and mixed up the view. Her first report, made to the American Association for the Advancement of Science at St. Louis last winter, came near winning her the annual $1,000 prize for an outstanding scientific discovery.

Reports Additional Findings.

Today she told the textile industry representatives of further findings which are expected to become commercially useful.

Cellulose, she finds, consists of the cement and of particles which, when separated from the sticky stuff, form a white powder. This powder is the real cellulose. It mostly does not respond to the chemical treatments used to make rayon.

The cement does all the chemical reacting, including absorption and weakening of fibers by water. The cement, Mrs. Farr said, contains, in addition to pectin, substances that are still unidentified.

New Fabrics Forecast.

Fabrics of the future that may avoid spinning and weaving, and wool fabricated as rayon now is made, to produce types of clothing now nonexistent were forecast by Elvin H. Killheffer, du Pont executive and vice president of the textile institute.

Killheffer warned the textile industry that more research discoveries rather than less will be needed to meet foreign competition, particularly from Japan.

School Board Approves Oakenwald Addition Plans

The board of education yesterday approved plans for construction of a five room addition to the Oakenwald Elementary school, 4071 Lake Park avenue, to cost $32,000. Funds for the work represent economies from the $2,000,000 PWA building program of thirteen new school buildings and additions. At yesterday's meeting the board approved the appointment of Douglas F. Van Bramer as principal of the Waller High school. He has been head of the Ruggles Elementary school. Maurice Lipman, a principal, was transferred from the Irving to the Nettlehorst Elementary school. Thirteen teachers were promoted to assistant principalships.

DEMAND MONEY FOR CITY FROM SURFACE LINES

A demand for a temporary arrangement requiring the Chicago Surface lines to pay compensation to the city was voiced at yesterday's council meeting. The matter of compensation arose when the question of granting a 90 day extension of the day to day franchise under which the surface lines operate was being considered. The street railway system has operated under extensions of the 1907 ordinance since it expired in 1927.

The surface lines have paid no compensation to the city for five years. The 1907 ordinance required payment of 55 per cent of earnings into the traction fund. The company has not shown any earnings since 1931. Between 1907 and 1931 the surface lines paid $47,168,192 into the traction fund. Interest accumulations have brought the face amount of the fund to more than $66,000,000.

The 90 day extension was authorized yesterday after Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] and J. M. Arvey [24th] criticized the company for failure to pay compensation and to coöperate in negotiating for a new franchise. They advocated allowing the franchise to lapse as a means of forcing the company to come to the council for terms.

LINDBERGH FLIES FAST PLANE HE HELPED DESIGN

READING, England, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took to the air as a pilot of his own machine today for the first time since he came to Europe. He made a test flight from Reading airdrome in a plane which its makers assert is the fastest light touring monoplane ever built in this country. The "flying colonel" himself helped design it.

During the weeks in which mechanics secretly built the plane in a shuttered hangar here, Lindbergh paid them several visits. The ship was built largely according to his specifications in his conferences with Frederick George Miles, British airplane designer.

Already dubbed the "Flying Caravan," the new plane is fitted with tandem seats which are easily convertible into bunks. Large gasoline tanks give it unusually long range, and, with its 200 horsepower Menasco engine, it is said to be capable of flying nonstop for 1,000 miles at approximately 200 miles per hour.

JEFF, A TALKING MONGOOSE, KICKS UP ROW IN COURT

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Jeff, the talking mongoose who knows six languages and sings Spanish songs, occupied columns of space in British newspapers tonight and was featured on front pages for the second successive day. Jeff became known to the British public because he was the indirect cause of a suit by a prominent London man against another for heavy damages.

Richard Stanton Lambert, British Broadcasting corporation executive and member of the council of the British Film institute—the officially sponsored organization approving films suitable for children—sued Sir Cecil Levita, former chairman of the London county council. Lambert charged that Levita said he was "cracked" because he believed in Jeff's existence and accomplishments.

Claims He Lost Salary Boost.

Lambert further charged Levita tried to cause his dismissal from the broadcasting corporation and kept him from receiving an expected increase in salary. Levita denied the charges, but admitted he considered Lambert as unbalanced and having violent likes and dislikes.

According to evidence from the book, "Haunting of Cashen's Gap," in which Lambert is said to have collaborated with Harry Price, Jeff is a mongoose of many accomplishments. The book says he recites nursery rimes and besides English speaks Russian, Manx, Greek, and Hebrew, and sings "Spanish songs written by Spanish Jews from Turkey."

Jeff, the book adds, is 83 years old, comes from India, dances, whistles, and enjoys hunting rabbits—but only in the legal season. He is reputed to have extensive medical knowledge and a great interest in aviation.

Debate Plural of Mongoose.

At today's hearing the case was interrupted while the judge and lawyers argued whether the plural of mongoose is mongeese or mongi. The dictionary did not say. A reference to Kipling's "Jungle Book" showed "mongooses."

Lambert on the stand yesterday laughed at the idea of talking with a mongoose, but Levita testified today that "Lambert was very serious about it." He declared Lambert had not permitted him to scoff at Jeff.

ELECTRIC MEANS TO FIND CAUSE OF ARTHRITIS TOLD

Railway Surgeons Hear of New Method.

A method of determining electrically whether streptococci, a type of bacteria, found in the nose, throat, or teeth, cause arthritis in a patient was described yesterday before the 47th annual Congress of Railway Surgeons in the Palmer house by Dr. Wilber E. Post of Chicago.

Certain cases of chronic arthritis are caused by these germs, but streptococci may be present in the throat or nose without being the kind which causes the disease. The streptococci which cause arthritis travel at an unvarying velocity and have a definite negative electric charge, Dr. Post said.

Test of Serum Shown.

How the patient's serum is tested microscopically to determine this was shown on a screen. Electrodes are attached to a slide in which a little chamber is situated. The serum is forced through tubes leading to the slide, which is under the microscope, and after a certain amount has entered the chamber, the flow is cut off by means of a minute lock. The speed with which the germs travel from pole to pole is then studied.

If the particular streptococci sought is present a bullion culture of the organism is filtered. With the bacteria removed, it contains a toxic material produced by the growth of the organism.

Improvement in Most Cases.

This toxine filtrate is injected into the skin of the patient. In 175 cases of arthritis reported on by Dr. Post, who shared the work with Dr. Willard L. Wood, 145 showed a definite improvement, he said. In 95 cases of infectious neuritis studied, 80 showed definite improvement. "The term 'cure' cannot be used, because recurrences yet may develop," Dr. Post said.

Dr. Post and Dr. Wood are members of the staf of Presbyterian hospital, where they have conducted their six years work in this method of treating certain types of arthritis. It usually is combined with other methods of treatment, Dr. Post said.

Prevention Held Possible.

The crippling effects of arthritis, the most disabling disease in the temperate zone, can be prevented, and in some cases can be cured by simple operations to permit joints to straighten out, Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher of Chicago declared.

New joints can be made to replace those deformed, Dr. Kreuscher said. They are remolded and muscle covering is taken from the thigh of the patient and grafted between the bones and in the joint for cartillage, he explained.

Two gunmen invaded the offices of the Polish Alma Mater Fraternal and Benefit organization at 1645 Milwaukee avenue, forced the cashier, Miss Agnes Wisniewski, 25 years old, to open the safe and hand over $1,000 and $500 in checks, locked her and four other women employés in a washroom, and escaped. One of the robbers addressed Miss Wisniewski by her first name, threatening to shoot her if she disobeyed.

More Frankness on Cancer Is Urged by Dr. F. L. Rector

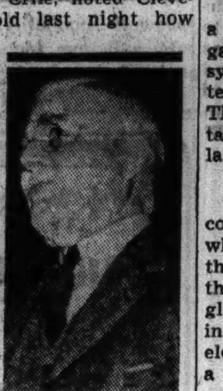
More frankness about cancer by both the medical profession and the public was urged yesterday by Dr. Frank L. Rector, field representative of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, in an address at the Chicago Woman's club, 72 East 11th street. His lecture was one of a series sponsored by the cancer research committee of the club. "The longer the word cancer is spoken in an undertone or camouflaged by meaningless terms," Dr. Rector said, "the longer will the public hold to its senseless fear of the disease. Cancer should be called cancer and the patient advised by his physician that early and adequate treatment is the only hope for a cure.

TELLS HOW LION HUNTS SOLVED DEADLY DISEASE

Dr. Crile Describes His Research in Jungle.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

Dr. George W. Crile, noted Cleveland surgeon, told last night how the lions and elephants that fell before his rifle on an African safari gave their lives to make possible a cure for a disease which until recently was considered, in his words, "as hopeless as inoperable cancer." He spoke before the north side section of the Chicago Medical society in Thorne hall on the Northwestern university McKinlock campus.



DR. GEO. W. CRILE.

The disease to which he referred is essential hypertension. Hypertension is high blood pressure. It may result from a number of conditions, notable among which are toxic goiter, hardening of the arteries, and in some of these instances is curable by removing its cause.

Often Affects the Young.

Essential hypertension, however, has no cause which bacteriologists, pathologists, or biochemists have been able to find. Young people are often its victims, and until recently measures taken to relieve it were unsatisfactory.

Dr. Crile is famous for his theory of the energy controling system, based on the activity of the ductless glands, principally the thyroid gland in the throat, and the adrenals, over the kidneys, in stimulating the energy of the body through the secretions which they pour into the blood stream.

The only important source of energy in the body, he pointed out last evening, is oxidation. Sudden bursts of energy require first a stimulant of oxidation, which they get from the thyroid or adrenal secretions.

Require More Oxygen.

They also require an increased supply of oxygen, carried by the blood, to make possible this internal burning of tissues which constitutes oxidation. The animal which is capable of high bursts of energy, then, requires large heart and lungs to put the oxygen into the blood, a highly [illegible] capillary system to get the blood to the tissues, and a high rate of circulation.

The thyroid secretion makes possible a sustained expenditure of energy. Sudden bursts of energy come from the adrenal secretion, adrenalin, which, injected into the heart, will often restore life in a patient who has died of shock. Wild animals, especially of the cat family, are capable of far greater bursts of energy than man, and it was to study their endocrine [ductless gland] systems, and their sympathetic nervous systems, that Dr. Crile went to Africa and set up a scientific laboratory in the wilds.

Studies Lion's Adrenal Gland.

He found that in lions especially the adrenal gland bears a much higher ratio to the total weight of the body than it does in man or in more sluggish animals. In the lion the weight ratio is 1 to 22,000. In the sluggish crocadile it is only 1 to 280,000.

Dr. Crile also discovered in the lion a very complex development of the ganglia of the sympathetic nervous system, the automatic telegraph system which keeps organs functioning. These sympathetic ganglia are attached to the blood vessels and regulate the circulation of the blood.

Gland-Artery Connection.

In the large and complex "energy control systems" of the wild animals which he dissected, Dr. Crile found that the same nerve which carried the stimulus to action to the adrenal gland, causing it to pour adrenalin into the blood and set the lion's or elephant's body to burning tissue at a furious rate, had a branch which was connected with a complex net of ganglia twined like ivy around the aorta, the principal artery of the body.

It is his theory that these ganglia, receiving the call to action, stimulate the aorta to increase circulation of blood, increasing the supply of oxygen necessary to the energy fire, or in other words, increasing blood pressure.

His treatment for essential hypertension grew from these studies. It consisted of the surgical removal of the ganglia from the aorta, a highly delicate operation which destroys the telegraph system responsible for speeding up blood pressure and thus cures the disease.

The operation has been successful in a number of cases, he reported.

Eden Insists Friendship Must Include Others.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Reflecting an assuredness apparently born of the fact that Great Britain is now much better armed than it was a year ago, Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, today gave Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy an earful on what the possibilities of friendship with England would be in a speech to the house of commons.

Eden distinctly served notice on Germany that Britian will not desert Russia in favor of friendship with the Nazi government.

"The British government," he said, "desires friendship with Germany but not at a price of excluding other nations. Such a friendship cannot be exclusive and it cannot be directed against any one else."

Rejects Germany's Plea.

This curt message was evidently delivered in response to the appeals of Joachim von Ribbentrop, German ambassador to London, to the British to join Hitler in a crusade against the bolsheviks.

The British foreign secretary directed another blow at Germany. Obviously nettled by recent remarks of Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering that England's policy was strangling the reich economically, Eden delivered this sharp retort to the Nazi air minister and dictator of the Nazi four year plan to make the reich self-sufficient:

"I must comment on the tendency noticeable lately to put the blame on this country for Germany's economic difficulties. This is a doctrin which we cannot accept for a moment. It is not in accordance with the facts."

He pointed out that Britain has loaned to Germany twice as much money as London collected in reparations.

Stresses Friendship with Paris.

Eden proclaimed also for German and Italian consumption that Britain's friendship with the government of Socialist Premier Leon Blum of France never has been better than it is at this moment.

Some observers saw in that proclamation a warning that any further attempts by Germany and Italy to drive a wedge between England and France would be resisted.

To Premier Mussolini, who last Sunday at Milan said his nation is ready to fight for its rights in the Mediterranean and that any conflict between Britain and the Fascist nation would lead to war in Europe, Eden directed this message:

"We have no desire to threaten or to attack any Italian interest in the Mediterranean."

Italy Gets a Warning.

In the next breath the foreign secretary said that the Mediterranean was the vital line of communication of the British empire and not one of several convenient routes to India as Il Duce had suggested.

"And Great Britain proposes to defend this route with all its might," Eden snapped.

He left it clear that British fortifications and naval strength, which were rapidly increased in the Mediterranean in recent months, are not aimed at Rome. However, he did imply in plain terms that it would not be a good idea for Mussolini to attempt to turn the Mediterranean into an Italian lake.

Sees Advantages to Both.

The foreign secretary then switched to a milder tone. He said his government believed that both Italy and Britain could maintain their vital interests in the Mediterranean not only without conflict but with mutual advantage.

"In years gone by the interests of the two countries in the Mediterranean have been complementary rather than divergent," he declared. "On the part of his majesty's government, there is every desire that this relation be preserved. Consequently we welcome the assurance Premier Mussolini gives that Italy does not mean to threaten this route nor propose to interrupt it. Nor do we. Our position is the same."

Eden took a veiled dig at Mussolini's outburst at Milan by referring to "the habit now established of making statements on international affairs from public rostrums."

Urges Support of League.

The foreign secretary informed parliament that Britain's foreign policy is based upon adherence to the league of nations.

"That is the best way of keeping peace in Europe," he said. "My government's efforts will be devoted to strengthening the authority of the league."

Apparently referring to the league's failure to stop Italy's conquest and annexation of Ethiopia, Eden asserted:

"Because there has been one failure there is no reason to say that the world must turn back on an endeavor which is the only alternative to catastrophe and failure."

Says Britain Must Rearm.

"Two things" were suggested by Eden to calm a jittery Europe.

"First," he said, "we must strive to lead the world back on the path of peace through toleration, observance of international order and respect for and support of such order. Second, we must reëquip ourselves and rearm."

The international picture, he declared, showed "almost every nation of the world, every nation of Europe, rearming steadily, vigorously and feverishly."

"Under existing conditions," Eden maintained, "strengthening of our armaments is of paramount importance. The stronger Britain is today, the greater is the certainty of peace. If Britain shows strength and unity, there will be peace."

The British, it was disclosed, have not abandoned the project of a five power conference for discussion of something to replace the Locarno pact. They sent a new note on the subject to France, Italy, Belgium, and Germany only yesterday. Exchanges so far between the five Locarno powers on the subject of a western peace pact reveal "formidable but surprising divergences," it was stated.

SIR SAMUEL HOARE RIDICULES TALK OF A CLASS WAR IN BRITAIN

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Regardless of the two great social movements now dividing Europe, Great Britain stands in no danger of a swing either to the extreme right or to the extreme left, Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, said in a speech here tonight. Voicing a bristling defense of the Democratic system, he pointed out the British empire stands for that form of government which, should it crash, would plunge the world into a chaos comparable only to the dark ages.

"So far from dictators possessing a monopoly of energy and activity, our system of government can act as effectively as any autocracy and possesses within itself the seeds of growth often denied a one man rule," he said.

"To talk of a class war in the British empire is to talk of a calamity that has not the least chance of befalling us. The conditions Marx and Lenin predicated for class warfare do not exist in the British empire.

"We are now called upon to make secure our great system of government. The world abroad no less than we ourselves demands it be made secure. If dark ages followed for five centuries the downfall of the Roman empire a more profound darkness and much longer blackout of civilization would follow the breakup of our great system."

BATTLESHIP STILL A GREAT WEAPON, ENGLAND IS TOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A new chapter in the long "bomber vs. battleship" dispute was written tonight by publication of an official British report which said that a battleship still can hold its own in a war and that Great Britain cannot afford to abolish it.

As forecast in a recent speech by Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, the report, which was prepared by a sub-committee of the committee on imperial defense, finds that airplanes, however numerous and efficient, cannot replace battleships "in the conditions prevailing today or are likely to in the near future."

Defense Chief Presides.

Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for coördination of defense, presided over the sub-committee which had Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal; Malcolm MacDonald, secretary of state for the dominions, and Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, as members. Sir Alfred Ernle Montacute Chatfield, the first sea lord, and Sir Edward L. Ellington, the air chief marshal, were technical advisers.

An exhaustive study of all aspects of the much debated subject left the investigators convinced the battleship is not invincible, but is not obsolete.

The subcommittee's report crushes one of the favorite arguments of aircraft enthusiasts—that from 100 to 1,000 bombers cost only as much as one battleship. The air ministry and admiralty agree that 43 two motored bombers are the maximum that can be purchased for the cost of one battleship.

The cost is not the most important point, the report remarks.

Insists on Capital Ships.

"If capital ships are essential to our safety, we must have them," it declares. "We have more to lose by making a false decision on so vital a matter than any other power. Yet no other great naval power, though with less risk than we should run, proposes to do away with capital ships. Should we be the first to do so? Surely not unless the question is settled beyond all doubt. We do not find the question so settled."

In conclusion, however, the report says, "It is plain to us that capital ships cannot be constructed so as to be indestructible by bombing from the air."

QUINTUPLETS IN NORTH CAROLINA ALL BORN DEAD

Durham, N. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Duke hospital physicians tonight said a white woman whom they declined to identify gave birth to quintuplets, all of whom were dead at birth.

Hospital officials said the babies were born prematurely to a woman of "a nearby town." They said she entered the hospital two days ago.

The physician who was present at the deliveries said it was difficult to determine the sex of the babies. The births occurred at 5:30 a. m. Doctors said the condition of the woman is "good."

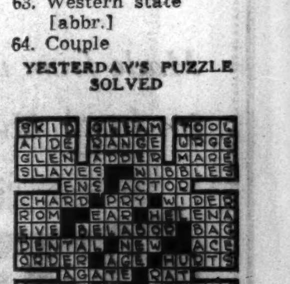
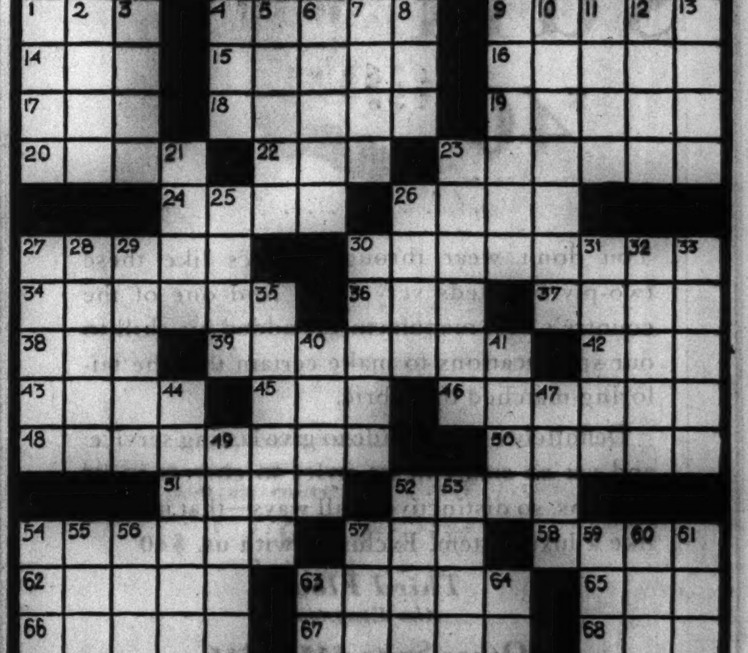
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





EUROPEAN TRAP FOR U. S. SEEN IN SOUTH AMERICA

Stage Reported Set for Clash with Hitler.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A trap is being laid for United States diplomacy and anticipated innovations in American policy toward South America, where President Roosevelt is planning to go to open the forthcoming Pan-American congress.

Germany has been quietly gaining a foothold in South America, especially in Brazil, Chile, and Bolivia. It is suggested in Europe that Great Britain and France have encouraged Reichsfuehrer Hitler toward German expansion there so he will keep his attention off Africa, where they have rich colonies, including the former German ones which they do not want to give back.

Hope to Drag U. S. Into War.

It would, therefore, suit British and possibly French policy if, as reported, Washington would become very much concerned over German encroachments commercially and politically in South America, and if, as also reported, the Roosevelt administration would fight this encroachment.

Europe would not be adverse to seeing and encouraging United States complications with a European power in South America, for it is realized that entanglements there offer the best way of seeing to it that the United States does not remain neutral in the next European war. The British are already saying that it is impossible for the United States to remain neutral.

Eye Congress Closely.

It is perhaps significant, therefore, that the Pan-American congress, attended by all the American countries except Canada, is being closely watched here and that it is reported to be likely to meet under the cloud of Hitler.

They wonder in Europe if the conference will see a modification in the Monroe doctrine and if it will be supplanted by some "collective security" scheme.

Pitfalls ahead for the preservation of American neutrality are indicated.

New Wave of 'Stay In' Strikes Sweeps Industry in France

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Revival of communist agitation to force the Blum government to change its policy of nonintervention in Spain marked the reopening of parliament today, as a new wave of "stay in" strikes swept through France.

The communist group in the chamber of deputies in its caucus decided to insist on interpellating the government on its attitude towards Spain. The Reds also will quiz Premier Leon Blum regarding his agricultural policy, the effective dissolution of leagues—meaning particularly the Fascist Croix de Feu which is now the French Social party—and social legislation.

The communist caucus decision is regarded by well informed circles of Paris as an act which may break up the Popular Front coalition now ruling France.

Clash in Parliament.

Parliament reopened intending to discuss financial bills, but the session was marked by a verbal clash between conservatives and communists.

Deputy Ramette, a communist, shouted, "Into the Seine with the Fascists!" Deputy Poitou-Duplessis replied, "we are not surrendering."

Speaker Herriot immediately suspended the session, but it was called to order shortly afterward.

The chamber then took occasion to give a unanimous rising vote of congratulations to President Roosevelt on his reëlection in the United States.

A new and menacing "stay in" strike broke out in the Paris metropolitan area today. All but 100 of the 2,900 workmen of the Panhard automobile plant in the Paris suburb Le Vallois quit work and occupied the factory. They protested the discharge of 775 employés. The strikers announced they are willing to evacuate the premises if the factory remains idle during negotiations.

Thirteen Factories Closed.

This may be the first of a new wave of stay in strikes engineered by the communists to embarrass the government.

At the Lebaudy-Sommier sugar refinery "stay-in" strikers announced they would resist if the government tried to oust them in compliance with the management's request.

At Roubaix thirteen factories were closed as a result of a walkout of wholesale coal workers, which cut the source of fuel. Strikers occupied ten coalyards.

Employés of a Paris oil refinery stationed themselves on the property. Stone workers who had been making statues for the 1937 Paris International exposition walked out.

Along with the strike wave came a mysterious communique from Col. Francois de la Rocque's Social party which does not have a calming effect on the situation.

"The French Social party is in formed of the beginnings of revolutionary agitation in certain suburbs in the neighborhood of certain factories," the communique said. "The party urges its members to keep cool and restrain themselves to avoid provocation by anybody and take orders only from local party chiefs."

Workers Go to Spain.

Another disquieting evidence of extremist activity comes from Lille, industrial town in north France, which reports the departure of numerous Polish and French miners and steelworkers for Spain. The C. G. T., the French Labor federation, is declared to be recruiting these volunteers and providing them with "laissez passer" from the Spanish consulate, approved and signed by the secretary of the North French branch of the labor federation.

The document reads, "Comrade So and So has received from the federation 100 francs to go to Paris and thence to Spain. The Paris branch of the labor federation is asked herewith to do what is necessary."

Conservatives accused Premier Blum of interfering with the freedom of the press. They cited his demand for the resignation of Pierre Guimier from the administrative council of Havas, the leading French news agency.

The Paris press syndicate demanded that parliament refuse to discuss any bill regulating the press unless it first is submitted to the syndicate for examination.

COMMUNISTS PUT O. K. UPON KING MARRYING WALLY

LONDON, Nov. 5. (AP)—"If King Edward wants to marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, no representative of the workingman in parliament would object," William Gallacher, the only communist in the house of commons, said today.

The British worker, Gallacher said in an interview outside parliament, approves of the British monarch's friendship with the former Baltimore woman, who recently obtained a divorce at Ipswich.

The British autocracy, however, Gallacher said, does not like Mrs. Simpson because she does not belong to its "charmed circle."

President Figures

With 107,309 of the nation's 122,722 voting districts reporting President Roosevelt had a plurality of 9,559,346 over Gov. Landon in Tuesday's election, in the Associated Press compilation. The figures were: Roosevelt, 25,357,722; Landon, 15,798,376; Lemke, 723,405.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Belated unofficial returns from closely contested gubernatorial races today showed William Langer, independent Republican, the winner by a slim plurality in North Dakota and added Iowa and Montana to the list of 27 states which elected Democratic governors.

Langer, stormy petrel of North Dakota politics, received a margin of only about 2,000 votes in being returned to the office from which he was removed in 1934 on charges of misusing federal relief funds. After three trials he finally was found not guilty and a penitentiary sentence reversed.

Democrat Runs Third.

Langer led a nonpartisan faction within the Republican party in his victory over Gov. Walter Welford, Republican nominee, who nearly bested him, and John Moses, Democrat, who ran third.

The former governor took no part in the presidential race within the state, although before the campaign he had attacked the Roosevelt administration. Welford supported Gov. Alf M. Landon and Moses supported President Roosevelt.

The Democratic victories in Iowa and Montana brought to 38 the number of states which will have governors of that party with the beginning of the new year inasmuch as 11 officials not involved in Tuesday's voting already are held by Democrats. Three Republican governors, one Progressive, and one Farmer-Laborite were elected Tuesday in addition to the 27 Democrats.

Iowa Margin Is 1,055.

Nels G. Kraschel, Democrat, appeared to have won the gubernatorial contest in Iowa in a bitter neck and neck race with his arch Republican foe, George A. Wilson of Des Moines. The final vote for governor gives Kraschel 518,997; Wilson, 517,942.

The Iowa governorship will be vacated by Clyde L. Herring, who was successful, along with Guy Gillette, both Democrats, in his bid for a seat in the United States senate.

In the Montana race for governor Representative Roy E. Ayers, Democrat, held a lead of nearly 4,500 votes over Republican Frank A. Hazelbaker, with all precincts accounted for except 187 in the stormbound rural regions.

Official Count Needed.

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Not until the official canvass of Kansas' votes will it be determinted whether Alf M. Landon's Democratic successor as governor, Walter Huxman, will have a Republican or a Democratic lieutenant.

A margin of only 397 votes separated W. M. Lindsay, Democrat, and Carl Friend, Republican, with the latter holding the lead, when all except three precincts in the lieutenant governor's race had been tabulated unofficially.

This, of course, did not include a count of absentee ballots, and clerks in the secretary of state's office said it might be three weeks before the absentee vote is determind, although the state canvassing board will start counting them Monday.

With only eight precincts missing in the presidential count, Kansas gave a plurality of 62,005 for Roosevelt. The vote was: Roosevelt, 448,543; Landon, 386,538.

The Kansas house of representatives has 125 members. Unofficial returns indicate at least 66 Republicans were elected, giving the Republicans a majority of 7.

Borah Gets Biggest Vote.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Late election returns today showed that William E. Borah, 71, Republican dean of the United States senate, polled the largest vote of his three decades in office in the Tuesday balloting.

He obtained a total of 126,000 votes which was 54,500 more than that received by his Democratic opponent, Gov. C. Ben Ross. In 1930 Borah polled 94,938, a plurality of 58,776 over Joseph M. Tyler, Democrat.

PRESIDENT OF U. S. WILL BE ELECTED IN STATES ON DEC. 14

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Presidential electors meet Dec. 14 to cast their votes for chief executive for the four year term beginning next January.

Of course, there's no doubt how they will vote. With the exception of those in Maine and Vermont, who are bound to Gov. Landon, all will cast their ballots for President Roosevelt's reëlection.

The electors meet in the forty-eight states at places designated by the state legislatures.

Their action on Dec. 14 is certified to the governors of their states, who in turn transmit the vote to the secretary of state here. The secretary of state sends them to congress in time for the official counting on Jan. 6.

HORNER HAILED IN SPRINGFIELD; PARADE IS HELD

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—After a day's rest from their election night celebration, local Democrats this evening staged a second jubilation—a welcome to Gov. Horner on his return from Chicago. In it they were joined by citizens who had supported his opponent in the election.

The demonstration combined the enthusiasm of the old time Democratic "ratification" meeting of another era, and the less vociferous greetings of the executive's neighbors. There was a parade of the clubs formed during the campaign, with bands, drum, and bugle corps, torches, and red fire.

Mayor John W. Kapp Jr. directed a police escort which met the governor at the depot. F. Lynden Smith, manager of the governor's campaign in the primary and the election, was in charge of the arrangements.

A party of state officials and employés left Springfield early in the evening to meet the governor at Bloomington, and returned with him to participate in the demonstration. A parade was formed, which marched from the depot to the executive mansion.

BEGIN ARRESTING DRIVERS OF 70,000 UNTESTED CARS

Special policemen under Deputy Commissioner Edward Gorman of the city license bureau began issuing summonses yesterday to motorists who were driving their cars without safety stickers issued at the city testing lanes. Seventy arrest slips were issued during the day by the investigators who were assigned to busy intersections in various parts of the city.

Trafic Engineer Otto K. Jelinek of the park district notified Commissioner Gorman that approximately 70,000 of the 525,000 automobiles registered in the city have not been tested at the city lanes. He reported that in the past few weeks the daily tests have dropped from an average of 12,000 to 3,000 vehicles.

Commissioner Gorman pointed out that under the law motor vehicles must be tested every six months. The next test period will begin on Jan. 1. The penalty for violation of the law carries a fine of $1 to $200. Those arrested yesterday will be arraigned in the Trafic court next Tuesday.

LOOT GIRL SCOUT SAFE.

2 KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO IN NORTHBROOK

Girl Sought as Driver of Death Car Gives Up.

William Langfield, 57 years old, of Northbrook, a nurseryman, and Louis Kordick, 54 years old, of Wheeling were killed yesterday afternoon when the truck in which they were riding was struck by a southbound Milwaukee road passenger train in Northbrook. The car was dragged 200 feet after the crash. Police said that Langfield, who was driving, apparently did not hear the train coming.

Sought since Oct. 7 as the driver of a car that caused the death of Vincent Zamiara, 53 years old, Miss Mildred McGarry, 24 years old, of Jacksonville, Ill., appeared unexpectedly at the inquest yesterday and was arrested.

Widow Critically Hurt.

Zamiara was fatally injured on Oct. 4 when the car in which he was riding, driven by his son-in-law, Charles Fremarek, 28 years old, was struck at 55th street and Pulaski road by another automobile owned by Mrs. Louise Rolfe Gebardi, widow of the slain Vincent Gebardi [Machine Gun Jack McGurn]. Zamiara's widow, Cecilia, 48 years old, who lives with Fremarek at 3047 West 54th place, is still in critical condition as a result of injuries incurred in the crash.

Although Mrs. Gebardi has insisted since her arrest that Miss McGarry was the driver of the car, police, relying on the identification of Fremarek, charged her with manslaughter and she has been at liberty in $10,000 bonds.

Miss McGarry and Mrs. Gebardi were accompanied to the inquest by their two companions at the time of the crash, Mrs. Marie Jarmer, 39 years old, 3003 South Kedvale avenue, and Miss Patricia Lonquist, 32, of 219 Wisconsin avenue. Mrs. Gebardi lives at 698 Irving Park boulevard.

Policeman Only Witness.

Only one witness testified yesterday before the inquest was continued until Nov. 25 to await the outcome of Mrs. Zamiara's injuries. He was Policeman Frank Gallagher of the Chicago Lawn station, who was one of the first to reach the accident scene.

"When I got there," the policeman said, "this woman [pointing to Miss McGarry] told me that she was the driver of the car that struck Fremarek's. While I was questioning others she disappeared."

Miss McGarry was arrested as she was leaving the inquest. She was taken to the Chicago Lawn station for questioning by Capt. William Collins, after which she was to be turned over to the state's attorney's police.

Two Others Face Charges.

Miss Jarmer and Miss Lonquist are scheduled to appear in the Felony court today on charges of disorderly conduct brought in connection with the accident.

Mrs. Jennie Dowazalski, 44 years old, 4432 South California avenue, died in the Little Company of Mary hospital yesterday of injuries incurred on Wednesday when the car in which she was riding, driven by Walter Bozinski, 44 years old, 4408 South Francisco avenue, was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio freight train at 119th street and Cicero avenue.

Thomas Barlow, 60 years old, 1209 First avenue, Maywood, died in the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital yesterday of injuries incurred earlier in the day when he was struck by an automobile driven by Jerome Karela, 21 years old, 3715 Prairie avenue, Brookfield.

Dies of Injuries.

Benjamin Greene, colored, 58 years old, 323 South Franklin avenue, La Grange, who was struck by the car of a hit and run driver while walking at State street and Garfield boulevard on Oct. 25, died in the County hospital of his injuries yesterday.

The body of a Mexican fatally injured by an automobile at 18th and Canal streets last Friday was identified at the county morgue last night as that of Antonio Pamprma, 44 years old, 1253 South Peoria street.

An unidentified man about 45 years old was struck while walking at 121 West Harrison street yesterday by an automobile driven by James McKinley, colored, 4646 St. Lawrence avenue. The victim was taken unconscious to the County hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 847 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic accidents since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. In the same period 646 were killed and 16,452 injured in Chicago accidents.

Identify Amnesia Victim as Senn High School Boy

Mrs. Lillian E. Scott, 5920 Ridge avenue, went to the juvenile home yesterday and identified James Scott, 16 years old, who was held there as an amnesia victim, as her son. The boy became normal as soon as he saw his mother, according to Dr. William McKee, psychiatrist at the home. James, a freshman at the Senn High school, told a policeman Wednesday night that he was unable to remember his name or address.

WETS WIN IN 47 OF 88 PRECINCTS; TIE VOTE IN ONE

The wets won in 47 of the 88 precincts in the city where local option was an issue in Tuesday's election. In forty precincts, the vote outlawed taverns and liquor stores and in one precinct the vote was a tie.

The 88 precincts in which the votes were taken were based on 1932 boundary lines which have since been revised and which now represent 155 precincts and fractional precincts. The law on local option provides that sentiment be tested on the basis of the old lines.

Returns from 67 precincts were made public yesterday. The results in the remaining 21 precincts are shown in the following table:

Ward.	Prct.	Dry.	Wet.	Ward.	Prct.	Dry.	Wet.

4 DIE IN FIRE; ALL TRAPPED AT TOP OF BUILDING

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Four men were burned to death today in a fire that swept the Fred Schmitt Building Material company. The victims were trapped in the top level of a five story elevator shaft used for storage of sand and gravel.

Fred Schmitt, owner of the company, identified the four as Fred Schmitt Jr., his son; Thomas R. Carroll, and Donald A. Fyfe, all company employés, and Vance Wright, state highway department inspector.

The fire originated in Wright's laboratory in a three story section adjoining the main building. Sweeping up a frame stairway, it cut off the men's escape from the elevator shaft.

Report True Bill Against Suspect in Driver's Slaying

The grand jury yesterday was reported to have voted a true bill charging murder against George Collins, alias George Woods, 35 years old, who is under arrest in Los Angeles, Cal. This is the first step in an effort to extradite Collins for the murder of Frank Moles, 43 years old, 1519 West Adams street, a Checker cab chauffeur, who was kidnaped on Oct. 11 and left dying in Stickney. He was shot three times. Moles, it is believed, was the victim of mistaken identity, being taken for one of a group of chauffeurs who previously had bested Collins and a companion in a fight.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions, intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

THIS COMPLEX LIFE

By CALEB

NOT so many years ago, a child would start to school and be knee-deep in study in no time. The simple life of the average family was penetrated by few of the interesting things going on in the world. School was largely a matter of learning to read and write and calculate. There was little else taught at the outset for there was little else to teach.

Nowadays, children start to school under an altogether different set of circumstances. They usually start younger. Reading, writing, and arithmetic can wait. Other things come first.

In an urban school, the child is apt to be given as varied a program as can be arranged. The world is full of many things to learn about. The more rapidly some of then can be picked up, the more habitually may the child continue picking them up and the more rapidly he may become adapted socially to a complex world.

Little school children may have an excursion to a dairy one day. The next week they may visit a cross-country bus garage. They may next visit a yacht harbor or a lighthouse. Another excursion may be to a pet store or an open air market. But they do "get around." If some schools are not in a position to arrange such excursions, they have books which detail practically as much. Children learn early about many things.

The college student of a generation or two ago had to struggle through school without movies, automobiles, or radios. Electric lights were not numerous and not good. Telephones were few. Distractions were less numerous and less insistent.

Nowadays we accept all the modern, convenient, and interesting accessories to living, from the cradle up.

The world offers more to the individual than it used to.

Therefore, it expects more. The thought occurs to us sometimes that for that very reason we should do all we can to make the world more interesting to others. Life's variegated appeals to us are many of them man made or man interpreted. What are we contributing in our turn to other men? To other people?

This question is a good one for us to ask ourselves in our business. It helps keep us busy all over the world learning and acquiring interesting things, which here in Chicago we place before and interpret for you.

ROOSEVELT LEAD IN ILLINOIS VOTE TOTALS 718,609

Horner's Margin Over Brooks Far Less.

With only fifty-three precincts in Illinois still unreported yesterday, Tuesday's vote stood: Roosevelt, 2,261,573; Landon, 1,542,964, a lead of 718,609 for the President; William Lemke, Union party candidate, received 72,158 votes.

Returns from 7,827 of the state's 7,912 precincts gave Gov. Henry Horner a lead of 384,373 over his Republican opponent, Wayland Brooks. Horner had 2,205,732 votes to 1,641,359 for Brooks. Downstate Brooks was running 91,339 votes behind the governor.

Lewis Adds to Lead.

The lead of Senator James Hamilton Lewis over Otis F. Glenn, his Republican opponent, was growing as the last precincts were reporting. In 7,798 precincts Senator Lewis had a lead on Glenn of 611,780, the vote being Lewis, 2,110,212; Glenn, 1,498,432.

Complete unofficial returns in Cook county gave Attorney General Kerner a plurality of 772,540; State's Attorney Courtney, 670,318; Roosevelt, 561,292; Lewis, 486,784, and Horner, 293,034.

The canvass of votes began yesterday in the election board's offices, fifty-three teams tabulating the returns under the direction of Chief Clerk John S. Rusch. One team was assigned to each of the fifty wards and the other three to the nine country towns within the board's jurisdiction.

G. O. P. Committee Meets.

The victorious Democrats were still regarding the returns with relish yesterday, while the Republican county central committee met in the Hotel La Salle at a luncheon presided over by Chairman Edward F. Moore to discuss the landslide which buried their candidates. In a brief talk, Moore stressed the importance of keeping the ward organizations together. Permanent headquarters will be maintained at the La Salle after the first of the year. The committee will meet once or twice each month.

There was a possibility that some of the Democratic leaders and state officers would journey to French Lick Springs or some other spa over the week-end to talk plans and relax for a few days of golf. This junket, however, was not expected to be accompanied by Gov. Horner or Mayor Kelly. The governor is going to take a rest and the mayor will attend the United States conference of mayors in Washington. He is vice president of the organization.

DIES AFTER ELECTION FIGHT.

REGISTER TODAY OR ANY DAY FOR NEXT ELECTION

Despite confusion caused on election day by the misfiling of identity cards of numerous voters, the election board yesterday pronounced permanent registration a substantial improvement over the former system.

It was announced that beginning this morning unregistered persons with the right to vote may call in person at the board's office in the city hall and register. In this class would fall persons who failed to register for the Tuesday election, and young men and women who reach the age of 21 in time for the next election.

Voters who change their residence during the year must notify the board in person or by mail. If by mail, they must affix their names in their own handwriting to authenticate their signatures.

SHOOTS SELF ACCIDENTALLY.

George F. Getz Resigns from Police Pension Board

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday the resignation of George F. Getz, wealthy coal merchant, as a member of the police pension board. The mayor said Mr. Getz's resignation was caused by business reasons. Malcolm J. Boyle, 2310 Arthur avenue, was appointed to the vacancy. The mayor also announced the appointment of Leo Lerner, publisher of two north side community newspapers, as a member of the public library board to succeed J. B. Loehner, whose term expired July 1.

DIES OF SELF-INFLICTED WOUND.

Barney Ross, 35 years old, colored, died Wednesday night in the County hospital from a knife wound self-inflicted last Sunday in his room at 3439 South State street.

CHICAGO SUBURBS KEEP TRADITION, VOTE REPUBLICAN

Survey Shows Landon Winning 51 of 75.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Suburban voters retained their traditional Republicanism in Tuesday's balloting, a survey showed yesterday. Of seventy-five cities and villages in the metropolitan area, Gov. Landon carried fifty-one and President Roosevelt twenty-four.

Landon carried such large centers as Oak Park and Evanston, and dozens of the smaller towns. The President received most of his support in Aurora, Berwyn, Cicero, Joliet, and Waukegan, and communities of similar size.

In general the Republican nominee ran well in the north shore district and in most of the western suburbs. The President carried the small industrial towns in southern Cook county. Landon captured the Fox river valley towns, such as Elgin, St. Charles, and Geneva, with comfortable majorities.

Du Page county also cast a large vote for the Republican nominee, Wheaton, Naperville, Villa Park, West Chicago, and Elmhurst being among the towns he carried.

North of Evanston, Gov. Landon took Wilmette, Winnetka, Glencoe, Highland Park, Lake Forest, and Lake Bluff. He also carried Zion, seat of the followers of Wilbur Glen Voliva of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church.

To the northwest the dairy farmers in the milkshed in Lake and McHenry counties remained in the Republican camp. Libertyville, Woodstock, Antioch, and Algonquin were some of the communities in this area which favored Landon.

Western Suburbs Republican.

In the western residential suburbs the head of the Republican ticket carried Hinsdale, La Grange, Lombard, Maywood, and River Forest, among others and in addition to Oak Park.

FACES TRIAL

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday, Nick Messerlos, alias Nick Malos, 52 years old, was held in $15,000 bonds for a hearing next Monday on his removal to New York to face trial for complicity in the theft of $2,046,000 in United States treasury notes.

Messerlos was arrested in Blue Island several days ago by agents who had trailed him since soon after the theft of the notes from the Bank of Manhattan and the United States Trust company in New York about a year ago. Federal agents said that 17 of Messerlos' accomplices in an international theft ring had previously been arrested and revealed that some of his former associates still at liberty were seeking revenge against him for "double crossing" them. Two members of the ring were arrested in France with some of the notes. Messerlos is charged in an indictment with possession of more than $500,000 of the stolen notes.

MORGENTHAU IS EAGER TO KEEP JOB IN CABINET

Silent on Report He'll Go to St. James's.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Reports that Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. would be eased out of the cabinet shortly to become ambassador to the Court of St. James's were turned aside smilingly without comment by the secretary today at a post-election press conference.

What if anything will happen to Morgenthau in any shifting of the New Deal official family is the first in a list of question marks concerning fiscal positions in the administration. Morgenthau's friends said privately that he would not leave the cabinet of his volition. He has carried out the orders of President Roosevelt obediently and never has been known to say no to him.

Job Scorned by Several.

Morgenthau said that he would give serious consideration to filling the post of under secretary of the treasury when he returns from a week's rest at his winter home in Sea Island, Ga., where he went this afternoon. The under secretary job has been vacant since T. Jefferson Coolidge quit it in protest against New Deal spending last winter. Since then it has been refused by several persons, among them a Wall street banker.

As for the job of controler of the currency, which now is held by J. F. T. O'Connor, Morgenthau denied any change was contemplated. It had been rumored that O'Connor would leave when his term expired in a year and a half to return to the practice of law in California. O'Connor was "more than welcome" to stay in the office, if he wanted to, Morgenthau said.

Two Fiscal Posts Open.

Outside the treasury two important fiscal posts were vacant and awaiting presidential appointments now that the election is over. One of these was controler general of the United States and the other a membership on the federal reserve board of governors.

John R. McCarl left the controler general's office this summer at the expiration of his fifteen year term. During the first four years of the Roosevelt administration he blocked many spending schemes on legal grounds. Returning to private life McCarl gave vent to many caustic criticisms of New Deal fiscal policies.

Among those mentioned for the controler general post were Joseph P. Kennedy, Roosevelt's first chairman of the securities and exchange commission, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, and William H. McReynolds, administrative assistant to Morgenthau.

McReynolds Has Lead.

It is said Ickes will not take the job, believing it would be a demotion, and that Kennedy would be forced to make too much of a financial sacrifice in accepting it.

This leaves McReynolds, who is making every effort to land the job. Secretary Morgenthau is supporting his man Friday and if McReynolds is appointed the treasury secretary's power, already great, will be increased.

The two year federal reserve board appointment was expected to be a political award. This appointment is to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of Ralph Morrison, Texas utility millionaire and heavy contributor to the Democratic war chest, who allegedly received financial benefits from engineering PWA dam deals in his home state.

CAPITAL TO GREET ROOSEVELT; D. C. STAF GIVEN HALF HOLIDAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special].—President Roosevelt is to be greeted as a conquering hero by federal employés on his return to the capital tomorrow.

Employés of the District of Columbia are to be given a half holiday to participate in a celebration being arranged by the Democratic district commissioners and a morning newspaper which switched to the President after Tuesday's election returns.

Other federal employés are to be permitted openly or tacitly to take time off for the celebration. School children will also get a half holiday for the triumphal return.

Mr. Roosevelt arrives at the Union station at 8:30 a. m. The sponsors of the celebration have made arrangements for its broadcast by major radio chains. Mr. Roosevelt may say a few words of appreciation, sponsors said after communicating with the temporary White House at Hyde Park.

They Call Her Shivering Sal; She Bet on Landon

Sally O'Brien, 20 years old, a directress in the dining room of the Great Northern hotel, bet on Gov. Landon to win in the election and paid the wages yesterday. Clad only in a bathing suit, she walked up and down State street serving sandwiches to pedestrians as she shivered in the brisk air. Miss O'Brien lost her wager to Ragis Gary, a traveling salesman from New York.

protested. "Don't ask him any more questions."

There was some further parleying in which it was suggested that the cardinal himself be permitted to decide whether he wanted to discuss Father Coughlin. But the interview was abruptly terminated.

Calls Roosevelts "Typical."

What the cardinal had said previously was that he had enjoyed his meeting with the President and had congratulated him upon his reëlection. The Roosevelts, he remarked, "were a typical American family."

Concerning the many rumors about new cabinet appointments, a revival of the NRA and AAA, etc., the President remained silent. He will deliver a radio address from the White House tomorrow night in connection with the conference for human needs and there is a slender possibility that he may discuss his future aims then. He has an engagement Saturday to dedicate a statue to Jules Jusserand, former French ambassador, which may furnish him another opportunity to proclaim some of his second administration intentions.

YOUNG BARUCH CALLED PERSON OF 'ILL REPUTE'

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Sailing Baruch Jr., wealthy playboy of Manhattan's Park avenue and France's Deauville, was identified as a person of "ill repute" by Mrs. Merle Rutherford De Ruyter, lately turned 18, when she filed a counter suit for separation in Manhattan Supreme court from Jack De Ruyter of Park avenue.

De Ruyter started it all by seeking a separation. He charged abandonment by his bride of less than a year, who is the daughter of Mrs. Merle Dean.

Mrs. De Ruyter came right back, branding Jack's conduct as cruel and abusive. She also charged he spent much time in the company of such "ill reputed" persons a Baruch Jr., who beside being the son of his wealthy father is a nephew of Bernard M. Baruch, prominent Wall streeter.

De Ruyter was the No. 1 man in the divorce suit of Freddie Rich, orchestra leader, against Peggy Rich.

Bartender Fined on Charge of Selling Liquor to Girls

COUNTY POLICE VOTED $3,256 FOR NEW AMBULANCES

The county board, sitting in finance committee session, yesterday approved an appropriation of $3,256 for the purchase of four combined squad cars and ambulances for the county highway police. The committee also authorized an appropriation of $1,419 for purchase of a bus to transport prisoners and insane persons from the county jail to state institutions.

John A. Cullerton, president of the village trustees of Elmwood Park, petitioned the committee for permission to build a doghouse in the forest preserve near the Chicago Zoological park at Brookfield. Cullerton said that residents of Elmwood Park complain of the noise from the present doghouse which is within the village limits.

VOTE SHUFFLES POLITICS IN N. Y. TO A NEW DEAL

Tammany and Labor Are Vital Problems.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—With the smoke of Tuesday's election battle hardly cleared from the political horizon, party forces in New York state and city moved rapidly today toward new alignments likely to have important significance in national political affairs. The immediate points at issue are the future relations between the White House and Tammany Hall, and the rising radical threat of the American Labor party.

The hold of Tammany Hall on the city's vote is badly shaken and the organization may crumble without substantial aid from President Roosevelt. The orthodox communist and Socialist parties are likely to lose even their minority party standing. Mayor F. H. La Guardia probably will run for reëlection next November under the banner of the American Labor party, which bids fair to absorb a large part of the communist and Socialist vote as well as the support of all shades of radicals and so-called liberals.

Choice Within a Year.

Sometime between now and next November, observers believe, the President will be forced to choose between the La Guardia-A. L. P. forces and the regular Democratic organization. Undoubtedly a compromise will be attempted, but its success, at this early date, appears doubtful in view of stiffened political attitudes on both sides. Eventually, it would seem, the decision President Roosevelt makes in the New York field must be extended to the nation on the basis of a definite Right versus Left alignment. The mayoralty campaign of next year is expected to be the bitterest in many years.

On the basis of almost complete returns the communist candidate for governor, Robert Minor, received far less than the necessary 50,000 votes to maintain the organization's standing as a regular political party. The Socialist gubernatorial vote, while in excess of 50,000, was materially reduced. The American Labor party polled 237,000 votes for President Roosevelt and 227,000 for Gov. Lehman. The figures obviously included thousands of communist and Socialist votes.

Tammany Ponders Fate.

Tammany, having climbed aboard the Roosevelt bandwagon during the campaign, is now wondering whether it will be permitted to name its own choice for mayor next year.

Signs are appearing that Postmaster General James A. Farley, in addition to Edward J. Flynn, national committeeman and Bronx leader, and Frank V. Kelly, Brooklyn leader, are grooming Grover A. Whalen for that post.

Tuesday's election is believed to have removed the possibility of Tammany defying the federal administration and championing the candidacy of some one who does not enjoy Farley's favor. It was virtually settled before Tammany Chieftain James J. Dooling became ill that Dooling would insist upon the nomination of United States Senator Royal S. Copeland for mayor.

Even if Mr. Dooling remains as leader, which is regarded as impossible, this could not be done, as Senator Copeland was silent in the campaign and refused to go to the national convention because of his hostility to the President.

Hall Twice Rebuked.

The tremendous majorities given the new charter and proportional representation are construed as rebukes for Tammany. Tammany was the first of the five borough organizations publicly to announce its objection to these propositions.

The first step in Farley's operations to take over Tammany Hall probably will be the institution of James J. Hines as leader. Hines, who controls the powerful Harlem district, is known to be on good terms with President Roosevelt and equally in the bad graces of the clique now running the 17th street wigwam. The leadership of Hines, however, would find small favor with Mayor La Guardia and his Labor party associates. On this point President Roosevelt will find use for his best abilities as a compromiser.

Governorship Talk.

A Democratic candidate for governor in 1938 is already a topic of discussion in local political circles.

The fact that Gov. Lehman ran so far behind the President, both in this city and upstate, is accepted as meaning that he will pass out of the political picture when his term is up.

The name of Farley is mentioned frequently in connection with the nomination for governor, but he disclaims having any desire for that honor. Farley will remain in Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet until the President's first term ends next January. It is doubtful, even if he be invited to sit in the next cabinet, that he would accept. He would like to remain as chairman of the national committee for a couple more years, though.

SEEK TO PLACE ENTIRE AGE TAX UPON EMPLOYER

Labor Will Give Demand to Next Congress.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders disclosed today that they expect to ask the next congress to shift the entire social security pay roll tax to employers.

They expressed confidence that Republican campaign attacks on the old age pension tax on employés' wages would aid them considerably in rallying congressional support for the shift.

The labor spokesmen said privately they will submit their proposal to the federation's annual convention in Tampa, Fla., this month. They forecast the convention would ratify it unanimously.

Recall Landon Speech.

During the last several weeks of the campaign much Republican speech making was centered on the social security act. Gov. Alf M. Landon, in his St. Louis speech Oct. 31, said that the act would place "a tax burden" on employés "throughout their working lives."

Speaking in Gary, Ind., the previous day, Frank Knox, vice presidential candidate, said one workingman's reaction to the act, when it was explained, was: "There goes my raise."

Warning to Workers.

In various places, labor leaders said, the following notice had appeared in pay envelopes warning against the tax:

"The social security act provides for a graduated tax on pay rolls, starting next Jan. 1, for old age pensions. Next year the tax will be two per cent, half to be paid by employers and half by employés. By degrees the tax will be increased to six per cent by 1949. Old age benefits, to persons over 65 years old, will range from $10 to $85 a month."

The federation quietly tried, when the act first was considered, to have the employer pay the entire tax. William Green, federation president, maintained that the present system constituted double taxation. The worker, as a consumer, would pay the employers' share because prices would be advanced to cover the tax, he said.

Lacked Home Pressure.

Federation lobbyists, however, say they were unsuccessful in obtaining the change because congressmen received little pressure from the workers "back home."

Although the Republican attacks failed to swing the election, they say, the workers "back home" now likely will be intensely interested in the tax shift.

Cost of the old age pension plan could be shifted in two ways. One would be by assessing the entire pay roll tax against employers instead of employés. Another would be to pay the cost out of income taxes on individuals or corporations, or both. The latter was discussed on Capitol hill when the law passed. It would undoubtedly be pushed again if congress took up revision of the law.

WILL PAY EMPLOYES' TAX.

The Mills Novelty company, manufacturers of slot machines, electrical refrigerating devices, and other articles, will pay both the company's and the employés' portion of the new federal taxes on wages under the social security act which goes into effect Jan. 1, Fred L. Mills, president, announced yesterday. The decision affects 2,600 employés of the company at its three plants and forty branches.

CO-EDS ARRESTED WITH SOCIALIST DODGERS FREED

Two University of Chicago co-eds and another woman and four men, who were arrested for distributing socialist handbills without a license, were freed yesterday by Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Women's court. The bills were passed out at 35th street and Michigan avenue. "You are just wasting your time in distributing that stuff in this country," Judge Schiller told the defendants. They were Miss Beatrice Schoenberg, 19 years old, 5558 Kimbark avenue, and Miss Eleanor Mendelsohn, 20, 3842 Lexington street, the co-eds; Mrs. Elizabeth Schatz, 23, 6125 Kenwood avenue; Hugh S. Gillion, 38, 3528 Vernon avenue; Donald O'Neill, 20, 5519 Kenwood avenue; Raymond Sparrow, 22, 6118 Dorchester avenue, and Robert Cohen, 21, 5737 University avenue.

COMMUNITY FUND MARK PASSED BY FINANCE GROUP

The finance company group of the industrial division of the Community Fund campaign was announced yesterday as the first to reach its quota of pledges. Headed by Walter E. Heller of the W. E. Heller company, the group has turned in contributions of $10,145 on a $10,000 quota and has been given a rating of 100 per cent.

T. J. Carney, vice chairman in charge of the industrial division, declared that the first quota fulfilment "marks the turning point in the campaign" and cited other groups within striking distance of their goals. The confectioners' trade had $37,363 or 92 per cent of its quota.

He quoted the following trade groups as having substantial totals although an "unimpressive percentage of quota": Packing, $182,646.75, George J. Stewart, chairman; public utilities, $180,552.10, John F. Gilchrist, chairman; banking, $165,586.38, Stanley Harris, chairman; transportation, $87,513, H. G. Taylor, chairman; dry goods, $82,227, Roland P. Boardman, chairman.

Yesterday's returns brought campaign contributions past $1,900,000 toward the $3,400,000 goal. A large contribution was $20,000 from Charles R. Walgreen and employés of the Walgreen drug stores. Another was $5,000 from Maurice L. Rothschild, $1,000 from Mrs. Rothschild and $1,450 from employés of the Rothschild firm.

A NEW START IN LOCAL TRANSPORTATION.

Ald. James R. Quinn, as chairman of the local transportation committee, makes the welcome announcement that his committee is about to resume work on a new traction ordinance. It is to be hoped that this time the committee really intends to achieve its objective. The sooner it does so the better, because price levels are rising and the money accumulated in the traction fund presumably will buy less and less equipment as time goes on.

It is to be hoped, too, that the committee this time will not make the mistake which has so often been made in attempting to improve local transportation in Chicago. That mistake lay in the assumption that the problem was fundamentally a political one or a financial one. In fact, what is needed first of all is an engineering solution. If the engineering plan is a good one, investors can be found to advance money for carrying it out and the problem of convincing the voters to approve it should not be too difficult. If the engineering plan is not sound, the likelihood that money will not be forthcoming and that the voters will reject it is overwhelming.

There has been no thoroughgoing analysis by competent engineers in more than a generation of the needs of Chicago in local transportation and of the means for meeting those needs. Meanwhile enormous advances have been made in the technique of local transportation. Great improvements have been achieved in both street cars and buses. Comparable improvements in rapid transit train construction and operation are possible. The possibility of using the railroad rights of way which supply an important part of the local transportation services of London, Paris, and other cities, has never been adequately explored here in face of the fact that Chicago is the greatest railroad center in the world.

As matters stand, Chicago's street car lines and bus services are operated at a profit. With the expenditure of a not unreasonable sum to permit the operation of more trains in the rush hours, the elevated lines might become profitable. As a start toward rehabilitating the services, the Surface Lines have in cash something like 20 million dollars in depreciation reserves and the city holds in its traction fund some 60 million dollars more of assets which can be used for new construction.

The problem is by no means as hopeless as repeated failures to deal with it successfully in the past would suggest. If it is approached from the right direction Chicago should be well started toward a rehabilitation of its transportation services within a few years. The first task of Ald. Quinn's committee is, plainly, to examine the qualifications of engineering organizations and hire the best of them to survey the problem and draw up an engineering plan to meet it.

THE RIGHT TO DIE.

A year or more of agitation in Great Britain for legislation authorizing physicians to put incurable sufferers out of their misery has culminated with the introduction of a bill in parliament. Public education was undertaken by the Euthanasia society composed of distinguished medical men, lawyers, judges, and clergymen. The leader of the effort was Lord Moynihan of Leeds, former president of the Royal College of Surgeons, probably the most celebrated surgeon of his generation in Great Britain. Dean Inge, well known in America as in Europe, is one of the clergymen who are active in the cause, and, among scientists, Julian Huxley.

We have not the text of the measure before us, but it may be assumed that it provides well considered safeguards against abuse of the authority granted. It is not a product of hasty impulse but of full public discussion and expert drafting. Its fate in parliament will be a matter of interest in this country, where there is the same problem and a growing opinion that humanity demands a legalization of euthanasia under certain conditions.

There is, of course, opposition, mainly on religious grounds. One objector, a bishop, remarked that "we have no right to take other people's lives" and that in his view "it is good to suffer purgatory on this earth." This opinion is not very convincing, at least in the form reported. The state takes life without the consent of the individual and it is not proposed by the advocates of legal euthanasia that any one should be put out of his suffering without his consent. Even as to the question of purgatory, it would seem that the sufferer should be allowed the right of choice. The logic of this objection would deny the sufferer the use of any anodyne. If physical pain is a visitation of Providence to which the dutiful person must submit, taking a headache powder is a moral offense.

What will seem to most of us more worthy of consideration is the problem of possible abuse. But this should not be impossible of approximate solution by experts in law and medicine. There can be no perfect protection in this as in any other grant of power. But there is none now and the humane good which would be accomplished under legalized euthanasia, we are convinced, would far outweigh those exceptional evasions which the ingenuity of criminals might contrive.

The hopeless anguish of the victims of incurable disease is a tragedy which the modern conscience cannot ignore and, where the victims will to end it, society should authorize their relief under proper safeguards. It should not be a crime for a properly constituted agency to render this relief. The right to die should be recognized in law.

TO LANDON IN DEFEAT.

To Gov. Landon in defeat the Republican party extends not its condolences but its congratulations. It does not regret that he was chosen to carry its standard. He has nothing he need regret confronting him from his conduct in the campaign. Nothing reproaches him. He pleaded for his principles and the principles of his party in good faith, good honor, good logic, and good temper.

The argument went into difficult fields in which there would be temptation to close the door to reason and open the gates to prejudices and passion. Gov. Landon chose to talk to his fellow Americans as one of them solicitous for their welfare and convinced of what would be the best course for them to follow.

His fellow Americans were not in a mood to listen to him. The fault was not his. They cannot condemn him for anything he said or for anything he did. He would be now the first to urge them to continue reflecting upon what they do and what they support.

We know that Gov. Landon's first consideration was not himself. If all ends well with the nation all ends well with him.

THE SEVENTEENTH THOUSAND.

Thursday, Oct. 22, 16,038 victims. Thursday, Nov. 5, 17,035 casualties. Interval two weeks. Increase in the number of automobile tragedies, nearly 1,000. Such is the latest record of THE TRIBUNE'S massacre clock.

Public indifference is a strange thing. Through the press and radio comes news that thousands are being slaughtered in the Spanish civil war, were drowned in some flood or have perished by famine. The scenes are far distant from our shores and are occurring among people with whom there is little contact. Yet there is national sympathy for the sufferers! History and motion pictures furnish vivid scenes of great holocausts of the past when thousands perished by the sword, fire or earthquake. Our national reaction —"Thank God these things do not occur today!" It is not difficult to recall that thousands were once laid low or disfigured for life by smallpox, yellow fever, and other plagues that have since been conquered by man's determination. Yet we are utterly unable to discern that future history will record the horrible fact that the automobile claimed a thousand victims each fortnight on the streets of Chicago during the year 1936.

Public opinion is being aroused, but it must be concentrated on some definite effort that will force city and state authorities to provide a remedy. What remedy? Elevated highways. The project has some critics and even scoffers, but let them suggest an alternative before the end of the year or withdraw opposition. The present conditions cannot and must not continue.

BACHELORS IN LONDON AND CHICAGO.

While people everywhere have been speculating upon the prospect that the world's most famous bachelor would take unto himself a wife, Chicago bachelors have taken the bit in their teeth. Thirty-seven thousand and forty-two licenses to wed were issued during the first ten months of this year in Cook county. At that rate 45,000 marriage licenses will be written by County Clerk Flynn during 1936. Never has there been such a volume of marrying as this year's.

The cause for the pickup in romance is not difficult to understand, although the ready explanation is not the correct one. Contrary to the surmise of some, it is not due to the fact that this is leap year and twice as many people are eligible to propose as in the ordinary year. The records show that the number of marriages is frequently smaller than usual. In 1932, the last leap year, fewer local knots were tied than in a long historical record. If that should be attributed entirely to the business depression, reference should be made to 1928, two leap years ago, when the number of marriages was smaller than in the year before or the year after. In 1924, too, there were fewer marriages than in the preceding year.

Marriage is the pulse of the nation. The marriage rate is a popular forecast of the business outlook. The fact that a record-breaking number are being wed is an indication that the people generally believe better times are on the way and that new obligations can be confidently assumed. The high tide of matrimony is another expression of what was recorded at the polls on Tuesday.

Editorial of the Day

DULL SERMONS.

[New York Herald Tribune.]

It was Cervantes, at one time in the household of Cardinal Acquaviva, who put on paper the opinion that "he preaches well who lives well." Whether he referred to standards of conduct—somewhat elastic in those days—or to mere pleasures of the table is uncertain. At any rate, being in the suite of his eminence of Spain, he probably had an opportunity to compare pulpit utterances, and perhaps to associate their quality with that of the preacher's way of life. And now differing from the Rev. Dr. Fleming, rector of Trinity, who thinks a rest from all sermons might be a good idea for awhile, the Rev. Dr. Adolph William Meyer counsels his fellow Lutherans to take pains throughout the week to fit themselves for effective teaching on Sunday.

Dr. Meyer warned a pastoral synod that "a dull liver produces a dull sermon" and that a preacher must keep himself physically fit. "Get a good sleep on Saturday night," he recommended, "and delve deeply into life, spiritual as well as temporal." As further preparation he urged them to read the morning papers and to listen in on the radio. "Don't forget that your parishioners attend the movies and are accustomed to action," said Dr. Meyer. "The movies and the sensational press say they give the people what they want. But in catering to their taste they do wrong; they should lift the people above their natural tastes."

A clergyman who is physically active and mentally alert, he said, will be better able to serve his congregation than one who is content to utter stale opinions on commonplace topics. The advice holds equally good for editorial writers—and who not else?

Ever since the Van Gogh exhibition our artists have devoted themselves to painting sunflowers and cypress trees. Some of them, developing a new technique known as Eternal Simplicity, squeeze the paint out of the tube and flip it on the canvas without using a brush. Occasionally, I believe, an orange stick is used as a spreader. Should the paint lose cohesion and drop off, the artist cuts out the hunk of floor linoleum it decorates and proudly displays his version of a bowl of oranges. Virginia B.

AT LAST a use for old razor blades has been discovered. A. Little Shaver of Walnut, Ill., suggests that at least 1,000,000 can be expended in scraping campaign stickers off windshields. And so another nut is cracked.

ONE OF THE meatiest items we have had lately comes from R. M. K. and relates to the betrothal of Miss Bacon and Mr. Wurst in a downstate town. As an all wool quip we offer the hope that neither will be worsted.

OPPORTUNITY.

Conservation seemed to me
Just a fuss about a tree;
Law Observance and its right,
Was not meant for me to fight.
Art and music, gardens, too,
Were for just a certain few;
And to mix in legislation
Simply was not for my station.

Just a wheel without a hub
'Til I found a Woman's Club.

Now I really have a part.
Public Welfare from the heart
Keeps me on my toes and doing
With no time for gossip brewing.
Life's too short for the big task
And there's one thing that I'll ask
Of Saint Peter at the gate,
"Tell me, will I have to wait
To join the Woman's Club?"

Sara Catlin Weig.

THIS LOOKS like propaganda. Shall we have a straw vote on "Should I Join a Woman's Club?"

OF HISTORY AND NOVELS.

The pseudo-historical novel is again popular. The phase recurs. We remember how, a few years ago, a friend chided us because we had never read Charles Reade's "The Cloister and the Hearth," which he described as a classic study of medievalism. Reading failed to uphold this claim. Reade wrote as fulsomely, and nearly as badly, as Walter Scott. There was in the book nothing to make it comparable to Hugo's "Notre Dame"; nor, if truth be told, to that Renaissance opus by Merejkowski, the most readable of all the Russians, titled "The Romance of Leonardo da Vinci." And, if you care to go back to Roman times for your romance, Edward Lucas White's "Andivius Hedulio" is much more entertaining, much better done, than "Quo Vadis."

THE REPUBLICANS in the Second precinct of Dubuque can hardly claim they were counted out, as the party's judges at the polling place were Mr. Fox, Mrs. Lyons, and Mrs. Wolf. 'Tis reported that a Democratic wag served them animal crackers for luncheon. Bert.

PROSPERITY NOTE.

Conditions are slowly growing better in Hometown, according to Dad Jenkins, who runs the local poolroom. He called at the Star office the other day and reported: "Things is gradual coming back to normality. Only last week the poolroom put back on two loafers we had to lay off in the spring." Gnawbone.

TO AN OLD FLAME.

Some day we two again shall meet,
I know not when nor where;
And we shall each the other greet
In accents debonair,
And say the things that people say
Who meet, and calmly go their way
Without a thought or care.
And nothing will be said of tears,
Of blasted hopes, and empty years,
While we stand chatting there.

STEAMBOAT DAYS.

Along the Mississippi, where islands occur, the deep main channel will flow at one side while the arm on the other, choked with silt, becomes sluggish—a "chute" navigable only in floodtime. One black rainy night during spring high water the steamer White Elephant stopped at the head of a certain island for wood. So heavy was the downpour that the darky roustabouts could scarcely see to keep their footing on the landing stage. However, the wooding up was completed and the mate, muffled in his cloak, paid for the fuel and ordered departure.

At the foot of the island the pilot miscalculated and swung the White Elephant into the chute. Laboriously she fought back to the woodyard, the pilot blaming the storm for the hard going. It was necessary to refuel and, this finished, the vessel headed downstream again. Again the chute trapped the pilot. To keep this yarn from dragging out, we may as well say here that the process was repeated three times. At the fourth wooding up, which was done in the dawn, the mate looked intently at the woodyard owner. "Ain't I seen you somewheres before?" he demanded. "Reckon so," replied that worthy. "This is the fohth time you've took wood tonight. Thought you must be likin' it round here."

HEALING IN PEPTIC ULCER.

ALL effective plans of attack upon peptic ulcer are of fairly recent development. The late Sir William Osler, in the original edition of his work on medicine—published over forty years ago—advises rest and a light diet and thus terminates the discussion. For hemorrhage he counsels opium. No single line refers to surgery or to the extirpation of an ulcer in which rupture is imminent.

Significant changes have come about in little more than a generation. Many remedial measures have been suggested and most of them depend upon neutralizing the free hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice, the overproduction of which retards healing of the lesion. The Sippy plan has been in use for many years and calls for large quantities of alkalis in connection with a special dietary regimen.

Neutral gastric mucin has been found to act satisfactorily with many patients. Its use must be continued for weeks or months, but this is of relatively small moment provided the ulcer can be healed or held in status quo. Histidine injections will relieve distress in a high percentage of cases, but prolonged administration does not seem desirable. Neither does repair occur with regularity.

There should be no conflict of opinion between surgeons and physicians as to the handling of peptic ulcer, any more than there should be disagreement over what to do in appendicitis. When an ulcer will not yield to treatment after a reasonable extended rest—when bleeding continues—surgical excision may be required.

We must recognize that bleeding ulcers are dangerous. While death will rarely result from a single hemorrhage, especially if a transfusion is given later, the slow, constant oozing of blood from the site of the ulcer may so lower the patient's reserve that even though surgery is attempted later, it will fail.

Severe hemorrhages from old ulcers can and will take place, although every physician knows that frequent remissions are observed. The ulcer will heal sufficiently to close all the vessels and the hemoglobin and the blood cells will rise to normal levels. But this should not lull one into a false sense of security. Only when the X-ray shows positive evidence that recovery is on the way can we dismiss the situation without concern.

It is fair to assume that every peptic ulcer, even though it bleeds, should be given first the benefit of medical management. This usually includes three weeks of rest in bed, a proper diet, and an effort to determine the progress of repair. If satisfactory data are obtained medical care may continue even though a second period of bleeding ensues. We must not be foolishly blind, however, to the possibility of serious consequences so that we appear unwilling to submit to complete surgical eradication of the diseased region. Nor should we wait until health is so impaired that the patient has less than a 50 per cent chance for life.

The great difficulty lies in the fact that removing the ulcer and leaving a perfectly smooth gastric lining may not —and usually does not—eliminate the factors which brought about its formation. Therefore, every effort should be made to determine those elements in the patient's habits, occupation, or environment which may be causative. Certain it is that dietary indiscretions, the use of very hot and very cold foods, the failure to include needed foods, and the use of strong condiments may be of importance. Add to this the worrying, nervous disposition—which probably stimulates a secretion of gastric juice with a high acid content—and we have a situation that is ideal for destroying weakened cells in the mucous lining.

The best plan is to prevent the disease through proper food and eating habits. Should an ulcer appear and defy the best medical attack, surgery yet remains a bulwark to windward.

Every one with an ulcer tendency should use—at least for a time—a bland, nonirritating diet. A leaflet giving details of this food regimen will be sent if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

CHALK EATER.

Mrs. C. B. writes: My 2½ year old son hardly ever eats any solid food but he drinks about 2 quarts of milk daily. The only way I can get him to eat is to play with him constantly through a meal. I've tried starvation for two days at a time to make him eat but he won't. Is there any solution to this problem?

He has a very peculiar habit. He has a small blackboard and whenever I buy chalk for him with which to write, when I am not looking he will hide in a corner and eat it like candy. Is this harmful to his system?

REPLY.

He probably needs lime and cod liver oil and is drinking milk and eating chalk in an effort to secure adequate minerals. Finely ground fresh bone meal may be used on cereals. If his behavior is designed to secure attention, try letting him eat in company with other children. Example is a great teacher. Do not show that his refusal to eat worries you. He may be finding this a source of power over you. Children are canny little creatures. Put his food before him and ignore the fact that he doesn't eat it.

WEAK SIGHT.

M. W. writes: I have weak eyesight and I can see normally through a small hole. I understand that there are drugs on the market to contract the pupil of the eye. Is this true?

REPLY.

There are drugs which will contract the pupil of the eye, but they should not be used except under the direction of a physician. Are both pupils of equal size? A skilled ophthalmologist can aid you.

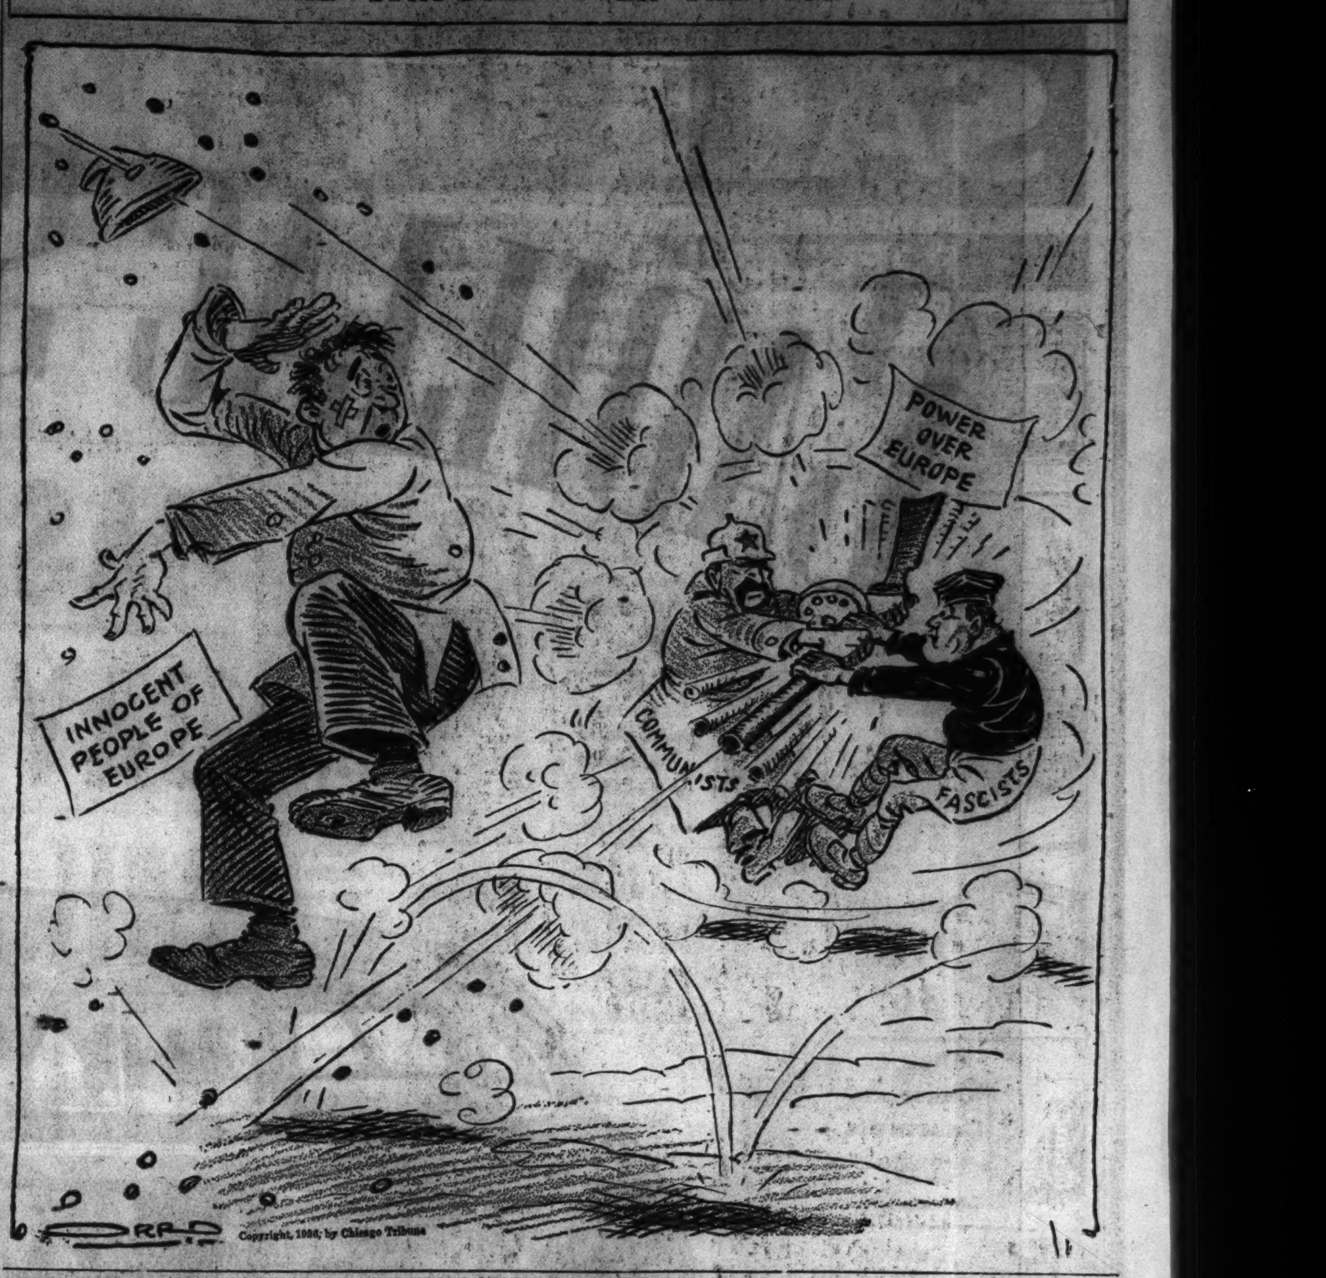
SWOLLEN GLAND.

S. N. writes: I have a swollen gland directly under the right ear. What could cause this and what can be done?

REPLY.

Swelling in any part of the body warrants a careful examination by a competent physician. It will probably turn out to be something minor, such as an infected lymph gland or a sebaceous cyst. Investigate, nevertheless.

THE STRUGGLE OVER THE GUN



VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

WE CAN TAKE IT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—May I offer my sincere congratulations to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE upon its great victory?

Next to the unhappy warrior, Al Smith, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, I believe, did more to bring about the reëlection of President Roosevelt than any other person or agency.

O, by the way, how many more days to "save" our country? Or is it too late?

Another thing. Save that social security identification tag for a souvenir. Or, better still, send it to John Hamilton to wear it around his neck.

JONATHAN PAUL.

CREDIT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—If President Roosevelt failed to send a telegram or letter to THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE [The World's Greatest Newspaper] thanking it for the big part it played in the splendid victory he achieved at the polls on Nov. 3 he overlooked an important bet. There is no question in my mind that the extremely partisan and unfair attitude of this and other prominent newspapers in printing news pertaining to the election and the issues involved was responsible for the tremendous vote cast for President Roosevelt. I can personally vouch for several votes lost to the Republican ticket because of those tactics.

I am one of many thousands who believe THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE would be of greater service to its readers and carry more prestige if it printed real news in an impartial, unbiased way. Give your readers credit for having a little discretion and allow them to make their own decisions on matters of general importance by printing all the facts instead of only bigoted half truths. Express your own views editorially, but don't try to force your views on your readers.

O. H. BERSCH.

HELPING THE OPPOSITION.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—I think the very fact that you and certain of your noble colleagues indorsed Landon was at least part of the reason for such a sweeping victory for Roosevelt. Maybe you'll know better next time. If you are for a candidate be sure to publicly indorse his opponent. That will be a good way to get votes for your candidate.

Here's to the nation's choice—F. D. R.

J. M. FEIGES.

OUR SPECIALTY.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The publishers of THE TRIBUNE should now take the editorials off the front page and get down to business and print the news. They are fairly good at that, but know nothing about politics. C. D. BEDFORD.

FOUR YEARS MORE.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Well, you now have four years more in which to save your country. L. ROBINS, R. PHC.

LIKE CHUMPS.

Chatsworth, Ill., Nov. 4.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE should feel justly proud of their campaign for Landon. It was THE TRIBUNE'S malicious attacks, in writing and in pictures, of President Roosevelt that did Landon more harm than good.

It was beginning to look like the newspapers were running the election, but thanks to the voters they made you [THE TRIBUNE] and the Literary Digest look like chumps.

I am a Democrat, but whoever is President of these great states should be treated with respect. NOBLE PEARSON.

BACK TO NORMAL.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—I am certainly glad that the election is finally over so that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE can get back to normal. I still like to think of THE TRIBUNE as "The World's Greatest Newspaper" [we Chicagoans are really rather proud of that claim], but surely during this recent campaign it reached its all-time journalistic low.

Of all the political fights which THE TRIBUNE has waged [and lost, for the most part] this one has positively been the vilest. The editors must have itched pretty badly after getting out some of the recent editions, and the cartoonists probably feel that tons of bleaching powder will be needed to get the yellow off their drawing-boards.

However, consolation [in reverse] can be taken in the realization that the low tactics pursued in favor of Landon have made a host of new enemies for the Republican party. And now that the best friend, up to now, that the American laborer has ever had in the White House has been gloriously reëlected here's yours for a better and cleaner newspaper.

THEODORE F. WILSON.

ADVICE.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—I have been a subscriber to your newspaper for the past eight years. During this period I have written you about half a dozen letters voicing some of my opinions, which I meant to have appear in your Voice of the People columns, but I have never had the pleasure of reading any one of them there. What is the reason? Have you a personal grudge against me?

In spite of all your false, malicious accusations, rotten editorials, and dirty cartoons our favorite and humane President has been reëlected. Now according to your charges that Roosevelt is a dictator I think you had better hurry, pack your belongings, and catch the first airplane to either Germany or Italy, where the rest of your bunch are. You surely do not want to be here when Stalin arrives, and he is nearing port.

I hope that you have made up your mind that the people cannot be fooled all the time; they know and remember who pulled them out of the mud.

EGIDIO RANTE.

THE END OF RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—It is high time for THE TRIBUNE to learn from the election of 1936 that the American people have discarded forever the theory of "rugged individualism." They won't stand by any longer and let the cycles of economic booms and depressions roll over their heads, maiming them physically and morally. But under the leadership of their chosen President with the duly elected congress they are determined to regulate their economic life peacefully and in a democratic way, true to the spirit of our constitution which provides for the common welfare of all the people.

HARRY ROTH.

ON TACTICS.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Does it pay to be disrespectful?

I hope this election will prove that disrespectful cartoons and high pressure mud slinging spokesmen gain nothing but help to strengthen rather than weaken the minds of our people who are supposed not to have a mind or will of their own. H. McCALL.

NO MORE GLITTERING PROMISES.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The Roosevelt landslide should perhaps allay any remaining doubts that the voters are progressive minded and that the only way to progress is to fix prices and wages by statute; that a nation's solemn covenants as to repaying its debts can be safely set aside whenever convenience dictates, that the way to banish want is to destroy food and subsidize idleness, and, in general, that the way to freedom from economic royalists is to pass more and more new coercive laws and never mind enforcing the old ones.

If, though, it might still be admitted that a republic is healthiest when there is some slight opposition at least to its dominant party, may not one hope that there may remain enough doubt of some of these "settled" propositions so that the doubters will gather together and thoughtfully survey the ruins of their valiant efforts?

For if they will do this, I suspect it might be discovered that the way to overcome pressure group government is not to try to surpass it in making glittering promises to the pressure groups.

HARRIS K. RANDALL.

SHARE IN ESTATE.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father's parents lived in Wisconsin and owned a great deal of property. In 1907 his father died and left all property to his wife [my father's mother]. There were eleven children, nine of whom are living now.

Last August my grandmother died [my father's mother] and as my father has been dead sixteen years [1] are we [myself and two sisters] entitled to his share of the estate?

2. How could we find out the contents of the will and [3] cash or property on hand?

4. What would be the best steps to take?

5. I understand there was a guardian appointed, but do not know who or where he can be reached.

6. Should we be notified of her death or [7] the reading of the will? J. D.

1. Yes, unless it was provided otherwise by will.

2. You might obtain a copy from the executor, or if this does not seem practicable from the clerk of the Probate court at the county seat.

3. After an inventory has been filed you could obtain a copy from the clerk of the court. It would be reasonable for him to require you to pay for these documents.

4. It is not clear that any steps on your part are necessary.

5. Guardian for whom? You do not give us any facts as to minority of any of the parties.

LEGION TO HOLD ARMISTICE DAY PARADE IN LOOP

Ceremonies at City Hall Will Climax March.

A parade through the loop and massing of the colors at the La Salle street entrance of the city hall next Wednesday morning will be the American Legion's contribution to Chicago's extensive observance this year of Armistice day. The Legion plans were announced yesterday at a meeting in the Hotel Sherman of the Armistice day committee, headed by John B. Morgan.

For the last five years the Legion has sponsored a parade and color ceremony. This year Legion posts and the high school R. O. T. C. will be supplemented by battalions from Fort Sheridan and the Great Lakes Naval Training station and by the Black Horse troop of the Illinois National Guard.

1,800 in Line of March.

More than 1,800 uniformed men, including eight bands, will march at 9:30 a. m. from State and Van Buren streets north to Randolph street, west to La Salle street and south to the city hall entrance.

After massing of the colors, Maj. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, commander of the Sixth corps army area, will speak. Mayor Kelly, Clayton F. Smith, president of the board of county commissioners, and Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the Ninth naval district, will participate.

Other Guests of Honor.

Other honor guests will include Col. Gilbert Fitz-Patrick, commander of the Military Order of the World War; Brig. Gen. Dana T. Merrill, commandant of Fort Sheridan; Col. Edward A. Evers, commander of the Illinois naval reserves; Maj. Gen. Roy D. Keehn, commander of the Illinois National Guard, and representatives of patriotic organizations.

Those of the county's 43 surviving civil war veterans who are physically able will attend. The Cook County council of the Legion will ask the city council and county commissioners to honor these survivors by placing the city hall and county building flags at half mast upon their deaths.

Veterans of the 26th [Yankee] division of the world war will hold an Armistice dinner and dance in the Knickerbocker hotel, 163 East Walton place, the night of Nov. 14.

BEG YOUR PARDON

An item yesterday gave the address of Mrs. Margie Wilson as 1529 Jackson boulevard. Harry Bromley, landlord of the building at that address, said she never lived there.

Court Dismissal Fixes Up 'Ailing' Artificial Leg

RED CROSS WORK TO BE SHOWN IN PAGEANT SUNDAY

Three hundred persons will participate in a pageant in Orchestra hall Sunday evening dramatizing the war and peace time service of the American Red Cross. The program, beginning at 7 p. m., will be a feature of the Sunday Evening club's preliminary Armistice day tribute. Tableaux will depict the background of the Red Cross and all its present activities. The pageant will be directed by James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter, and D. Melville Carr, first aid director.

Armistice day, next Wednesday, will open the annual national Red Cross roll call. Dollar memberships will be sought from the public. Speaking in behalf of the roll call, Mayor Kelly declared yesterday:

"Thousands of Americans can testify that the Red Cross has saved their lives. Millions of others will bless it for having given them aid in their hour of distress. In an indirect way millions of others have perhaps averted death or invalidism through first aid treatment from those trained by the Red Cross."

First aid certificates were issued to 187,000 persons completing courses last year, according to James T. Nicholson, manager of the Chicago chapter.

Young Woman Gets a Day in Jail for Necklace Theft

Mrs. Anna Lee, 26 years old, who was arrested Sept. 15 after she stole a necklace from a loop department store, was sentenced to a day in the Bridewell and fined $1 for petit larceny yesterday by Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Women's court. Mrs. Lee refused to give her address.

ARREST YOUNG SPEEDER; FIND CAR IS STOLEN

Mishawaka, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Disregard of Mishawaka's speed law resulted in serious consequence for Peter Fye, 19, South Bend, for he was driving a stolen car and was unable to show police a title card. He was arrested for failure to have a title card and driver's license.

Investigation revealed the car had been stolen from Dowagiac, Mich., Wednesday. Fye, who admitted he had received a suspended three year sentence at Amarillo, Tex., several months ago for vehicle theft, was taken to Dowagiac, where he will face an automobile stealing charge.

AUTO INJURIES FATAL.

Eagle River, Wis., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Frank Cinko, 26 years old, died in St. Mary's hospital in Rhinelander today as the result of an automobile accident near here Monday evening. Cinko was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cinko, formerly of Chicago.

I learned my lesson not to expect white clothes from cheap soap

—says MRS. DAVID REES JONES

"Yes, I was foolish enough to try to save a few pennies and bought cheap soap. No matter how much I rubbed and scrubbed, my wash was always dingy—and, oh, how quickly my clothes wore out. Now I'm using American Family Soap, and I have the whitest clothesline in the block. Never again will I use cheap soap."

And here's the secret of the amazing success of American Family Soap. Why it makes washing easier, safer, quicker. Laboratory tests prove that American Family contains as much as one-third more suds-making material than other leading laundry soaps sold in this market. And dissolves almost instantly into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS." These "DOUBLE SUDS" work doubly fast—float out the grimiest dirt without hard rubbing—and in utter safety to fabrics. That's the miracle of American Family Soap. Why colors stay true. Why ALL washables keep their life and newness much longer. More women in and around Chicago use American Family than any other brand. Start today to use American Family Soap and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. Made by Procter & Gamble.

PLAN CHRISTMAS BENEFIT TO AID NEEDY CHILDREN

Mayor Announces Fourth Annual Program.

Plans for Chicago's fourth annual Christmas benefit to provide needy school children with shoes, stockings, warm underwear, and other sturdy clothes for winter were announced yesterday by Mayor Kelly.

The Chicago championship football game will be held Nov. 28 in Soldiers' field and a stage show, "A Night of Stars," will be held Dec. 14 in the Chicago Stadium, repeating last year's successful benefits.

The Mayor's Appeal.

"There is no such destitution as was to be found even a year ago," said Mayor Kelly, "but there is need. The problem of helping others exists in good times as well as in times of famine and general need. Just now the need is marked among the children of the poor. The Christmas benefit will meet that need in large measure the coming winter, as it has since it was first started."

The School Children's Aid society has reported that 27,000 pupils are kept from school because of lack of clothing, and there are no public funds to supply the needed garments, the mayor pointed out.

Ample Funds Are Sought.

"Our hope is for a benefit that will provide funds with which to take care of all of these and at least 50,000 other children," he said.

Headquarters have been established in room 1427 at 33 North La Salle street. Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel, is secretary of the Christmas benefit committee. Col. A. A. Sprague is again the treasurer of the enterprise. The purchasing committee, a volunteer group which makes all purchases at wholesale and supervises distribution, includes D. F. Kelly, John Pirie Sr., George W. Young, and Maurice Rothschild.

400 ITALIAN VETS OPEN ETHIOPIAN FARMING COLONY

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Nov. 5.—(AP)—With their bayonets figuratively beaten into plowshares, 400 former Italian soldiers and their families will establish an agricultural colony in the Oletta region, 25 miles east of Addis Ababa, it was announced today.

They will form the vanguard of Italy's "agricultural warriors," seeking to wrest crops from land once rudely tilled by native Ethiopians.

Now that the rainy season is over, Italy's development of its new empire is proceeding swiftly. Thirteen joint-stock companies have already started surveying the raw material resources of the African kingdom. The companies, according to government promise, are not monopolies. They embrace all the industrialists interested in the products dealt with who wish to enter.

West Virginia Governor Here; Daughter in Hospital

Gov. Herman Kump of West Virginia, and members of his family were in Chicago last night to be near his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Kump, 23 years old, who is seriously ill in the Albert Merritt Billings hospital. She is suffering from a bone disease and has been in the hospital a month under care of Dr. Alex Brunschwig. Gov. Kump arrived Wednesday after a motor trip from Charleston, W. Va., with his daughter, Miss Mary Gamble Kump. Mrs. Kump and Elizabeth's twin sister, Mrs. Margaret Roberts of St. Louis, have been here some time. The Kumps are staying at the Shoreland hotel.

NEW STATE BODY IS ORGANIZED TO AID THE CRIPPLED

Correlating Group for 30,000 Handicapped.

The Illinois Association for the Crippled was organized yesterday to correlate the efforts of scores of existing groups in behalf of an estimated 30,000 handicapped persons throughout the state. Officers of some fifty organizations pledged their aid to the new association at a luncheon in the Union League club.

"Such an association is needed to bring order out of the chaos resulting from a multiplicity of organizations whose activities have a somewhat common aim," said Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association.

Group's Aims Outlined.

"One of the things to be accomplished is bringing all the seriously interested people together in a common meeting place. Then an intelligent attempt can be made to realize the scope of the problems and to determine the direction our efforts should take."

Dr. Fishbein said 25 crippled persons are among the 500 employed at the headquarters of the medical association here. Care was exercised in assigning them to suitable tasks, and as a result they are "better workers at their particular jobs than would be others without physical handicaps," he said.

Other Work Described.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city board of health, told of progress made here in use of serum in treatment of infantile paralysis. Dr. Frank Jirka, director of the state department of health, declared his belief that syphilis is "a greater crippler than we have ever known it to be." He asked the association to take up this problem.

Other speakers were D. F. Kelly of The Fair store, which last year made $18,000 available to the public schools for the aid of crippled children; Dr. Philip Lewin, president of the Chicago Orthopedic society; Miss Edna Foley of the Visiting Nurses' association, and Paul H. Fesler, superintendent of the Wesley Memorial hospital. Mr. Fesler is president of the new association and presided at the meeting.

Another Evanston Cradle Infant Goes Hollywood

Another Cradle baby has gone Hollywood. A 2 year old boy, it was learned yesterday, has been adopted from the Evanston home by Robert Graves and his wife, the former Ellen Godsey. Graves is an actor. She is an actress. Mr. and Mrs. Graves are now on their way home with the baby.

Stay of Execution

Brownie, a fox terrier, who has reached the ripe dog age of 20, was granted a stay of execution for two or three years yesterday when his owner, Mrs. Charles Schreiber, 2324 Walton street, brought him to the Anti-Cruelty society, 157 West Grand avenue. Mrs. Schreiber believed that he should be killed because of poor health. Dr. Wesley A. Young, general manager of the society, after examining the pet reported that the dog's condition was due to bad teeth. They were pulled and it was believed the dog would recover his health.

Hold Ex-Husband to Jury After 'Pact' Poisoning

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that Corydon A. Black, 33 years old, be held to the grand jury on a charge of poisoning his divorced wife, Mrs. Cordelia Black, in her apartment at 1550 West 95th street. Black is awaiting arraignment in the Felony court next Wednesday. On the advice of his attorney Black refused to testify at the inquest yesterday. The body of Mrs. Black, who was known as Cordelia Brusseau, was found Oct. 8 in her apartment at the West 95th street address. She had been dead three days. Black had slashed his wrists in another room of the apartment. He said he and his wife had made a suicide pact.

AUSTRIA NAMES LEADERS OF NEW WORKERS' MILITIA

VIENNA, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Austrian government today named local commanders for a new "industrial militia," modelled on the American National Guard, to take the place of the disbanded privately owned armies.

At the same time the 1937 budget submitted to the diet asked an appropriation of 210,000,000 schillings [$39,060,000] for national defense—approximately 60 per cent more than was voted for the same purpose during the current year.

The "industrial militia" was designed to include most workers to insure peaceful operation of Austria's factories. Members of the new army, planned ultimately to contain 100,000 military trained civilians, will wear gray-green uniforms and jaunty little caps with feathers peeping through the band. They will carry rifles and side arms.

Former Vice-Chancellor Eduard Baar-Baarenfels, removed from his cabinet post last Tuesday, was named commander. It was thought that his prestige as a former Fascist heimwehrman would attract other adherents of the disbanded private army.

HAPSBURG CHIEF IN AUSTRIA VISITS IL DUCE SECRETLY

ROME, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Baron Friedrich von Wiesner, head of the Austrian Hapsburg party which seeks to elevate the young Archduke Otto to the emperor's throne, left Rome today following a secret visit in which he called upon Premier Mussolini.

His presence in Rome did not become known until he had departed, and then it created a considerable stir in diplomatic circles. During his visit, he stayed at the home of an aristocratic Roman family which is on intimate terms with the former Empress Zita of Austria, mother of the heir legitimate.

Von Wiesner, it was learned, gave Il Duce a detailed exposition of the situation in Austria and the program of the monarchial movement. His trip to Rome was linked by some diplomatic sources with the forthcoming visit here of the Hungarian regent, Admiral Nicholas Horthy.

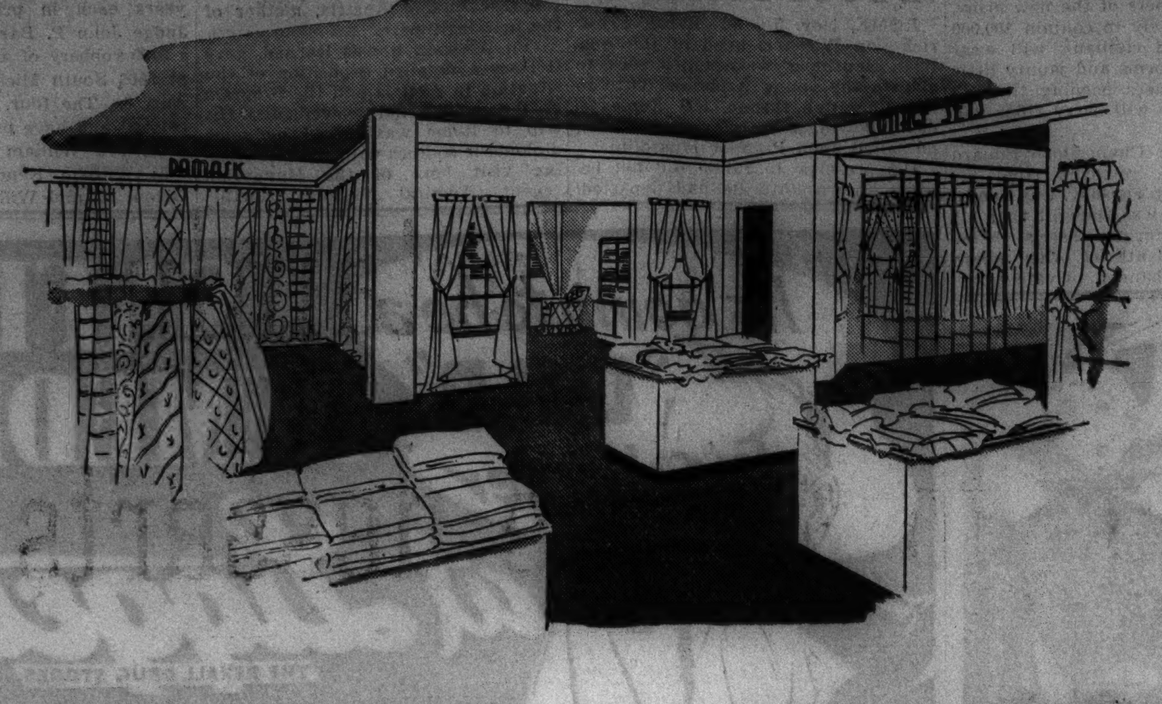
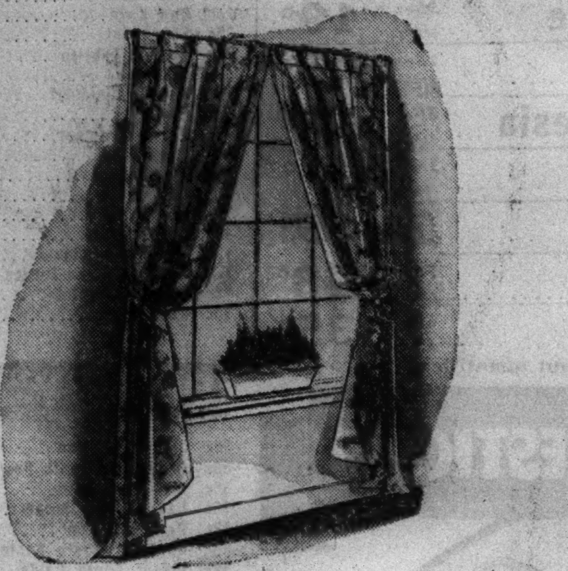
Draperies, Slipcovers, Reupholstering, Hardware, Sixth Floor



JUST FOUR OF THE MANY REASONS WHY OUR REARRANGED DRAPERY SECTION IS IMPORTANT TO YOU AND YOUR HOME



When you've seen our ready-made draperies you'll be satisfied you've seen all that's to be seen

Our contention is that when you set out to buy draperies you want to pass judgment on every type of fabric, every kind of pattern and design and every shade of color before making up your mind. You can do that here at Carson's. The most complete ready-made drapery section in the city awaits you. Everything's here . . . the damasks and satins and taffetas in all their gleaming elegance . . . the rough-textured homespuns, linens and novelty weaves . . . gay and splashy cretonnes and crisp colorful chintzes . . . all here in such profusion of patterns and colors that your head might easily be in a whirl were it not for the grand file-system display. For one of every single drapery in stock hangs full length before you, you see them all in an incredibly short time, and selection is no task at all.

Illustrated: a satin-effect damask, 2¾ yards long, fully lined . . . the material alone would ordinarily cost $15 . . . priced special at $9.95.

Slipcover materials of all types are here and we know all the tricks of the trade to fit them properly

Slipcovers that fit and don't look askew are nothing less than works of art. And with all modesty we admit to being masters at it. Measuring with accuracy is an obsession with us, and as for cutting and fitting we must admit to down-right fussiness. The selection of fabrics to choose from is that wide and varied you'll be nothing less than inspired to new decorative schemes that will create entirely new living rooms and bedrooms. There are printed linens, chintz, homespun, novelty weaves and many, many combinations of these fabrics, to say nothing of the clever trimmings and cordings and contrasting welts that accomplish the smart custom-made look so desirable. We will do the work in your own home, or call for the furniture and do the work in our workrooms.

Illustration: from a particularly broad and varied group of fabrics at 65c a yard, you may have any sofa slipcovered for $15.95; any chair, $9.35.

Experts in the business of reconditioning and reupholstering will turn your old furniture into new

Maybe it's an antique . . . maybe it's just an old "suite" that's seen better days . . . perhaps it's just an old piece that with a new cover would fit into your present scheme of things . . . whatever it is, we claim to work wonders with it. If reconditioning is necessary we strip the entire piece and start right from the bottom, respringing and rewebbing—to give it a strong, comfortable interior . . . we refinish and touch up the wood parts, and with infinite care and patience fit the cover to it perfectly. And whatever your decorative problem, the solution is somewhere in the great array of upholstery fabrics here to choose from, including mohair friezes, antique velvets, brocades, damasks, brocatelles, and tapestries at such a range of prices that you can pay just as much or just as little as you wish.

Illustration: Any 3-cushion sofa reconditioned and reupholstered in a selection of materials at $2.50 a yard, special at $43.50 . . . any 1-cushion chair, $27.50.

JUDGE MILLER, 15 YEARS ON THE BENCH, IS DEAD

Judge Harry B. Miller of the Superior court, who had been on the Circuit and Superior court benches for nearly fifteen years, died last evening in his home at 320 North Mason avenue. He was 52 years old.

Two months ago Judge Miller underwent a gall bladder operation in the Augustana hospital. His condition was reported to be improving until recently, when it took a turn for the worse.

Born in Chicago, Judge Miller was the son of a Methodist lay preacher who served in the Salvation army. He learned to play the cornet by the time he was 12 years old, and, thereafter, until he grew to manhood, played regularly in one of the Salvation army street bands.

Admitted to Bar in 1905.

After graduating from West Division High school he entered Lewis institute, through which he worked his way. Then he entered a law office as a clerk, earning his living while studying at the Chicago Kent College of Law. He was admitted to the bar in 1905.

For several years he served as western attorney for the Salvation Army in Chicago, moving to New York in 1912 to take a similar position in the eastern headquarters. A year and a half later he returned to Chicago and enlisted in the Republican organization of Fred Lundin, then a rising power in the party.

In 1915 Judge Miller was appointed city prosecuting attorney, holding that position for seven years. He was appointed a judge of the Circuit court to fill a vacancy in 1921 by former Gov. Len Small. He served from 1921 to 1922 and then was appointed judge of the Superior court, serving from 1922 to 1924, when he was elected to the Superior court bench. He was reëlected for the term ending last year, when he was returned to office for another six year term.

Heard Many Important Cases.

Judge Miller served in the Criminal court for more than six years, and during that time presided over many important trials. These included the Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop trial for the murder of her daughter-in-law, the John Scheck and Ross King police killer cases, the trial of Martin Durkin for killing a federal agent, and the racketeering murder case against John Rooney, Homer Barry, and Rosalie Rizzo.

The last case, which resulted in life sentences for Rooney and Barry and a 25 year sentence for the Rizzo woman, was the first of its kind ever tried in the Criminal court. The men, officials of the Handbill Distributors' union, were convicted of murdering a department store guard after the store owners had refused to pay more graft to them.

This case was carried to the Illinois Supreme court, as were the Scheck and King cases, but Judge Miller's rulings were upheld. Scheck and King were executed.

Joined War on Crime.

Judge Miller was one of the first judges to volunteer for service during the campaign against criminals in 1933, and he spent thirteen consecutive months in the Criminal court, giving up most of his vacation to help clean up the docket.

He served in the divorce division of the Superior court for several years, presiding over hundreds of domestic relations cases. This experience made him an advocate of federal laws to govern marriage ties, arguing that only a uniform law in force throughout the country could remedy present chaotic conditions. Judge Miller also favored a law prohibiting persons who are physically or mentally unfit from marrying.

Since Judge Miller's term has another five years to run it will be necessary under the law for the governor to call a special election to fill the vacancy, or to postpone election of his successor until the regular county election in 1938.

McKinley Voices Eulogy.

"He was a splendid judge and a fine man and was generally regarded by the bar as a person of the highest integrity both on the bench and as a practicing attorney."

Funeral services have not been set. Justice McKinley said the Criminal court will be adjourned on the day of the funeral and that the other courts probably will be adjourned also.

Judge Miller was active in the Masonic order and a member of several other fraternal organizations. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Emily Folk Miller, and two sons, Howard A. Miller and Harry B. Miller Jr.

Walter Conley, 42, Former Chicago Architect, Dies

Funeral services were held in Rochester, Minn., yesterday for Walter H. Conley, 42 years old, former Chicago architect who died on Tuesday in his home in Washington. For the last 18 months Mr. Conley had been with the Federal Housing administration. He was the designer of the "Chicago Map of 1833." His widow and a son, Charles, survive.

STORK MARATHON COMES TO BOIL IN TORONTO TODAY

Court to Act on Validity of $500,000 Will.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Executors of the estate of Charles Vance Millar will place before the Ontario Supreme court tomorrow the question of the validity of his will leaving a $500,000 estate to Toronto's most prolific mother of the last decade.

In a tiny courtroom seating barely seventy-five persons are scheduled to gather the six mothers believed to be tied for the prize with nine children apiece, relatives of the late lawyer who have sought to alter his bizarre testament, and representatives of the Ontario government.

Nine Others in Race.

In addition, claims are expected to be filed for at least nine other mothers, some boasting nine babies and others claiming fewer but expressing doubts about the records of the foremost contestants.

W. N. Tilley, counsel for the executors, who seek a court order to dispose of the huge fortune, is expected to propound three questions:

1. Is the "mothers' clause" valid?
2. If it is valid, who is entitled to the money?
3. If it is invalid, who is entitled to the money?

The proceedings will constitute a hearing for the presentation of motions rather than a trial court, and are expected to take only a few hours.

May Reserve Decision.

While the justice may rule immediately, the usual procedure is to reserve decision. It is not expected that the various claims will be heard in detail, although all the mothers have been subpenaed to bring their proofs of progeny.

The only last minute comment from the leading contestants came from Mrs. Lily Kenny, who reiterated she would demand "all or none" of the huge prize.

"I'm the champion," she said. "I've had twelve children in the last ten years. But I'm throwing out one and claiming only 11, just to make it easier for the other mothers.

"That still leaves me two more than the other five challengers, and if they think they're going to talk me into a split of the money they're crazy."

Dr. C. C. Cronkhite Dead; Former Indiana Physician

Dr. Christopher C. Cronkhite, 87 years old, retired physician, died yesterday in his home at 5535 Drexel avenue. He had been ill several months. Dr. Cronkhite came to Chicago fifteen years ago after many years of active practice in Marion, Ind. Surviving him are two sons, Albion C. Cronkhite, general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, and Burton E. Cronkhite and two daughters, Goldie Cronkhite and Mrs. Leo Lieberman. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. today in the chapel at 63d street and Harvard avenue. Burial will be in West Lebanon, Ind., tomorrow.

Ashes of Gertrude Shelby to Be Brought to Chicago

The ashes of Mrs. Gertrude S. M. Shelby, author and lecturer who died in Venice, Fla., last Sunday, are to be brought to Chicago, her brother, S. M. Singleton, secretary of the Citizens' association, said yesterday. Mrs. Shelby, who was 55 years old, was born in Momence, Ill., spent her girlhood in Evanston, and won her literary distinction in New York. She was an authority on coöperative banks and credit unions in Europe, and on the Negroid peoples of Africa, Dutch Guiana, and the United States. Her husband, Dr. Edmund P. Shelby, survives.

George Watson, 74 years old, who founded the Watson Business college, 638 West Garfield boulevard, in 1893, was found dead in bed, supposedly from a heart attack, yesterday in his home at the college. Mr. Watson came to Chicago from England in 1892. He was a leader in the introduction of the Gregg system of shorthand in this country, according to his son, George Jr., vice president of the college. Besides his son Mr. Watson is survived by his widow, Catherine, and four daughters.

Halt Ear of Corn Wins Him Illinois Husking Championship

BY MARCIA WINN.

Maple Park, Ill., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Adam Byczynski, 27 year old farmer from Bureau county, today won the 1936 state husking championship by half an ear of golden corn.

Byczynski's achievement came as something of a surprise to the 50,000 Illinois farmers gathered at Jake Berkes' farm, a mile and a half from Maple Park. For, until the count was made, betting had been on Theodore Tuftie, 45 year old husking grandfather of La Salle county.

The husking of Irvin Bauman of El Paso also was being watched with interest, for Bauman was the 1935 state champion. Moreover, his wagon moved down the husking field 20 yards ahead of all the other competitors. Not that it meant much, as it turned out, for Husker Bauman finished ninth in a field of eleven.

Final Figures Tell Story.

In the final count, however, after discounts had been made for any ears dropped or left on the stalk by the hurried husker, as well as discounts for any silk or husks left on the ear of corn, Tuftie—who broke the national record of 41.52 bushels last week when he husked 44.41 bushels in La Salle county—had a score of 41.166 bushels, Byczynski one of 41.175.

And, for the first time in the memory of veteran husking fans, a championship was lost by nine-thousandths of a bushel—slightly less than half an ear of corn.

The event had all the paraphernalia of a county fair, with modern appurtenances, the husking wagons, for instance, had rubber tires instead of steel wheels. And the husking was broadcast, ear by ear almost, by the Prairie Farmer, sponsor of the contest.

Three shots, and the picker, usually stripped to the waist, was off. With one swift movement he wrapped himself around a corn stalk, snatched off the corn, husked it, and hurled it against the bangboard of an attending wagon. One continuous movement for four acts.

Spectators Time Them.

Spectators timed the various men. Tuftie, for instance, husked 15 ears in 15 seconds. Another husked 43 in 30 seconds. They strode so fast spectators had to run alongside.

If an ear landed on the ground, they let it lie. If it landed on the other side of the bangboard, it was an error—and counted three off.

Each picker had four rows of a ten acre field, a 150 rod strip. He picked the first two on his way down the field, his last two on the way back. At the end of 80 minutes all picking was stopped.

Spectators Leave Mud.

For the first half hour each husker was watched closely, but toward the end of the contest, since results wouldn't be known for fully two hours, the spectators, each weighted down by a pound of mud per heel, went back up the hill for some more country fair atmosphere.

Byczynski, small, slender and blond, later told how he goes about his husking. He has been doing it since he was 12 and now spends all his spare time practicing up on the farm of Audrey Lyon near Lamoille. He won his county championship in 1934, as well as this year.

Tuftie, who husked in rolled up white seersucker trousers, red rubber galoshes, a battered black felt hat and a ragged undershirt, which he later removed as he worked up to a husking frenzy, was gloveless, but had his hook bound on with yellow lether.

He has been picking corn since 1925, he said, and can outhusk all three of his grown sons.

Both Byczynski, who won a $75 award, and Tuftie, who won $35, will husk for Illinois in the national contests in Licking county, O., on Nov. 10.

The Other Places.

In third place, husking 40.17 bushels, was John Schroeder, McLean county entrant. The other scores:

Fourth—Simon Oltman, Woodford, 39.857.

Sixth—John Cottingham, Livingston, 37.51.

Eighth—George Heminover, Kane, 36.789.

Tenth—William Nelson, Winnebago, 34.68.

Sleeplessness

Comes from Constipation

Loss of sleep—a waning appetite—low spirits—these are only a few of the symptoms of constipation.

They warn that poisons from the waste matter are being absorbed by the blood and carried to all parts of your body. Your vitality is lowered until you become a prey to serious disease.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

Ask your druggist for Nujol.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Speaking before the opening session of the thirty-second annual Illinois high school conference at the University of Illinois tonight, Dr. George F. Zook, Washington, D. C., president of the American Council on Education, declared success of American democracy lies in extending secondary education to a universality which will make for an intelligent public opinion among the voters of the nation.

"Any approximation of success in democratic government through the device of universal suffrage rests squarely upon universal education," Dr. Zook declared. "The elementary schools are not enough, for very properly they devote themselves largely to enabling children to acquire tools of knowledge.

Cites Need for Background.

"The best intentioned voter in the world cannot possibly exercise his right of suffrage intelligently or effectively without a background of knowledge concerning the position taken by each candidate on each of the issues to which he has committed himself. Equally he needs to know something of the responsibilities involved in each office and the qualifications of the several candidates to perform them satisfactorily."

Since all individuals are expected to participate in government, Dr. Zook said, everyone, regardless of social or economic status, is entitled to the advantages of secondary school education.

Finds Goal Unattained.

"Yet today," he continued, "only 28 per cent of the age group from 14 to 17 in Alabama are enrolled in the secondary schools. The percentage ranges to 95 per cent in Utah. The average for the country is only 60 per cent. In other words, we have not attained more than two thirds of the desired goal."

Intelligent public opinion, Dr. Zook said, is based upon education, and the success of the various political concepts depends upon the schools.

"In a centralized form of government," he asserted, "the enrollment of secondary schools may very well be reduced. In the United States every hope of success in securing the benefits of government lies in our willingness to make the advantages of secondary as well as elementary education both effective and universal."

CHURCH IN FRANCE ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF 'SAINTLY GHOST'

PARIS, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The bishop of Tulle tonight ordered an investigation of the strange tales told about Mme. Blavingnac and the saintly ghost of her grand-uncle, Father Borie.

The villagers in Brive-La-Gaillarde stoutly maintain that Mme. Blavingnac sees her ghost regularly, although no one else in the village claimed the same privilege. In fact, the villagers have agreed to erect a monument to Mme. Blavingnac's granduncle, dead these hundred years.

"It was at dawn one day last August," the 47 year old mother said, "when I was leading my flock to pasture that I first saw Father Borie. He was a tall man dressed in a homespun cloak and barefooted. He took from my hands the staf that I lead my flock with, and planted it in the ground at a turning of the road and said, 'My daughter, erect a calvary on this spot.' Then he disappeared."

Another time the ghost appeared in the presence of villagers, who, Mme. Blavingnac regretted, could not also see the ghost.

ONE GETS RUSTY ON THE ART OF COOKING GAME

Booklet Meets Problem of How to Do It.

Suppose that tomorrow you're presented by an enthusiastic huntsman with a half dozen wild ducks, a leg of venison, or a few partridge, quail or pheasant. Would you know how to prepare them for the table? Most of us need a few pointers occasionally on preparing game, since we're likely to forget between hunting seasons.

In Mary Meade's booklet, "Twenty Ways to Cook Game," there are directions for cooking venison, duck, grouse, rabbit, squirrel, pigeons, partridge, quail, or pheasant. It's a fine referenece booklet to have on hand from season to season. To order this very helpful little booklet, send 3 cents, stamps or coin to Mary Meade, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. GASOLINE ALLEY—MATURITY

USE STRIPS OF FAT TO 'LARD' DRY MEAT AND IMPROVE TASTE

To "lard" meat means to place strips of fat on top of it, or to insert the strips of fat [salt pork] into the meat to add flavor and to prevent dryness.

A regular larding needle is most often used for this. The needle is used to draw the strips of fat through the upper surface of the meat. This should always be done with the grain of the meat. As the meat cooks the fat strips melt through the meat.

Dry meats are usually larded. Fillet of beef and leg of venison are examples.

TRIBUNE RECIPES

SWEET POTATO STUFFED HADDOCK.

4 or 5 pound haddock
2 cups mashed sweet potato
Salt, pepper
2 tablespoons chopped sweet pickles
1 No. 2 can peas

Stuff the cleaned fish with the seasoned sweet potato, to which the chopped pickles have been added. Sew together. Curl the fish in a greased baking dish and fill the center with the drained peas. Pour the liquor from the peas over all, and bake in a moderate oven for 45 to 60 minutes.

FRICASEE OF LAMB.

10 small onions
4 carrots, cut in strips
1 teaspoon salt
1 bay leaf
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 can spaghetti with tomato and cheese sauce

Simmer cubed lamb with water to cover and the salt and bay leaf for an hour. Then add the onions and carrots and continue cooking gently for another half hour and, at the same time, separately heat the can of spaghetti. To serve, arrange the lamb in the center of a large platter, flanked with the onions and carrot strips, and at either end arrange a mound of the hot spaghetti. Serve separately a gravy made from the thickened liquor in which the meat and vegetables were cooked and seasoned with the Worcestershire sauce.

SCOTCH SHORTBREAD.

1⅛ cups sifted cake flour
⅓ cup cornstarch
⅓ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
⅓ cup granulated sugar

Sift the flour, cornstarch, and salt together. Then work in the butter which has been softened at room temperature, but not melted. Rub it in with your finger tips and then gradually worked in the sugar. This dough is dry at first and will take patience. Eventually the dough will become fine and smooth. Pres sdough out on a lightly floured board to three-quarter inch thickness. Cut into small, square cakes and then give each cake a quick marcel, crimping it around the edges with the fingers. Lift each cake on a spatula to a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] for about 35 minutes.

STEAMED CRANBERRY PUDDING.

1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup bread crumbs
⅓ cup brown sugar
⅔ cup finely chopped suet
1 cup chopped raw cranberries
1 egg
⅓ cup milk

Mix the ingredients well together, turn into a greased mold, cover with waxed paper and steam two hours. Keep the water only two-thirds of the way up the sides of the mold. Serve with a sauce made of ½ cup butter creamed with ½ cup sugar and mixed with ½ cup heavy cream, whipped, and ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Recommend Lamb Cuts as Economical Buys

Most cuts of lamb, especially leg of lamb, are recommended to Chicago housewives as the most economical meat buy over the coming week-end, according to the committee on marketing information of the Meat Council of Chicago.

In addition to lamb some good values are being offered in most cuts of veal. With the advent of cooler weather cuts of lamb and veal offer housewives some fine opportunities to prepare economical roasts, stews, and casserole dishes, the meat council states.

MEAT BARGAINS ON SALE TODAY; PRICES UP SOON

Wholesale Market Shows Marked Rise.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

An advance in retail meat prices may be expected soon if this week's upturn in live stock and wholesale meat prices is continued. Butchers in most shops were able to find a few bargains for today and tomorrow, but when retail buyers go back to fill up their coolers again they will be asked more for beef, pork, and lamb in Packingtown.

Almost all classes of live stock, as well as fresh meats, rose in price this week compared with last, according to official reports. At Union stockyards beef cattle sold at the highest price since last March. Packers boosted pork prices as much as $2 a hundred pounds on some cuts.

Bargains if You Hunt.

Housewives who do not object to touring the neighborhood shopping districts will find more than the usual number of food items on the bargain counters this week.

Bacon is 2 to 4 cents a pound under last week's prices. Leg of lamb is off 1 to 5 cents in the different shops. Some butchers are offering stewing chickens at about 2 cents a pound lower than a week ago. Pork loin roast and trout, haddock, and herring are cheaper than they were last week in some shops.

Sugar is down in stores generally throughout the city and suburbs. Some have reduced the price as much as 6 cents a 10 pound sack. Lard is 2½ cents a pound cheaper in several stores. Flour is lower than last week in some stores and higher in others. Evaporated milk is on sale in some stores at reduced prices.

Celery, head lettuce, radishes, sweet potatoes, eggplant, cabbage, dry onions, grapefruit, eating apples, and bunch carrots are lower than last week in many stores.

The lower grades of eggs are up 1 to 2 cents a dozen. The higher grades of eggs have increased in price in a few stores. Fresh grapes are higher than a week ago and green onions and spinach are up.

Fat Steers at $12.

The better grades of fat steers advanced 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds during the week at the stockyards, reaching a top price of $12 a hundredweight. Other grades are 25 to 50 cents a hundred higher than last week. Wholesale cuts of beef advanced as much as 50 cents a hundred.

Hogs sold 15 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher than last week, with wholesale cuts of pork advancing 50 cents to $2 a hundred.

Farmers got about 50 cents a hundred pounds more for fat lambs and prices for mutton ewes showed a slight advance. Some cuts of fresh lamb went up as much as $1 a hundred.

EXPERTS DEBUNK MANY TRADITIONS OF MEAT COOKING

Old Practices Upset at Conference Here.

New methods of cooking meat, upsetting the practices which have been passed down through generations of housewives, occupied the attention of food experts at a conference yesterday in the Palmer house. The conference, sponsored by the national live stock and meat board, was attended by representatives of the United States bureau of home economics and several universities.

The experts are engaged in completing a new textbook in meat cookery based on the results of ten years of research in home economics laboratories. Miss Alice M. Child, associate professor of home economics at the University of Minnesota, who is chairman of the conference, cited some of the revolutionary findings to be presented in the text book.

Basting Is Waste of Time.

"Searing of meat is an unnecessary practice," she said. "Basting of meats is a waste of time. Roasts should not be covered when cooking. If covered they become pot roasts. Tender meats are best prepared by dry heat and less tender cuts by moist heat. In broiling, a steak need be turned but once."

Miss Child said an outstanding discovery of the last ten years concerns meat cookery temperatures. "It is now known," she said, "that turning on the heat full blast when cooking not only wastes meat but also fuel. Tests have shown that the high temperatures which have been commonly used in roasting are responsible for the unnecessary sizzling away of millions of pounds of meat in the kitchens of America."

Lower Temperatures Urged.

By using lower temperatures and a longer cooking period, Miss Child said, shrinkage has in many cases been reduced around 15 per cent, and the palatability of the meat has been improved greatly. At the same time less fuel is required.

In the discovery of the new methods machines have been devised which measure accurately practically every quality of meat except taste. At the same time experts judge the flavor of meat samples in blindfold tests. Thousands of rib roasts of beef, loins of pork, and legs of lamb have been tested during the research.

ART COLLECTION SOLD AT BRITISH AUCTION BRINGS IN $1,966,640

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The art collection of the late C. H. T. Hawkins, composed mainly of snuffboxes, brought £403,000 [$1,966,640] at auction today.

Hawkins, who maintained agents in almost every country to send him snuffboxes, set apart a west end mansion to house his treasures. He died 30 years ago.

For sixty years Hawkins rode his hobby, setting aside half his $100,000 income for purchases. Some years ago when a portion of the collection was sold a single Louis XV. gold snuffbox brought £2,000 [then about $10,000]. A tiny panel by Watteau was sold for 2,400 guineas [$12,600]. The collection also included twenty-five Birket Foster drawings—worth a small fortune themselves—a landscape by Gainsborough and a Van Goyen river scene.

STUFFED FRANKS WITH HOT POTATO SALAD DELICACY

Stuffed and broiled frankfurters served with that old favorite, hot German potato salad, make a splendid combination for the Sunday night supper or the Saturday noon before-the-game luncheon.

It takes only a minute or two to prepare the frankfurters. They are split down the center lengthwise, almost but not quite through. The cut surfaces are spread with prepared mustard, and a slice of mild cheese is placed between the two sides.

The whole frankfurter stuffed in this fashion is wrapped in a bacon slice, which is held in place by a toothpick at each end. The stuffed frankfurters are then broiled under a slow broiler until the bacon is nicely crisped and the frankfurters heated through.

Frankfurters, as you probably know, are already cooked, so that reheating them is all that is needed. The bacon should be broiled very slowly, so turn the heat in your broiling oven low, or place the stuffed frankfurters as far as possible from the heating element.

The slow cooking allows time for the frankfurters to become thoroughly heated and the cheese to be melted without danger of the bacon becoming too done.

GERMAN POTATO SALAD.

1 quart boiled potatoes, diced
¼ lb. bacon
1 medium sized onion, finely cut
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
½ cup vinegar
⅓ cup water
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cook potatoes until tender but not mushy as they will not dice nicely. Dice while hot, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and sugar which have been mixed together. Heat the water and vinegar together. Dice and fry the bacon until a golden brown, add onion, brown slightly, then add potatoes and over all pour the hot vinegar. Let this heat through until the potatoes have absorbed the vinegar and have taken on a glassy look. Add a little hot water if salad is too dry. Sprinkle with chopped chives or chopped parsley.

PUMPKIN MAKES GOOD DOUGHNUTS AND COOKIES, TOO

Pumpkin pie, well cooked and correctly seasoned, is the favorite of the autumn season, but let's not overdo it. Pumpkin also goes into cookies and doughnuts to make delicious edibles. And speaking of this versatile vegetable, have you ever eaten pumpkin waffles? If not, you've missed something.

PUMPKIN DROP COOKIES.

1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
2 eggs
1 cup sieved, cooked pumpkin
1¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup raisins
½ cup chopped nut meats
½ teaspoon vanilla

Cream the shortening, add the sugar, and cream until fluffy. Add the beaten eggs, the pumpkin, and the flour which has been sifted with the baking powder, spices, and salt. Combine with this the raisins, nut meats, and vanilla, and drop by teaspoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 15 minutes.

PUMPKIN DOUGHNUTS.

4 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1½ cups milk
½ teaspoon lemon extract
¾ cup cooked sieved pumpkin

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat the egg until light, and combine with the melted fat, milk, flavoring, and pumpkin. Mix with the dry ingredients lightly, but thoroughly. Roll on a well floured board, cut, and fry in a deep fat at 375 degrees F. The recipe makes 1½ dozen doughnuts.

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Noel Irving of the Canadian Mounted dynamites the hideout of Frank Rocco, master criminal, not knowing two women were with him. Noel is discharged, disgraced, while Rocco becomes a glorified legend. A young stranger, who calls himself Jimmy, calls on Noel and asks him to be his partner in a secret enterprise and to help him outwit an unknown gang who are pursuing him. While they are talking Jimmy is shot dead. Noel sets out to clear his name and avenge Jimmy's murder. Noel flies to Fort McMurray in a plane which was Jimmy's. He learns Jimmy's headquarters were at Manitou. Noel meets Harla De Long, a research worker for the Indian bureau, and Jimmy's sister. Noel reluctantly agrees to fly her to Manitou. Harla recognizes the plane as Jimmy's and grows suspicious of Noel. Noel fears that Harla would be endangered if he told her the truth. On the trip they are attacked and forced down by a mysterious plane. They are picked up by a river steamer bound for Manitou. On board is Raphael Flood, whose advances Harla resents, and whom Noel suspects to be the gang's leader. In Manitou Noel sees Harla go into his cabin with a gun. She takes aim at the cot where she thinks he is sleeping, but is unable to fire. Noel is forced to tell her the truth. Tah-Gomaugh brings word of an outbreak of smallpox in a remote Indian village. Noel and Harla fly there with aid. Harla tells Noel that the Indian preserve is forbidden to prospectors. Noel realizes Jimmy discovered gold on the forbidden territory and that Flood killed Jimmy to get the gold himself. Flood abducts Harla. A mounted detail arrives from Manitou. Noel has antagonized Constable Brannigan, who is put in charge. He has Noel arrested. Noel escapes and heads for Flood's camp at the gold placer. He manages to get Harla away from the cabin where she is imprisoned.

INSTALMENT XLI.

ARRANGEMENTS AGAINST DEATH.

Harla gripped his arm. "Noel! You're not going to fight that outfit? I won't let you! It'd be suicide."

He said nothing to that. Halfway between the cabin and the cliff he stopped on the trail and pointed up the steep brushy slope.

"The place that I selected for my 'pill box' is up yonder, a few steps. Let's get off this path and go up there, and then I'll give you complete instructions."

"Instructions?" Harla echoed. A hot rebellion welled up in her as she grasped Noel's plain intentions. He meant not only to stay and fight Flood's outfit but to shunt her completely aside. "Look here, Noel Irving, you're not going to cover any back trail for me!"

"This is my pill box," he remarked, stepping down between the granite blocks. "It's got more openings in it than I like, more places where lead bumble bees can come whizzing through; but it was the best I could find in a hurry, and it gives me an unobstructed sweep of that camp down there."

As Harla followed him into the granite nook she saw an odd three legged contraption squatting in the little space. In the darkness she could distinguish merely a tripod outline and a star gleam on metal.

"What's that thing, Noel?"

"What's that thing, Noel?"

"My platoon."

Puzzled, Harla bent over it. "Noel!" she gasped, bumping her head against his shoulder as she straightened up. "That's a machine gun!"

"Right. Moreover, it's an old friend of ours—the Vickers from that gray plane. I unbolted it and took it out of the ship and lugged it up here. Flood's half breed guard is lying in that avalanche debris, tied up."

Confronting him, she demanded, point blank:

"Noel, what are you planning to do here?"

"I haven't any definite plans. I've been taking things as they come on this trip, and so far they've come lucky. I do have a scheme in mind to pry Flood away from those men. If it works, it'll save bloodshed. If it doesn't work, why then"—he laid his hand on the cold Vickers—"then I'll do all the damage I can to this pack."

"If you're bound and determined on a fight," she broke out, "I'm going to be in on that. Don't forget that I can handle a gun. We'll either escape together or I'm staying here. You can take your choice."

To her ultimatum Noel paid no attention. He seemed granite hard. As though she had not spoken at all he went calmly ahead:

"The favor you can do me is to take a message in to Manitou. A message from me to Spencer."

Harla started to fling at him again that she was not going, but something in Noel's manner silenced her. His slow, grim words made her blood run cold. He was making arrangements against death.

He leaned her rifle against a windfall and motioned again at the granite rock. "Please—while I give you this message." He glanced at the camp, still dark and asleep; then at the northeastern sky, streaked with the first faint gray. "You've got to be going," he said. "I'll speak fast. There's considerable to tell."

He crouched down beside her, his hand on her arm. As Harla gazed at him her eyes dimmed with tears and she reached out unthinkingly and smoothed his hair. She wanted to plead with him to blot out everything that was past between them and get out of this valley of death with her and go away; but she knew he would never go and she kept silent.

"I'll back up to the beginning of this story," he said, "so that you'll get it straight. It starts thirteen years ago, exactly when I entered the mounted police.

"That same summer, Harla, a certain youngster came out of the Manitoba Strong-Woods, where he'd been born and raised, and went to Winnipeg and got connected with a shady mining concern there. Just when the law was reaching out to nab him he dropped from sight and was rumored dead. What really happened, he shed his name and identity and past, and vanished across the border to Minneapolis.

"After several years of crime there, he got on another hot spot. A bad one. If the law had taken him, Harla, he would have burned. But the law didn't. He got killed. In a gangster quarrel. Then, from Minneapolis, he drifted on down to Chicago——"

Harla blinked her eyes at that. "Why, Noel, you said he got killed!"

Officially, yes. To be considered dead is the day dream of every hunted criminal, and he had a genius for working that dodge. But let me go on.

"When he emerged again from obscurity, like a death's head moth from its cocoon, he was a big time criminal, a gang leader and the most tantalizing personage that the federals or mounted ever dealt with. There was no actual physical evidence that such an individual even existed, Harla.

"The explanation of his shadowiness is simple. He seldom appeared on an actual job. His men did it. And whenever the federals closed in on his outfit he escaped by double-crossing his men, leaving them holding the bag while he himself faded. Somehow or other he tapped wires on both the federals and mounted, knew their codes and plans, and so could keep several jumps ahead.

"I was called home from Shanghai to take this man. Last March I trapped him, with Spencer's help, in a cabin hangout south of Winnipeg. He had slipped out of so many squeezes, left so many of his gangs to be killed, that Herm and I went to absurd lengths to make positive that this time we had him."

It dawned on Harla, then, that Noel was speaking of Frank Rocco. She had never heard this inside story of the notorious desperado, and the account fascinated her, coming from the lips of the man who had killed him.

Noel paused a moment, as though thinking of that blizzardy March night last spring.

"For certain humane reasons," he said, "I slipped up to that cabin by myself with a bundle of short fused dynamite, and scattered Rocco's hangout all over the lake shore. With that I thought the case was ended. It never entered my mind that Rocco might not have been in that cabin when I blew it up."

SUNDAY SHOULD BE A LAZY DAY IN THE KITCHEN

Cooking Editor Lists Some Simple Menus.

"Hostessing with Sunday Suppers," a booklet of menus and recipes for light evening lunches, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents; by mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Sunday is the one day in the week when a busy woman has time for gathering up the loose ends of the past six days, for relaxing in a deep armchair with the book she's been intending to read for so long, for chatting aimlessly with family and friends, or for going for a walk or a drive. And she has time for these necessary diversions usually only if she makes it.

Sunday night suppers which can be such happy, informal, intimate occasions, also can be harassing work for the hostess. But they shouldn't be—ever. The woman is foolish who deprives herself of her own particular Sunday occupations of leisure to fuss in her kitchen, just because she has invited a few friends in for the late afternoon and evening. Far better to serve simple, easily and quickly prepared foods, or to prepare them the day or several days before, and to accept Sunday as it was intended, a day of rest.

But what can we serve on Sunday night which won't require fussing, a chorus clamors? Here are several Sunday supper menus which may offer an answer. Food which comes in cans, or which can be prepared on Saturday and reheated or served as it is on Sunday evening, predominates.

I.

Boston Baked Beans [day before]
Brown Bread [canned variety, heated]
Vegetable Salad in Gelatin Ring [day before]
Chocolate Wafers
Whole Fresh Fruit
Coffee

II.

Chicken à la King [canned] in Patty Shells [bakery]
Assorted Pickles Celery Curls
Cream Cheese Sandwiches
Sponge Cake [day before] with Whipped Cream and Dates
Coffee or Tea

III.

Grilled Bacon and Tomato Sandwiches
Stuffed Olives
Mixed Fruit Salad
Hot Gingerbread [prepared mix]
Hot Chocolate [from prepared powder]

IV.

Waffles with Butter and Honey
Grapefruit and Grape Salad
Black Walnut Cake with Maple Icing [day before]

V.

Broiled Sausages Tiny Muffins
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Crackers and Cheese

If Sunday dinner is to be eaten at home it is simple to prepare a scalloped dish for the evening's supper at the same time. This may be heated and browned just before serving time. Scalloped oysters may be carried through the preliminaries at this time, or even the night before, and stored away in the refrigerator until half an hour before Sunday suppertime. Oysters should not be packed in more than two layers in a casserole or the middle layer will be underdone after the other layers have cooked sufficiently. With scalloped oysters, a pear salad, icebox cookies and coffee will be sufficient.

Scalloped Oysters.

1 pint oysters
¼ cup oyster liquor
2 tablespoons cream
½ cup stale crums [bread]
1 cup cracker crums
½ cup melted butter
Salt, pepper.

Place a layer of oysters in a shallow, buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover with crums and half the melted butter. Repeat this process, pour liquor and cream over the dish, cover, and bake for 30 minutes at 450 degrees [hot] oven, uncovering the casserole during the last 5 minutes to brown the crums on top.

To broil bananas, brush the peeled bananas with butter, place on the broiling rack and broil for five to six minutes, keeping the bananas far enough away from the heating element so that they do not brown too quickly.

SERVE CHICKEN AND CREAM SAUCE FOR TASTE TREAT

Chicken is princely fare prepared in nearly every fashion, but when chicken breasts are served with real cream sauce, we'll skip the princes and serve it to kings.

CHICKEN WITH CREAM SAUCE.

4 pound chicken
1 carrot
1 onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup coffee cream
¾ cup sliced canned mushrooms

Simmer chicken about 2 hours until tender, in water to cover, to which carrot, onion, salt and pepper are added. Cool in the liquid, then remove the chicken and cut breasts into sections for serving, trimming neatly. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, stirring until smooth, then add ¾ cup of the strained liquid in which the chicken was cooked, and the cream. When smooth and thickened slightly, add mushrooms, then the chicken, season to taste, simmer for a few moments and serve over rice or on toast.

City Inspector Arrests Vegetable Store Owner

Charles Cameron, an inspector from the office of the city sealer, entered a vegetable store at 1845 West 47th street yesterday and asked the proprietor, David Rosenberg, 35 years old, to wait on him. Rosenberg, who was charged with giving short weight a month ago, was wary of Cameron, the latter said, and refused to serve him or allow him to inspect the scales. Cameron summoned the New City police and placed a charge of interfering with a city sealer against Rosenberg. Rosenberg was released on $50 bond and his hearing was set for Nov. 10.

Poached Clove Peaches Add Flavor to Meats

Poached clove peaches are delicious with meats, especially baked ham or ham steak. To make these place halved canned peaches in a shallow pan with their cavity side down. Into each half peach stick 3 cloves and sprinkle with brown sugar. Dot with butter. Add a little to the pan to keep them from burning and bake at 400 degrees F. for about a half-hour.

Woman Should Be Glamorous All Day Long

Unwise to Allow Efficiency to Outshine Femininity.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"Be glamorous all day long," is the advice of Nicolé, clever Frenchwoman and hatmaking genius, who also dresses some of the most glamorous American women.

"Why shouldn't a woman be glamorous at all hours, this year, anyway?"

We're getting to be a race of women whose efficiency endangers the bigger business of being alluring, thinks our adviser. What the hard headed successful business woman needs is to introduce into her day, the most important hours to her, some of the old Eve appeal that "never ruffled a lady's chance no how." There's nothing particularly exciting about an automaton except as an automaton, the last thing in the world a woman wants to be considered anyway.

And this is the glamor year if ever there was one. Even a festive flower in your coat lapel helps rub out the curse of the too-efficient appearance. Go in for veils and things you never though, of before just to introduce a note of intrigue.

Naturally you and I will laugh at the idea of punching a time clock glamorously, but believe Nicolé, or any other smart woman of the world, no girl or woman can afford to sublimate femininity if she's bent on real success in life.

Nicolé says that a man can tell at once what to expect in the way of gay, light-hearted amusement from the angle at which a girl puts on her hat. If it goes on straight with nary a concession to a light, irregular line, it's a dull evening ahead for the man, one gathers. If the hat is donned in a mood capricious or lightly flirtatious, with perhaps one eye showing, the other to be discovered, well, you've got your man on his toes, so to speak.

Following the theme to dress, it always has been a matter of curiosity why more women with leisure, yes, and those whose leisure time is limited, too, do not go in for dinner frocks on the glamorous order, the hostess gown type of thing, say.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

THE RESPONSE WAS THREE NO TRUMP.

The opener [one no trump bidder] must unqualifiedly pass, for slam is out of the question even with a maximum of five honor tricks. Partner cannot hold more than two and one-half honor tricks unless his distribution is insipid [or he would have forced].

The Response Was Two in a Suit.

A suit take-out of the opening no trump bid shows a maximum of about one honor trick, for with more the responder probably would have bid two no trump. The suit take-out therefore warns the opener that game probably is out of the question unless the opening no trump bid was in the maximum class, with about five honor tricks, or unless the opener has such strong support for the responder's suit that its long cards can almost certainly be established and used at no trump.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
1 no trump	2 hearts	Pass	3 hearts
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

As may readily be seen most of the bids were peculiar. West, it is true, had two and one-half honor tricks, but he hardly could help knowing that the opponents would not surrender easily to a low contract with the state of the score what it was. And certainly West could not stand being pushed. Of course, his bid did have the virtue of laying the groundwork for defensive bidding if North should have a hand on which he would have bid anyway. North correctly felt that his best strategy lay in the direction of defense against spades. He certainly could double three spades which was the requisite contract in that suit. South's overcall of the one no trump was virtually a flag flying bid. North should have bid two no trump on the score rather than raise hearts on a doubleton. As for East's double, certainly he had reason to feel that he could defeat three hearts after his partner had made the opening spade bid. Actual accomplishment of this, however, he found much more difficult.

West opened the spade king, dummy won with the ace, and a low spade was promptly returned to the declarer's eight spot. West won with the jack and made what was as good a return as any, namely, his low heart. If declarer had fallen into the error that would have been more or less normal to this situation, that is to say, had put up dummy's heart ace, ordinary defense would have defeated the contract. But when the low heart was played, East's problem was made too difficult for his capacity. He won with the queen and correctly returned a heart, but now when dummy, in with the ace of hearts, followed up by leading the ten of spades, East did the natural but the unsound thing. He discarded a club, seeing no reason to ruff a card that he knew his partner could win. Declarer likewise discarded a club and West took the trick with the queen. West returned a low diamond [no other return would have made any difference] and declarer won this with his king, then laid down the jack and another trump, forcing East to accept his high ten spot. After that dummy's ace of diamonds remained as entry to the cashing of the two good spade tricks.

Had East thought more deeply on the subject of ruffing a trick that his partner could win he would have seen that he was sacrificing one heart trick in order to prevent the establishment of two spades in dummy. Had he ruffed the ten of spades instead of permitting declarer to force out West's spade queen the contract inevitably would have been defeated.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: May the dummy call attention to a revoke?

Answer: Yes, if he has not intentionally seen any other hand.

It is hoped that the rooms will be ready by the end of this month.

All In-Betweens Go Through the Dawdling Stage

Mother Needs Sense of Humor at This Time.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"She gets one stocking on all right, and I think: 'This is pretty good. Susan will be on time for breakfast today.' But when I look in at her again she's sitting there with a faraway look in her eyes and the other stocking half on, half off. It's distracting! What can I do?"

"Grin and bear it!" say I, with emphasis on the grin. At least that's usually my advice to parents whose children, anywhere from 7 to 12, are going through this tormenting stage of slowness, for it is a stage and there's not much that you can do about it.

As for managing this phase—well, good nerves and the ability to keep your temper are your biggest assets in living through this period—because it will end, and until it does it must be more or less "lived through."

You can't do much about speeding up these children. About all you can do is to improve their tempo a little by dint of praise, jokes, rewards, and a little logical cause-and-effect treatment, such as giving them a reasonable time to dress in the morning and then, when all else fails, letting them to be late for school a few times and take the consequences.

That's that, for slowness. Now what other manifestations of the trying ways of the inbetweens have we time for today? Suppose we consider the use of "bad words," "swear words," and slang not heard at home.

Well, novelty in language makes a great appeal during these years. "Swear words" sound grown-up. And almost any of these expressions may be counted on to shock some one delightfully.

A good bit of strategy is to ignore the language importations or to be blandly shockproof. When a stop must be called because of real vulgarity, sit down and calmly explain your objections and the reasons for them, and give a suitable word for the same meaning. But most of this speech soon loses its novelty.

Earl of Carnarvon Jilted, Belief of His New York Friends

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The young earl of Carnarvon let the cat out of the bag today, and unwittingly revealed that his beautiful bride-to-be, Mrs. Tanis Guinness Montagu, had left him flat on the altar steps.

First off, he booked passage for England on the Europa. "The earl and valet," read the rservation. Nothing about "the earl and bride."

Secondly, he staged a whole series of totally un-British tantrums whenever questioned about the status of his delayed wedding.

Finally his bride-to-have-been barricaded herself in her suite at the St. Regis hotel and refused to come out, much less to visit the man she was to have married at the British consulate in Baltimore yesterday.

This significant sequence of events convinced Park avenue friends of the earl and the Hon. Tanis that the little scene which occurred in Baltimore Wednesday before dawn was evidence of a jilting.

The earl, his bride-to-be, and another woman, all checked in simultaneously at the Lord Baltimore hotel. At 2:53 a. m. the bride-to-be and her woman companion took a train for Manhattan. At 4 a. m. the earl took another train.

Smith Alumnae Open Regional Meeting Today

The Chicago Smith College club, under the leadership of Mrs. Edwin O. Griffenhagen, president, and Miss Ellen Holt, general chairman, will act as hostess for the fourth annual regional meeting of the Alumnae association today and tomorrow at the Blackstone hotel. President William Allan Neilson of the college is arriving early this morning and will be the guest of the Joseph L. Valentines during his stay in Chicago. Miss Jean MacLachlan, Smith college senior and president of the Student Government association, will be the house guest of Miss Elinor Griffenhagen.

In addition to the school activities scheduled for the 500 alumnae who will gather to meet the president, Dean Marjorie H. Nicolson, member of the board of trustees and of the faculty, several social meetings will be held. Mrs. Arthur Hoch will give a tea Sunday for directors of the Alumnae association, and Miss Nettie Baumann will entertain at dinner tomorrow night for those members of her class attending "Smith in Chicago."

The Oriental galleries at the Art Institute will be visited by alumnae at tea time this afternoon. Mrs. Valentine will be hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grant Laing and Mrs. L. Sherman Aldrich. Also this afternoon Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed will hold a reception for the visitors in the Shedd aquarium.

If the weather should be inclement Mrs. Reed will switch her party to the Casino, for the sidewalk in front of the aquarium is torn up and it would be difficult to enter the building in comfort if it were raining or snowing.

The repairing or renewing of sidewalks has caused the Chicago hostesses other worry, too, for Mrs. Herbert E. Bradley is giving a tea at her home in Hyde Park boulevard tomorrow for the out of town Smith alumnae and the sidewalk there is torn up. A way has been arranged for them to enter, however, for the famous African room in the residence is something that every one wants to see.

The opening meeting will be at breakfast today at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Griffenhagen will preside, Miss Holt will greet the guests and President Neilson, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and Miss MacLachlan will address the alumnae.

Seven hundred are expected to attend the dinner for President Neilson tonight at which he will speak on "Current Criticism of Higher Education."

Tomorrow there will be a luncheon at International house at the University of Chicago at which Dean Nicolson will talk about "Learned Ladies," and at 4 tomorrow afternoon there will be a tea at the College club for secondary school students and their parents.

Carole Lombard Legal Now

Second Junior League Follies Well Received

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The second edition of the Evanston Junior League Follies was revealed last night in the Glencoe school auditorium. And from the opening chorus to the finale the revue was packed with entertainment, filled with laughs, and proved that when 125 young people are determined to put on a good show they can do it.

It is a difficult feat to train and rehersе an amateur cast of that size, and Mrs. Arthur W. Rogers, chairman of the show, and her committee are to be congratulated as heartily as the Junior league members, their husbands, and their friends, both masculine and feminine, who contributed their talents to the performance.

The revue will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night at the school. The voice of Mrs. Henry H. Windsor Jr. was heard in a waltz song—she formerly sang with the Metropolitan—and a pretty sight she was last night, slim and graceful, wearing her costumes with ease and charm. Mrs. Kenneth Little came from New York, bringing her best "blues" voice with her. She was accompanied by Benny Rawlins on his accordion. Applause was heaped upon Victor Stock, former star of Northwestern's Waa-Mu shows, who was the featured dancer in a number called "Sugar Foot," which was one of the most elaborate presented. He was supported by twelve of the league's fastest tappers.

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Rogers were greeted by laughter in their Noel Coward takeoff of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, and again, as they did two years ago, Miss Ada K. Rew, Mrs. Kenneth Burns, and Louis Tilden gave their audience a side ache from merriment.

William M. McGovern, who is in charge of the political science group at Northwestern university, did a travesty on "A Radical Speaker in Union Square." Prof. McGovern proved his versatility by appearing with John Chivers, Warren Wheary, and Robert Berry in a mirth provoking skit called "If Men Played Cards as Women Do"—a skit, however, that seemed a bit rough on the ladies, for not even the most garrulous women play that way.

The final number, "Evolution of Swing," presented the musical talents of Russell MacCaughey, Jack Foley, and Mr. Stock, who impersonated Paul Whiteman, Rudy Vallee, and Cab Calloway, respectively, and danced with a full chorus after they had taken turns leading the orchestra. The canine actors who appeared with Mrs. Windsor, Mrs. Kenneth Brown, Mrs. George Fargo, and three masculine supporters added a touch of novelty to "An Opera Star's Morning."

Tilden fans were delighted to hear him in a two piano act with William Heath, and again in a skit with Frank Fay. Mrs. Robert Stockton, Miss Barbara Beal, and Mrs. John Maxwell sang a charming song about ladies of wealth, portraying, respectively, Doris Duke, Gloria Baker, and Barbara Hutton.

The choruses were peppy and smoothly trained, and the costumes were original and becoming.

Is Gable Next?

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The movie colony read two reasons—romantic and psychic—into Carole Lombard's visit to the hall of records today to legalize her professional name.

The blonde actress asked to be shorn of the "Jane Peters" that she received at birth, and the "Powell" that she acquired by her former marriage to William Powell, leaving nothing but the name she uses on the screen.

Shortly after Clark Gable and his wife separated last year rumors linked his name with that of Miss Lombard. Now their companionship is no longer a rumor.

When she entered the movies, Jane Peters took the name "Carol Lombard," without the "e"—which was added later at the behest of a numerologist, she said.

It is supposed to have supplied the necessary psychic vitamin of success, lifting her name from a damaging "4," the symbol of hard luck, to a snappy "9," which numerologists say is just the reverse.

And numerologists having figured it out, say that the name "Mrs. Carole Lombard Gable" will bring a happy total.

It comes out "2," which, they aver, is the pioneer number, perfect for building, and the permanent development of fine things.

Star's Mother Hides Broken Hand for Week

Protects Vacation Plans of Eleanor Powell.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—In order not to interfere with Eleanor Powell's plans for a plane trip to see old friends, new shows and new clothes in New York, Mrs. Blanche Powell, her mother, kept the actress from learning that the mother had broken her hand. But when Eleanor was called to the studio for added scenes for "Born to Dance," the mother revealed her secret of a week and called medical attention.

The hand was broken when mother and daughter were driving to a preview of Marlene Dietrich's recently completed all color "Garden of Allah" here. They had to swerve into a parked car to avoid being hit by another car that dashed out of a side street. Mrs. Powell was pitched against the side of the car.

Probably the first world premiere of an American movie to be scheduled overseas is that of David D. Selznick's production, "Garden of Allah," which opens the first time in Leicester Square theater, London, England, on Nov. 15. The opening is a tribute to Miss Dietrich, who is in England.

Metro studio will remake "The Last of Mrs. Cheney" [done by Norma Shearer in 1929], but this time with Myrna Loy in the star part. The Frederic Lonsdale story is being done into new film form by collaborators Monckton Hoffe and Leon Gordon.

Paramount has given a binding three year contract to Dorothy Ponedel [Pondell], the hairdresser who became the makeup woman over whose services the studio's stars raved and angled. Dot is one of Marlene Dietrich's confidants, enjoying also the close friendship of Misses Lombard, Colbert, and Swarthout, who attribute considerable of their film beauty and popularity to the Pondell knack for makeup.

Frank Lloyd, director-producer at Paramount, has opened negotiations with author Sinclair Lewis to bring the latter to Hollywood where Lewis will be assigned to "write the American 'Cavalcade.'" Lloyd directed "Cavalcade" as a pageant of British life and achievement covering the last two generations, and says "Lewis never has consented to write a screen original but I feel there is a good chance of getting him to accept an assignment like ours. In my opinion he is the only big writer who can do for America what Noel Coward did for the British in 'Cavalcade.' I shall offer him free rein with his story if he comes here."

RKO studio has bought the novel "Escadrille," by Joseph Keffel, as a dramatic and romantic world war vehicle to star Herbert Marshall. Anatole Litvak, Russian director who made the French film version of the same novel titled "Equipage," has come here to direct it and Sascha Laurence is translator with Lieutenant Commander Frank "Spic" Wead, U. S. Navy, retired, as screen adapter.

Her director, Leigh Jason, tried for hours today to induce Lily Pons to cry for a closeup scene, but the opera singer had been taught never to shed tears because they would choke her voice for singing. When this inhibition finally capitulated, Lily began crying and was still sobbing two hours later. She couldn't stop.

Adolphe Menjou bought a candid camera to keep a photographic record of his adopted son, Peter Adolphe Menjou, but Verre Teasdale, his wife, won't let papa come any nearer the nursery than the glass partitions.

Margaret Seddon and Margaret McWade, elderly character actresses who were the "pixillated sisters" in Columbia studio's "Mr. Deeds" are getting screen billing for the first time and as "Pixillated Sisters" in Paramount's "Let's Make a Million" with Eddie Horton. Miss Seddon is a spinster from Washington, D. C., who played Dick Barthelmess' mother in a silent film in 1924 and who has been around Hollywood without attracting much notice ever since. Miss McWade is the wife of Edward McWade and sister-in-law of Robert McWade, both actors, and is from Chicago. She also has been a character actress here for years.

Lange Earns an Ovation in Chicago Debut

Associate Conductor Wins First Audience.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

When Hans Lange appeared on the stage last night to make his Orchestra hall debut the audience greeted him with salvos of applause. This was due, no doubt, partly to the favorable impression he made last summer at Ravinia, partly to the willingness of the orchestra's patrons to approve on principle the decision of the association's directors to offer Mr. Lange the post of associate conductor.

But this decision was approved on something stronger than mere principle before the evening was over. It was vigorously underwritten in the enthusiasm of the tremendous ovation that followed a performance of the Beethoven Second Symphony.

This, however, is getting ahead of the story. Mr. Lange paid his predecessor a compliment by opening the program with Eric DeLamarter's arrangement of the "Dardanus" suite. He made much of the heroics of its overture, without ever letting himself or the audience forget that this is 200 year old music, and that the approach to it must be objective and restrained enough to avoid any danger of incongruity. The heroics were mock heroics, certain not to clash with the stiff and formal beauty of the music.

What must be the reasoning of a conductor who, on the night of his debut, decides to put the Beethoven Second in that all-important preintermission position? Why not indulge in the luxury of a little civic vanity this morning, and claim that Mr. Lange's choice of this gentle and glorious symphony, instead of some huge roof-raiser, was due to his belief that the audience is perfectly conversant with the subtle as well as the obvious points of fine conducting? And that it would react, consequently, just as knowingly to a careful and delicate performance of a sample symphony as it would to some grandiose opus blessed with 40 ff's and a triple f close?

Whatever the reasoning, that is exactly the way it worked out. The audience was mightily pleased with Mr. Lange's infinite care for detail, with his sensitive and distinguished phrasing, with those naïve tonal effects on which this sunniest of symphonies depends for so much of its effect. Those guileless tunes, each so amazingly simple, yet surrounded by an aura that defies analysis, the conductor approached in the simple fashion of the born classicist. Never did he try to introduce an extraneous element of drama by working overmuch on any preparation for a theme.

The storm of applause that followed the symphony's mild close was more impressive than the similar storm which would have marked the end of a rousing sixty-four bar brass and drum finale. All this enthusiasm resulted from the simple feat of projecting superlative beauty in a quiet and understanding manner.

A new Berlioz made his bow immediately after the intermission, a Berlioz who could score for two flutes, oboe, English horn, and strings! Shades of "Benvenuto" and "La Carnaval"! This "Flight into Egypt" overture, soft and benign in its use of eastern modes, has never, as far as memory and available statistics go, been played in Chicago.

It was followed by the Delius "Brigg Fair," at the climax of which Edmund Kurtz proved his poise by making the quickest recovery of a lost bow ever recorded in any official meet.

The man who took without flinching the epithet of "born classicist" a few paragraphs ago proved in the Delius that he understands very thoroughly the peculiar requirements of modern music also—understands, for instance, that a total effect or impression desired by the composer can sometimes be had by slurring the lines of the music, concealing the parts which go to make the whole, rather than seeking to emphasize them in the interest of clarity. The Delius is certainly not the best thing in the world to hang this observation on, but you know what I mean.

The evening closed with the "Tristan" prelude and "Love Death." The born classicist invalidated his new title a second time by making the agonized music as subjective as any one could wish. The violins positively shrieked Isolde's penultimate plaints.

Artur Rodzinski, internationally famous conductor, will make his first Chicago appearance at the head of the Cleveland Symphony orchestra tonight. This concert is under the auspices of the Stage Arts association, and will be given in Orchestra hall. Dr. Rodzinski's major items are the Shostakowicz Tenth Symphony and Strawinsky's "Fire Bird" Suite.

Front Views and Profiles
By June Provines

WE offer, for quick repartee, the reply of 8 year old Joan Ferguson of Evanston to a bit of foolery from her father.

Example—Mountaineers—Eyefuls.

"What are those?" she inquired, pointing to some almonds.

"Almonds. A-l-m-o-n-d-s. The 'l' is silent as in fish," replied her father.

"O, I see, as in salmon," flashed Joan.

* *

HOW a cultivated mind is impressed with the speech of the Kentucky mountaineers is indicated in some notes from the late Frederick Watson, who lectured on the Kentucky mountains after his visit to the Frontier Nursing service and Berea. The notes, sent on by his widow to the Frontier Nursing service, point out the old English words and phrases that are still in use among the people served by the Frontier Nursing service.

One sometimes hears Chaucerian plurals, "textes," "nestes," it is pointed out. "Holpen" suggests the King James Bible. "Mistress" instead of "Mrs." by an old woman who exhibited fifteen patterns of hand made quilts. A farmer-host talked of "gentling" his lambs. A little ailing boy kept urging "tell me a tale" as it grew dusk or, as one mountain woman put it very sweetly, "when the sun ball drapt behint the mountain."

He "faulted" her for "scolded" her.

"They git up afore day to git a soon start," is reminiscent of Shakespeare's "Make your soonest haste."

"That baby's plumb purty and hit's as pleasant as the flowers," and "They dug into an Indian grave and found a master pile of bones," show the use of the Chaucerian "hit" for "it."

* *

Through the Looking Glass

The other day when a taxi in which we were riding got in a brush with a big truck we headed not for a hospital, but for a beauty salon. "Lady with the jitters," said we. "What can you do for 'em?" We had no broken bones, but there was plenty of wabble in the knees, and a "boo" from a baby would have made us shed tears. You know the feeling, especially if you're feminine.

But did we ever get fixed up! And in one hour. We know where nerves can be untangled. First there was a peaceful session lying on a massage table, snugly wrapped in an electric blanket. This alone makes you feel all warm and cozy and does a great deal to banish nerve heeby-jeebies.

But after this you get massage—and that, if you ask us, is the best jitter banisher of them all. At the salon we went to massage starts with the feet, and by the time the expert masseuse gets around to working on your back you don't know the meaning of the word "nerves." It's simply marvelous to feel yourself relaxed and soothed back to peace and poise.

Following the massage you step into a milk bath, with water neither too hot nor too cool, but at that perfect temperature for relaxation. This is the frothiest, bubbliest bath you ever had in your life, and it's a perfect soother in itself. After it you have a rub down, and then, ladies, the menace of nerves is licked. A tornado couldn't disturb you.

THIS will be a busy day for the debutantes, their families and their beaux, for two teas and a dinner-dance are on the calendar. Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Leeds Mitchell are giving teas between 4 and 7 o'clock this afternoon for debutantes Anne Jay Bryant and Margaret Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. T. Philip Swift and the junior Edward F. Swifts will be joint hosts at the dancing party tonight for their debutante cousins, Miss Marie Swift and Miss Annie May Henry, at the Saddle and Cycle club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant are introducing their daughter at the Casino club where they will receive in the attractive surroundings of the fountain room.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Mitchell will receive their friends in the living room of the Mitchell apartment at 2430 Lake View avenue. The fireplace before which they will stand is to be decorated with a new and beautiful kind of rose. A neighbor to the Mitchells' Woodstock farm has been experimenting with these roses and he has grown enough in the last two months to form two large trees for the receiving line background.

Several of the season's debutantes and a few post-debs have been invited to assist at the two teas, and some of them will dash from one party to the other to do the honors at two tea tables. Miss Margot Reid, Miss Jane Swift, Miss Ethel Husband, Miss Caryl Nicolson, Miss Narcissa Thorne and her house guest, Miss Virginia de Figueras of Biarritz; and Miss Judy Butler and her house guest, Miss Margot Garrett of Washington, D. C., will assist at both parties.

In addition to these Miss Bryant will have Miss Mary Alice Bacon and Miss Frances Glore, post-debs, as well as Miss Helen Bersbach, Miss Annie May Henry, Miss Anne Winston, Miss Betty Keith, and Miss Ellen Adair Orr as assistants.

Others assisting at the Mitchell tea include Miss Madelon Search and Miss Valeria Harris, debutantes of the last season.

Bryants Will Move to Town for the Month.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant and their daughter are spending the week-end at the Churchill. On Dec. 1 they will move from Wheaton to the Churchill to stay until after the new year so that the debutante will not have the long drive in from the country and back for all of the debutante parties.

Two Sunday luncheon parties, so popular all the year around, will be given for Miss Bryant. Mrs. John H. Hamline of Lake Forest is giving one on the 15th, and the following Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William McCormick Blair are entertaining in their Lake Forest home. Miss Betty Keith will share honors as an especial guest with Miss Bryant at the latter party.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fenton are giving a luncheon this Sunday in Lake Forest for Miss Thorne and her guest. Miss de Figueras, whose mother was Miss Margot Garrett, daughter of George Garrett of Washington, D. C., is enjoying the debutante festivities in Chicago this week as the guest of Miss Judy Butler, debutante daughter of the Francis P. Butlers. Miss Garrett will make her debut at a ball at the Sulgrave club in Washington on Nov. 28 and Miss Butler will visit her at that time.

Lovely Velvet Frocks Styled for Weddings

BY RHEA SEEGER.

From a new wedding shop, a corner in a shop dedicated to all the glamor and romance of trousseau collecting, comes the winter velvet wedding. Breathtakingly lovely "romance red" velvet bridesmaid dresses are made with very full skirts, very small, slim waistlines, and puffed sleeves cleverly shaped and paneled to achieve a perky fullness about the shoulders and then to fitting snugly at the elbow.

With these flattering velvets go golden kidskin sandals, matched to a coronet arrangement of gold lackered ostrich tips for the hair, and instead of flowers each bridesmaid carries a golden fan, also made of the gold ostrich tips.

The bridal gown is a perfect foil for this flattering red tone. Yards and yards of almost chiffon-soft shimmering silver brocade are used in the gown. Long sleeves reach a slender point well down on the back of the hand. Dozens of wee buttons, covered in the brocade, fasten the back. And the train is perhaps the longest to be found and is cut in the newest square outline.

The veil is short and can be of pale blush or blue or any of the lovely new soft silk tulles. No gloves for the bridesmaids or bride in this wedding ensemble. The bride carries an ivory prayer book with a long silver ribbon marker with a gardenia or white rose fastened to either end.

One of the most distinguished of velvet gowns has been designed for the bride's mother. It is of golden amber tint, made in long clinging lines, with a cleverly designed jacket trimmed with rich brown bands of fur. This velvet and brocade wedding party outfit is exceptionally beautiful for winter weddings, the wedding gown being unforgettably lovely. The lights of dozens of cathedral candles will cause it to shimmer alluringly with every step.

Fashion photograph. . . One of the newest of short mink fur coats featured during November gives you a preview of what will be found in the collections during national fur week. The collar is simple, but warmly snug, the slight flare at the back and the long moderately puffed sleeves accent the beautifully worked dark skins. It is available in a Chicago shop.

Wife Must Aid Husband in His Business Life

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"My husband does business with a certain house. The manager of it is a woman who is married. She suggested to him one day that we get together as a foursome and do the night spots. His conversation with the woman has been all by telephone, although of frequent occurrence. I resented the idea of joining a couple of whom I know nothing. My husband is furious with me over it, insisting that my refusal has affected his business relations with the house. Do you think I was wrong? "Mrs. V."

Yes, you were not using your head as you might have. After all, you're in partnership with your man, enjoying the fruits of his success, no doubt. So, it is up to you, or to any wife, to conform to requests of the nature reported. Even if the evening had not turned out especially to your liking, it would have been worth your while pleasing your husband. Married women have a good deal of this sort of thing to do, with business conducted often today on a semi-social basis. And wives can be of inordinate assistance to their husbands in the manner in which they carry off their end of such meetings.

It's nicer to have your husband include his wife in such evening jaunts as he feels are necessary to his success than to leave her home and have him subjected, perhaps, to an outside fourth. Some wives, doing just as you have done, Mrs. V., drive their men to such emergencies. If they get themselves involved with some unscrupulous siren, whose the fault, then? Naturally, you wives will blame your men, but resentment at your lack of coöperation may commit said husbands to a folly of which they wouldn't dream otherwise.

We don't mean to insinuate that all husbands are such idiots as to become involved, but we happen to know of several cases in which the liaisons were begun because the wife would not take the trouble to adapt herself to one of those business-social events. On the other hand, we know wives whose cleverness in playing with coöperation has added appreciably to their husband's success. Some men, true, do not press their wives into the sort of thing outlined above but, when they do, we insist a wife is not playing her rôle smartly who refuses outright to join some little technique of convention which can be overridden without loss of dignity.

Miss Margaret Hallowell of Boston, who went to the Milton academy with Miss Nancy Ryerson, is visiting her this week and taking part in all of the festivities. Miss Ryerson's parents, the Edward L. Ryersons, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cable are giving a peasant costume dinner-dance at the Germania club tomorrow night for four of the season's buds, Miss Butler, Miss Orr, Miss Keith, and Miss Winston.

Another eastern visitor is arriving today to be the guest of Miss Clarice Hamill in Lake Forest. She is Miss Elizabeth Bonbright of Detroit. Miss Hamill has not arranged any parties for her because both young women are to be bridesmaids for Miss Gwendolyn Bowen when she is married to Jefferson D. Currier a week from tomorrow, and there are parties for Miss Bowen and her fiancé every day.

Marian Farwell Will Attend Eastern Debut.

Debutante Marian Farwell, daughter of the Albert D. Farwells of Lake Forest, is in New York tonight for the debut of Miss Katherine Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hewitt of Greenwich, Conn. Miss Hewitt, who is a sophomore at Smith college, will be given a dinner-dance at the New Haven Lawn club. Miss Farwell is studying at Sarah Lawrence this winter.

Dalton Jr., Andrew Cooke, and Burke Williamson, will move in the end of next week to the Philip Reeds' house in State parkway. The young men occupied the same house last winter after the Reeds moved to Boston.

The affair will be given in the Continental room of the Stevens hotel and advance reservations indicate that it will be a "sell-out."

Mrs. Harry J. Smedley is chairman of the committee that has arranged the party. The league, which was started by a small group of Chicago girls interested in the plight of underprivileged children, has as its purpose "bringing sunshine into the lives of children in Chicago hospitals, or wherever else it may be needed."

Expect Throng at Purple Ball.

The main ballroom of the Palmer house will be crowded with dancers tonight for the Northwestern University alumni are holding their Purple ball there. Since it is the eve of Northwestern's game with the University of Wisconsin there will be a decided football flavor to the atmosphere and the football used in the Minnesota game last week will be sold to the highest bidder and the proceeds given to the University Alumni foundation. This is the organization through which alumni make annual gifts to the university.

Mrs. Thomas B. Singleton and her large committee have made elaborate entertainment plans and there will be two floor shows, one at 11 o'clock and another at 1. The decorations, of course, will be purple, gold and white.

Among those who will be there are President and Mrs. Walter Dill Scott, Mrs. Charles Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Cresap, the Lester Norrises, Bishop and Mrs. George Craig Stewart, the Silas H. Strawns, the Robert Hymans, and the Theodore W. Robinsons.

Two Frocks for Juveniles

TWO JUVENILE FROCKS.

Here are two frocks for the consideration of the youngest set. Both are practical from the standpoints of wear and facility in laundering, and both flatter the silhouettes of growing girls.

The model at the left is a one piece princess model. It features buttons down the entire length of the front, a neat little shirtwaist collar and beautifully puffed sleeves. The original of this model is fashioned of plain cotton in a rich wine shade, and the collar is white. If you wish, any colorful shade may be used, peacock blue being especially pretty. Plaid gingham or woolen also is smart, and for a "best" dress the youthful wearer may delight in velveteen.

Style No. 3064 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2⅛ yards of 35 inch material, with ¼ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

The tot's dress illustrated in the second of the sketches has a French bodice and a side belt arrangement which enables the little wearer to dress herself quite easily. This frock also buttons all the way down the front, and the full shoulders are attractive. Dainty ruffling trims both the collar and the sleeves. The original of this model is fashioned of cotton percale print in bright red and navy. The trimming is plain white. Scotch plaid gingham is pretty for this frock, too.

Style No. 3357 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. Size 8 requires 1¾ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 39 inch contrasting.

Each of these patterns costs 10 cents.

Corn Husking Contest Proves to Be Radio Hit

But Reports Need Thumps on Bangboards.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

What's funnier than a Jack Benny or Fred Allen show; more exciting than a Northwestern-Minnesota football broadcast? Easy! The Illinois state corn husking contest from De Kalb county as relayed yesterday over WLS by Art Page, John Baker, and Check Stafford. The comedy came right at the outset when the starter's shotgun jammed just as the battle of the bangboards was about to start. One minute before the start a warning shot was fired. The shell stuck in the farmer's gun. Page sent out an urgent call for help. Women responded with hairpins but the shell wouldn't budge.

Champion husband callers failed to produce a single man with a spare gun. Finally a state trooper was located and his revolver shot got things going 11 minutes late. With knapsack transmitters atop their backs Baker and Stafford followed the husking champs down the row giving an ear by ear report of the race. Grandpa Theodore Tuftie, 45 years old, was reported snapping them off at an ear a second.

Your reporter, a retired husker himself, had only one complaint to make—the radio reporters failed to get the microphone close enough to relay the thumping of the streamlined ears on the aluminum bangboards. It is to be hoped that NBC when it broadcasts the national husking contest next Tuesday from Ohio will supply this omission. If radio can bring us the tap of Fred Astaire's feet why not the kiss of corn on bangboard?

Pleasant dialing all around Wednesday evening with nary a politician. "Moments You Never Forget," a new dramatic show on W-G-N, is just what its title says. Edwin C. Hill retold the suspensful story Wednesday of the shooting of Theodore Roosevelt at Milwaukee some 20 years ago. Fred Allen was in his best form with a burlesque of Eddie Cantor's practice of playing to the studio audience. And the Variety Hour on W-G-N with Alex McQueen, Harold Stokes, Sally Jo Nelson, and Norm Ruvell as a new soloist was a diverting half hour. Ruvell lately left Paul Whiteman and was making his first W-G-N appearance. He has sung with a little less restraint than on this occasion and pleased us more.

Andre Kostelanetz's music is to be recommended any time and when Nino Martini is with him, as he is now regularly on Wednesdays, it's a program to put on your "must" list.

Irritations: Gracie Allen seems to have sunk into whole programs of atrocious puns. A change of material would help her a lot. . . . We try to approach each new Ethel Barrymore play without prejudice. The simple truth, however, is that she has improved little as a radio actress in the last half dozen weeks. Her manner is artificial and she flutters on at a pace that makes understanding difficult and at times impossible. . . . Then there is that sponsor who puts on "news flashes" between regular programs at WBBM thus: "Flash, Philadelphia—1,682 housewives out of 1,683 now use Sigh or Cry, the new vegetable shortening." It gets mighty tiresome.

One of our associates reports that the serial and cereal broadcasts bore him the most. And lately he has been getting them both — on the same program!

Irene Castle McLaughlin's Pooch ball will be on the air over WMAQ at midnight tonight. Don McNeill is to interview social leaders attending the affair and Gale Page is to sing.

Beer and Milk Will Replace Punch at Sarah Lawrence Prom

Bronxville, N. Y., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—College boys who accept bids to the senior prom to be held Dec. 5 at Sarah Lawrence college will be given their choice of beverages instead of being obliged to drink "the trite punch of yesterday."

The girls of Sarah Lawrence college announced in their weekly paper, the Campus, that this year their escorts will be offered milk, a cola drink, or beer, as their tastes dictate.

In the same issue an article concluding with the admonition, "Little man, you'd better play safe and wear a bathing suit," outlined the kind of clothes Sarah Lawrence girls like on their men.

"Flower Vase" Is Favorite Block of All Quilt Makers

Flower Vase.

BY NANCY CABOT.

From the time "Flower Vase" first was pieced it was the favorite of virtually every quilt maker. When it was the custom to have fifteen or twenty quilts for a small family, as many as two or three quilts of this same pattern were found in one household. The blocks are set together on the diagonal with alternate blocks of white, and the edge is finished with half and quarter blocks and a half inch border. This quilt is used for a single bed, since it measures 95 inches square.

THE GUMPS—O, MIN!

DODGERS NAME GRIMES PILOT FOR ONE YEAR

Succeeds Stengel for Reported $9,000.

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Burleigh Grimes, former major league pitcher and more recently a minor league manager, today was given a one year contract to manage the Brooklyn Dodgers. Grimes succeeds Casey Stengel, released at the close of the season because of the Dodgers' failure to finish better than seventh.

BURLEIGH GRIMES.

Grimes, who is 43 years old, has had a stormy career in organized baseball. Starting in the minors in 1913, his first major league assignment was to the Detroit Tigers. His debut was unsuccessful and after another term in the minors he entered the National league in 1916 as a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Since then he has worked with a majority of teams in the National league, including the Dodgers.

Reported $9,000 Salary.

He was not present at Brooklyn today when the announcement of his selection was made. Negotiations were carried on with him at Mexico, Mo., Grimes' home. He will come to Brooklyn Nov. 15 for a conference with club owners. Terms of the contract were not published, but it is believed Grimes will receive approximately $9,000 a year.

"It was announced by Judge Stephen W. McKeever, president of the Brooklyn baseball club, that Burleigh Grimes has been appointed Brooklyn manager for 1937 with a one year contract by the unanimous choice of the board of directors at a meeting held on Sunday, Nov. 1."

Grimes Is a Toughie.

Although several dozen candidates including Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, Hans Lobert, Fred Lindstrom, Joe Stripp, Ray Blades, Burt Shotton, and Ray Schalk were mentioned as possible successors of Stengel, Grimes was the favorite all along.

Grimes is somewhat of a belligerent, having been ousted from twenty games by the American association umpires last year, where he finished seventh with the Louisville club.

In returning to Brooklyn, Grimes is coming back to the club with which he had his greatest success. He came to the Dodgers during the winter of 1917-'18 in a deal which sent Stengel to Pittsburgh.

Arrives Under Robinson.

Grimes was with Birmingham and Richmond before reporting to the Pirates in 1916. He was far from a success at the start, losing nineteen while winning only five games during two seasons with Pittsburgh. He found himself under Manager Wilbert Robinson in 1919, however, and became one of the game's finest spitball pitchers. He was one of the last of the active major leaguers to use a spitball.

Grimes was with Brooklyn nine years, winning 139 games while losing 112. He was at his peak in 1920, when he won 23 games, hurling the Dodgers to a pennant. In 1927 he was traded to the Giants.

He was dissatisfied with his contract in 1928 and John McGraw traded him to Pittsburgh for Vic Aldridge. He stayed there until 1930, when he was traded to Boston. After two months at Boston he was sent to St. Louis for Willie Sherdel and Fred Frankhouse.

Released by Cubs.

After playing in the 1930 and 1931 world series he was traded to Chicago for Hack Wilson and Bud Teachout. The Cubs let him go in 1934 and he was picked up by the New York Yankees, where he remained until May 15 of that year. Then he went back to Pittsburgh to complete his major league career as a player.

MINNESOTA'S 1937 SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers will open their 1937 football schedule against North Dakota State of Fargo, N. D., Sept. 25 at Memorial stadium, Frank G. McCormick, Minnesota athletic director, announced today.

Minnesota's schedule was completed for 1937 with the signing of the Bison, McCormick said. Only one open date is left on the schedule, Oct. 23, the week before the Notre Dame game. This will be kept open. The completed 1937 card:

Sept. 25—North Dakota State.
Oct. 2—Nebraska at Lincoln.
Oct. 9—Indiana.
Oct. 16—Michigan at Ann Arbor.
Oct. 30—Notre Dame.
Nov. 6—Iowa at Iowa City.
Nov. 13.—Northwestern.
Nov. 20—Wisconsin.

STRICKLAND PITS SKILL AS BOXER AGAINST MAREK

Two Ten Round Fights at Stadium Tonight.

Tonight's Card

Maurice Strickland vs. Max Marek [10], heavyweights.
Milt Aron vs. Harry Dublinsky [10], 147.
Joe Connolly vs. Al Nettlow [10], 136.
Patrick Michael Barry vs. Irving Ashkenazy [6], heavyweights.
Phil Kenneally vs. Barney Peterson [4], 150.
Andy Scrivani vs. Pete Poulos [4], 133.

A heavyweight bout between Maurice Strickland and Max Marek and a welterweight contest involving Harry Dublinsky and Milt Aron will top tonight's boxing show at Chicago Stadium.

Importance is attached to each of the ten round matches inasmuch as the victors will earn recognition as potential candidates for championship honors.

Strickland, who weighs 190 pounds and is one of the best heavyweights developed in New Zealand, will be making his American debut against Marek, 1933 Chicago Golden Gloves champion.

At the same time Max will be making his second professional appearance at the west side building. A year ago he whipped Mickey Dugan of Cleveland. He weighed 185 pounds on that occasion, about the same he will be against his 23 year old opponent of this evening.

A Return Battle.

The Aron-Dublinsky bout will be their second in less than a month. On Oct. 13 the Chicago veteran and Aron battled to a ten round draw in one of the best fights ever held at the Stadium. Both Dublinsky and his 21 year old opponent from Dubuque, Ia., are confident of victory.

Patrick Michael Barry, 235 pound redhead from Ireland, clashes with Irving Ashkenaby for six rounds. Andy Scrivani, American Olympic Golden Gloves lightweight king, will make his professional debut against Pete Poulos for four rounds. Another encounter at four rounds matches Phil Kenneally, ex-Golden Gloves and C. Y. O. title holder, with Barney Peterson.

Strickland Good Boxer.

Indications are that the Marek-Strickland engagement will be a bitter struggle, with the champion from New Zealand favored to win. The foreigner's plan is to outbox the tireless Marek. He has displayed exceptional skill during workouts and his record demonstrates that he can absorb a hard wallop.

Dublinsky is believed to be in the best spot of his ten year campaign. Victory will assure the clever Chicagoan a high position in the welterweight picture, with the probability of earning more than $25,000 within the next year. Thus far Harry has not topped the $2,500 he received for a ten round triumph over Tony Canzoneri at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, Aug. 29, 1934.

Aron has youth in his favor in addition to the confidence gained by his excellent showing against Dublinsky in their first meeting. The 1932 and 1933 Dubuque sectional Golden Gloves monarch rallied in the late rounds to grasp victory out of Dublinsky's reach after being floored in the second round.

Syracuse Braves Flop in Rochester; Disband

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Professional football, unable to survive financial difficulties in Syracuse, also has taken the count here. The Syracuse Braves, transplanted here a week ago, disbanded yesterday. Don Irving, coach of the team in both cities, left for New York, where he will play with the New York Americans.

MAREK'S FOE

Battered Irish Squad of 33 Invades Navy

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Coach Elmer Layden and a squad of thirty-three Notre Dame football players, somewhat the worse for wear, left here late this afternoon for Washington, D. C., where they will stay until shortly before Saturdays' game with Navy at Baltimore.

While none of those who saw action in the Pitt and Ohio State games, with the exception of Joe Gleason, right half back, and Jerry Clifford, left end, was unable to make the trip because of injuries, almost every man on the three team squad was suffering from bumps and bruises of one kind or another.

Gleason Has Twisted Ankle.

Gleason, shock troop half back, was held out of yesterday's practice with a twisted ankle, but the position is in capable hands, with Vic Wjocihovski, Jake Kovalcik, and Bunny McCormick all ready to operate.

Coach Layden said he plans to start the same team that opened against Pitt two weeks ago, with Wjocihovski rejoining the cast at right half after a vacation last week because of injuries.

Work Today in Washington.

The rigors of the Ohio State game and an all day rain Monday forced Layden to excuse his first two teams from practice. Since there was no time for a workout today, the squad left with only two days of drills behind it, with another one slated for tomorrow afternoon in Washington.

The game will be the tenth in the Navy-Notre Dame series, the Irish having won seven and lost two. Both defeats resulted from blocked or partially blocked punts which gave the resourceful Middies scoring chances on which they capitalized. Navy won, 7 to 0, at Baltimore in 1933, and 10 to 6 at Cleveland in 1934, Layden's first year as coach at Notre Dame.

The squad making the trip:

GOPHERS SELL SEATS OUTSIDE STADIUM FENCE

Crowd Record Is Set for Iowa Battle.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 5.—For the first time in history football fans are buying tickets outside of the stadium to get a glimpse of the homecoming game Saturday between Minnesota and Iowa. Sixty-three thousand will attend. This is a record for Minnesota. More than 3,000 of these spectators will occupy bleacher seats outside the stadium fence on the plaza in front of the athletic administration building.

While the rush for these extra tickets has inundated the box office, the Gophers are preparing for Iowa in secret. No one is admitted to practice, which is held in the fieldhouse.

Strives to Restore Normalcy.

There is no particular reason for secret practice except that the policy fits in with Coach Bernie Bierman's determination to bring his boys back to normal and convince them that football is more than a parade of the "nation's greatest players and the world's finest team."

There has been no official note of alibi by Minnesota's coaches or players over last week's 6 to 0 defeat by Northwestern. This doesn't hold for the fans or the newspaper men of the Twin Cities. The Northwestern game was to have been victory No. 22 and the alumni and fans haven't recovered from the shock of the rainy day defeat at Dyche stadium.

N. U. Just Sneaks Up.

All must admit that Minnesota had to lose some time, but this defeat had been relegated to an indefinite future date. Northwestern rather sneaked up on the Gophers, which after all is the story of any game when the favorite is beaten.

Referee Johnny Getchell, a citizen of Minneapolis, has had his troubles this week because of the penalty he called on Ed Widseth, Minnesota tackle, which gave the Wildcats the ball on the Gophers' 1 yard line. Strangely enough, the protests, at least so far, haven't caused Getchell to reverse his decision and there is no possibility of the Northwestern game being replayed.

One reason why Coach Bierman may wish to drill the boys secretly this week is to avoid further daily comment on the Northwestern game. The Gophers must concentrate on the invasion of Iowa Saturday. While it is almost beyond conception that Iowa can defeat Minnesota, it might happen if the Gophers crack wide open now that they have been proved to be human.

Four Play Full Game.

Northwestern also exploded the theory of the tremendous man power of the Gophers. Four members of the Gophers played 60 minutes. Only at two positions, full back and left half back, were more than two men used. Northwestern had two men for each job except at quarter back, where Fred Vanzo performed with the skill and power of two men.

Eleven men should be able to whip Iowa despite the constant threat of Ozzie Simmons, who has done little except supply a threat this season. And it has been indicated that the first Gopher eleven will be considerably changed from the team that started the Northwestern battle.

Gmitro May Replace Alfonse.

Rudy Gmitro may replace Julie Alfonse at right half. Larry Buhler may be the starting full back; Charles Schultz and Horace Bell, the guards; Bob Johnson may get a tackle position, and Dwight Reed may regain his place at end, which has been taken by Ray Antill most of the season.

These changes are by way of urging the former first team players to forget previous victories and remember the defeat by Northwestern.

Preparations have been completed for the customary homecoming celebrations on the campus tomorrow night. The members of the squad, however, will not be present. The boys will not receive any mass plaudits until they have fought their

Badgers Due Today Looking for an Upset

Wisconsin's football team, still seeking the major upset that Badger elevens have turned in annually for several years, will arrive in Chicago today for tomorrow's game with Northwestern's titlebound Wildcats at Dyche stadium. Coach Harry Stuhldreher will take his charges to the Deer Path inn in Lake Forest to await the contest.

The game will be the last home contest for the Purple and the final appearance in Dyche stadium of 15 players. The third year men are: Don Geyer, Steve Toth, Ollie Adelman, Will Boger, and Chet Gargas, backs; Leon Fuller, Ray Artabasy, centers; Steve Reid, Carl Devry, Les Schreiber, guards; Dewitt Gibson, Park Wray, Vange Burnett, tackles; Hi Bender and John Zitko, ends.

Fight Against Letdown.

With a conference title almost in their grasp, the Wildcats have been fighting all week to avoid a letdown. No one in the Wildcat lair underrates the Badgers who for the last two years have been one of the toughest foes on the Purple schedule.

Ed Jankowski, husky Badger full back, has recovered from injuries received in the Chicago game. Jankowski has proved highly troublesome to Northwestern. Last year he caught two passes for touchdowns. Aside from Jankowski's running, Wisconsin's chief offensive strength is a forward passing attack. Roy Bellin and Clarence Tommerson are both fine passers, while Fred Benz, end, is an excellent receiver.

BADGERS END HOME DRILL.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—A long signal drill, with special emphasis on forward pass plays, this afternoon concluded Wisconsin's home preparations for the Northwestern game. The squad will leave tomorrow at 7:45 a. m.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MORE than 63,000 tickets, an all-time record for the area between Chicago and the Pacific coast, have been sold for the Minnesota-Iowa football game at Minneapolis tomorrow. . . . Members of the Minnesota squad agree that Northwestern showed the best sportsmanship of any foe they have encountered this season. . . . The Cubs last season drew more fans both at home and abroad than in 1935, when they won the National league pennant. . . . Max Schmeling will not return to the United States until January, when he will begin an exhibition tour through the south, middle west, and Pacific coast. . . . Northwestern will open its football schedule next season against Iowa State. . . . The remainder of the teams will be the same as this year with the exception of Iowa, which will be replaced by Purdue. . . . The Wildcats will open with Pittsburgh in 1938.

Col. Jake Ruppert, whose New York Yankees won the world series after taking the American league pennant by a margin of 19½ games, is worried. . . . He is afraid they will not be able to repeat in 1937 unless strengthened in several positions. . . . Ruppert's idea of a good team is one that can win every game in a 154 game schedule. . . . Jimmy Lee, for many years secretary-treasurer of the Northeast Ohio A. A. U., has resigned his office to devote all his time as athletic director of the Cleveland A. C. . . . The American league will hold a meeting here early next week to decide whether the new owners of the St. Louis Browns are acceptable and to discuss curbing of baseball broadcasts. . . . Jack Dempsey has entered a five man team in the American Bowling congress, scheduled for New York next spring. . . . Coach Howard Jones of Southern California personally scouted the California-Washington State game last Saturday. . . . The Trojans play California tomorrow. . . . Bobby Jones won his first golf event, a special children's competition at the East Lake club, Atlanta, when 8 years old. . . . At 13 he was runnerup in the second flight of the southern amateur championship and also won the East Lake championship.

John [Choppy] Rhodes claims the distinction of making the most fumbles in any Nebraska game. . . . Playing in a blizzard against Drake in 1925, Rhodes fumbled 18 times. . . . Nebraska will play three Big Ten teams in 1937, Minnesota, Indiana, and Iowa. . . . Eddie Jankowski, Wisconsin full back, plays the violin during idle moments at his fraternity house. . . . Four other members of the Badger football squad, Paul Jensen, Neil Pohl, Len Lovshin, and Vernon Peak, all linemen, are expert piano players. . . . Apparently all the squad needs to take over a night club is a drummer. . . . Ollie Adelman, Northwestern half back, is a candidate for a Rhodes scholarship. . . . Bill Vergane of Purdue, who weighs 232 pounds and is 6 feet 5 inches tall, is believed to be the biggest end in college football.

Ten Years Ago Today—Moon Baker led Northwestern to a 22 to 0 victory over Purdue. . . . Fifty thousand watched Illinois defeat Chicago, 7 to 0. . . . Michigan defeated Wisconsin, 37 to 0.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, who haven't won a National league hocky game from the New York Americans since last season's opener, last night continued to find the Gotham lads too tough for victory purposes. They were glad enough, perhaps, to get out with the 1 to 1 overtime tabulation which prevailed at the end of 70 minutes of play in the season curtain raiser in Chicago Stadium.

The Hawks had a chance to carry on something of a precedent by winning the opener with the Americans, for they were the first to score. Bill Kendall took a pass from Louie Trudell in 9:30 of the second period and things looked rather rosy, seeing as neither team seemed to have much of an idea where the nets were located. But the Hawks were ahead only a brief period. In 14:39 of the same period Harry Oliver took a pass from Lloyd Jackson and slammed it home for the tie that prevailed until the game was over.

Crowd of 13,500 Sees Game.

The entertainment, viewed by 13,500, was spruced up a little by a fight between a couple of the biggest gents in the house, Earl Seibert of the Hawks and Allan Shields of the Americans. Both were given major penalties which started the overtime period with both sides short handed.

The Hawks were in excellent physical condition as a result of their widely publicized dumbbell liftings, Indian club swingings, bendings, and rollings, but none of these excellent training methods gave them much to worry Goalie Wolters of the Americans. A compass, perhaps, would have done more than a cord of dumbells and a hundred trapezes last night.

But the Chicago athletes were brisk, and doubtless will sharpen their sense of direction ere they meet the Americans again in the New York opener a week hence in Madison Square Garden.

Discontinue Goalie Stops.

It was made known last night that the National league has discontinued goalie stops as a scoring item. It was explained that the stops weren't significant enough to be tabulated as in past years. It has been observed, however, that paucity of stops in the past has tipped off inaccuracies of the shooters. On this basis it was just as well for the forwards that no one was keeping track of the number of times they were accurate enough to hit the men who stand in front of the goals.

There was no evidence at the opener that the Americans are uncertain about the identity of their bosses from day to day. Technically the game was played under the sponsorship of the recently ousted American club organization. The National league announced two weeks ago that it had taken over the American franchise, but President Bill Dwyer, presumably ousted as president of the Americans, succeeded in getting an injunction forbidding the Americans from playing under any auspices other than his.

Romnes Gets Trophy.

President Frank Calder of the National league, who presented the Lady Byng trophy for best sportsmanship to Doc Romnes of the Hawks before the game, was reticent about discussing details of the clash with Dwyer. He intimated he had an ace in the hole and let it go at that. The battle will take on a different aspect when the Americans and Hawks play in New York next week, for the home club in hocky takes all the receipts.

The first period was perhaps zealous enough, but utterly futile. The body checking was quite crashing, but most times it came when there was no need for body checking of such severity, there being no especial offense at the time the defense was so functioning.

The red light was flashed on for the first time in the season in the

BETTRIDGE LOST TO OHIO STATE BY INELIGIBILITY

Wedebrook May Get Post Against Chicago.

This announcement, made today by the office of Lefton R. Love, junior dean of the college of education, said Bettridge would be compelled to drop his gridiron activities because of "grave deficiencies in his classroom work."

The loss of Bettridge follows the announcement yesterday that Joe Williams, left half back, probably would not be in condition to play against Chicago here Saturday because of a shoulder injury.

Bettridge is a senior and became a regular this season after two years as understudy to Frank Boucher. He was regarded as one of the fastest half backs in the Big Ten and was a good defensive man although he neither kicked nor passed.

Indications were that Bettridge's post would go to Howard Wedebrook, big sophomore from Portsmouth, O., who has seen service at various times this season as Bettridge's replacement. There also was a chance that Frank Antenucci, senior, would be drafted for the starting position.

A light day's drill closed as the varsity was sent against a freshman squad both on offense and defense for a short dummy scrimmage.

TAKE FULL MAROON SQUAD.

Completing their preparations for the Ohio State game the Chicago Maroons tapered off yesterday with a drill on offense. The squad will leave today at 2:13 p. m. and sleep at the Deshler hotel in Columbus tonight.

Coach Shaughnessy posted a traveling squad list which included every active member of the squad, thirty-two in all. The list was as follows:

TACKLES—Antonie, Cassels, Cutter, Johnson, Sappington, Sivesind, Thompson.
GUARDS—Bosworth, Fink, Jordan, Meigs, Wright.
CENTERS—Greenebaum, Sass, Whiteside.
BACKS—Fareed, Goodstein, Hamity, Lawson, Lehnhardt, Kellogg, Mayer, Sherman, Skoning, Valors.

Polishing of play occupied most of the final session, although dummy scrimmage against freshmen using Ohio State plays concluded the afternoon. Center Sam Whiteside is doing a good job as signal caller. And this week he will be equipped with a few new signals, for plays which have not previously appeared in the Maroon repertoire.

Dr. Charles Shannon, team physician, expressed doubt about Fitzgerald's ability to start, but pronounced the other cripples, Sherman, Hamity and Petersen fit. Yesterday's first line included Antonie at tackle, with Wright and Jordan operating at guards and Petersen and Gillerlain at ends. The backs who received most attention were Lawson, Goodstein, Lehnhardt, and Fareed.

SYRACUSE DRILLS IN SNOW.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 5.—[Special.] Syracuse university's football squad concluded its home preparation for the Indiana game with a brief signal drill on a snow covered field this afternoon. A squad of 30 Orangemen left for Indiana after practice.

Abe Isseks, senior tackle who rejoined the squad today, will make the trip and is likely to see action for part of the game. All of the Syracuse squad are in good shape with the exception of Jimmy Nolan, who is definitely lost with a leg injury.

HOOSIERS TO START RESERVES.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—A second string eleven will comprise Indiana's starting lineup here Saturday when the Hoosiers meet Syracuse, Coach Bo McMillin indicated this afternoon as he drilled a squad of reserves on new plays learned this week.

In the back field were Anderson at quarter back, Norton and Cherry at half back, and Graham at full back.

Jim Sirtosky, injured lineman, reported for practice in a much improved condition and team physicians said he probably will be ready to play Saturday. Syracuse is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow afternoon and work out in the stadium. A corps of workmen yesterday afternoon scooped several tons of snow from the stadium and the field is expected to be in good condition for the tilt.

ILLINI IN BRISK DRILL.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Accelerating practice today, Bob Zuppke gave the Illini the briskest workout of the week as he strove to stiffen the defense against the attack of Jumping Joe Wiliams and his fellow Ohio State backs.

Zupke has brought Leo Stasica back from the B squad with whom he played at Purdue last week and the sophomore back shows improvement as a result of the playing experience he obtained with the varsity understudies.

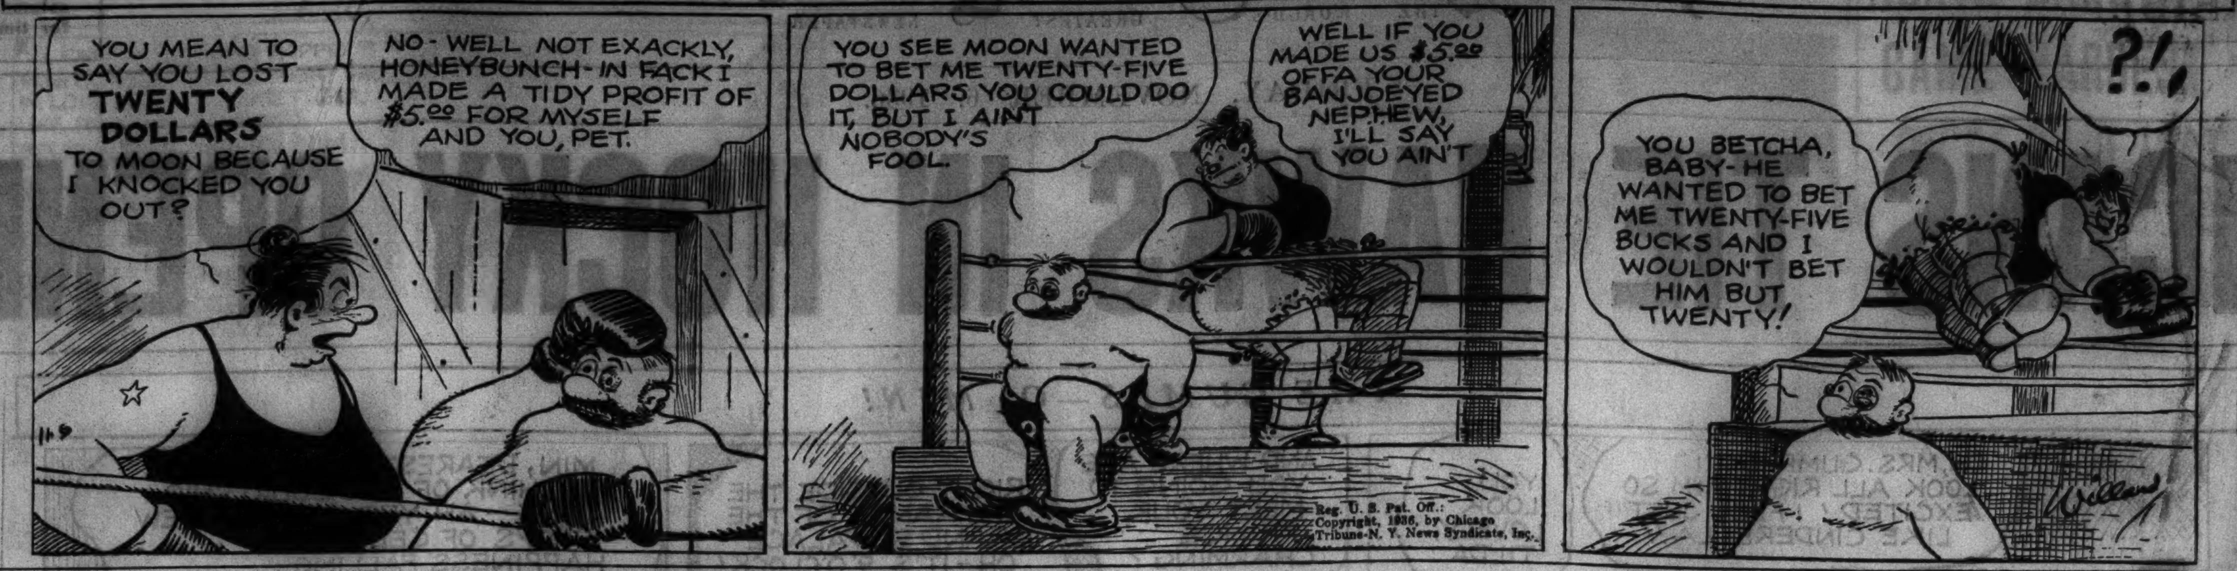
MOON MULLINS—WILLIE LEAVES AN OPENING



Michigan Off to Penn After Lengthy Drill

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Michigan's football team, which invades the east this week-end to play Pennsylvania, climaxed a week of light but long workouts with a lengthy offensive drill today and then entrained for Philadelphia.

The Wolverines, however, trying out new plays which they will use against the Quakers, failed to show the flashes of form of earlier drills, and they were rebuked mildly by Coach Harry Kipke. It was obvious that they had not learned them thoroughly.

Thirty-four players were named by Kipke to make the trip and the list did not include Alex Loiko, end and back. Loiko was left at home to make room for Norman Purucker, a back.

Accompanying the team on a special train was the 110-piece Michigan band. The Wolverines were due to arrive in the Quaker city at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Kipke indicated that at least two changes will be made in the starting lineup. Fred Ziem will replace George Marzonie, suffering from a hip injury, at right guard, and Big Jim Lincoln will start at right tackle in place of Earl Luby.

Named to make the trip were:

Ends—Patanelli, Smick, Valpey, Gedeon, Floersch, and Stabovitz.
Tackles—Siegel, Lincoln, Luby, Kramer, Greenwald, Paquette, and Forrest Jordan.
Centers—Rinaldi, Jordan, Pederson.

PURDUE TAKES CRIPPLES.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Bound for New York City, where they will tackle Fordham's undefeated eleven Saturday afternoon in an intersectional encounter, 36 members of Purdue's football squad, two of them on the inactive list, left here this afternoon on a special train.

The New York party included two crippled ends, Bill Vergane, with a cast on his knee, and Andy Botny, with a dislocated shoulder. They were taken as a reward of merit, but will have no active part in the game.

The complete squad that made the trip follows:

Tackles—Schreyer, Mihal, Krause, Woltman, Fitzgerald, Johnson.
Centers—Bell, Humphrey, Petry.
Quarter backs—Cody Isbell, Gift.
Full backs—Cecil Isbell, Ippolito, Juska.

FORDHAM CAPTAIN OUT.

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Coach Jimmy Crowley today expressed doubt as to whether he would be able to use Capt. Frank Mautte in the Fordham back field against Purdue Saturday. Trainer Jake Weber and Mautte, however, voted down Crowley. Mautte suffered a severe hip injury in the Pitt game and should rest until the Georgia game. But the Purdue game is the key to Fordham's season. If Fordham defeats Purdue, it may expect a summons to the Rose Bowl.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

HERE AND THERE.

EVER since the Santa Anita handicap of last February, indeed in former years, turf fans have been clamoring for disqualifications for rough riding. Disqualifications there have been, of course, but mainly in races with no great amount of stake money involved. The impression had been created that stewards lacked courage to take big money away from one owner and give it to another because of a jocky's rodeo piloting.

It remained for Pimlico stewards on Tuesday to dissipate that impression when they disqualified Warren Wright's Privileged in the Pimlico Futurity and gave first place to Walter M. Jeffords' Matey, which they asserted was impeded in the stretch by Jocky Eddie Arcaro on Privileged. The winner's share of the purse, $25,300, surely is important money.

The Wake, of course, did not see the race, but assumes the edict was merited. Action taken, if followed elsewhere, may curb what was becoming an era of rough riding.

Al Douglas, originally associated with the Joe Louis interests as eastern representative, has entered the promotion field with the new Douglas arena in Harlem, New York, where his first show will be held tomorrow night.

This arena is the old time Manhattan Casino, with 5,000 seating capacity, now known as Rockland Palace. It was there that Benny Leonard won the lightweight title from Freddie Welsh back in 1917.

We have received several comments from listeners to W-G-N's broadcast of the Chicago Bears-Green Bay Packers broadcast Sunday. After the game, Commentator Bob Elson took his air audience to the Bears' dressing room, where Owner George Halas and several prominent players talked through the mike. In every instance full credit was given the Packers with no excuses offered. It was a great example of sportsmanship in defeat, a defeat which conceivably could cost the national professional title.

As soon as I reached twenty-one
And my mind was more mature,
I sought some noble thing to do—
I could, I was quite sure.
As years rolled on I realized
That one must keep his health
And strive by many ways and means
To accumulate some wealth.

I found this not an easy task,
In fact it was a feat
To struggle on from day to day
To try and make ends meet.
So now I've reached a ripe old age,
How old I will not mention,
My real ambition now is just
To get an old age pension.

CRONIN TO PLAY THIRD BASE FOR BOSTON IN 1937

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Joe Cronin will play third base next season, the Red Sox manager said today, then amended—if a broken thumb heals up.

"I'm feeling great now, spry as a kid," Cronin said, disregarding talk that his Red Sox days were numbered.

With himself on third, Cronin proposes to send Bill Werber to the outfield.

The thumb broken early last season still is giving him trouble.

The trouble seems to be in the joints. A physician is giving it heat treatments and thinks it will mend.

Gophers Dominate Rivalry.

This rivalry with Iowa, while dominated by the Gophers, who have twenty-one victories to the Hawkeyes' eight, has always been considered one of the three major games on the Minnesota athletic calendar. Minnesota would rather whip Michigan than any other foe. Wisconsin probably should be rated next, but even in the years when the burly Gophers ran up such scores as 75 to 0 [1903], 67 to 0 [1916], and 48 to 12 [1934], they have looked forward to the annual battle with Iowa.

All the games haven't been scoring bees, however. Iowa frequently has come back to upset Minnesota's well laid plans. The Hawks were beaten 38 to 0 in 1927, but in the following year they edged out with a 7 to 6 victory over Minnesota.

Iowa Puts Up Great Fight.

Last year Iowa gave Minnesota its best fight, losing 13 to 6. And this still is remembered by the Gopher veterans. In that homecoming game at Iowa City the Hawks led, 6 to 0, at the half, and only in the fourth period was Minnesota able to break a tie and win by a touchdown.

Saturday's game quite likely will be played on a frozen gridiron with freezing temperatures. Tarpaulins now cover the field, which is embroidered with snow. There may be more snow before Saturday. The weather forecast predicts temperatures similar to today, when the lowest was 18 degrees over zero.

Leon Errol to Start Six Day Race on Sunday

Leon Errol, stage and screen star, will fire the starting gun in Chicago's 36th international six day bicycle race at the Stadium Sunday night at 9 o'clock. All the contestants are now in the city awaiting the race.

Tonight after the boxing matches three hundred carpenters will take over the Stadium and begin construction of the track. Pat Mulvey, in charge of the building, expects to complete the track late tomorrow so that the riders may work out before the race.

The field for the race is regarded as the strongest that has competed here in ten years. The German team of Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel, who have won nine races in a row, again are the favorites.

Emile Ignat and Emile Diot, the French team, are given the best chances of defeating the Germans, while the Italian pair of Tino Reboli and Alvaro Georgetti, is highly regarded. Torchy Peden and his brother, Doug, will form a strong Canadian team. Gerard Debaets and Bobby Thomas, the Belgian-American team, however, appear to be the best in the race.

There are two American teams entered. One is Norman Hill and Eddie Miller and the other the Chicago team of Cecil Yates and Jerry Rodman.

FOUR TEAMS ARE CLOSELY LAPPED IN ROLLER DERBY

Four teams were bunched almost in a tie for first place in the transcontinental roller Derby in the Coliseum last night as the eleven remaining teams went into the last three days of the mythical race which is being run from San Diego to Chicago. Those within a lap or two of each other are Clara Scholl and Wes Aronson, Ivy King and Billy Lyons, Millie Duello and Johnny Rosasco, and Gene Vizena and Joe Nygra.

Right behind the leaders are Hazel Love and Fuzzy Pierz and the team of Betty Lyna and Muscles Stampley. Ma Bogash, who skates with her son Bill, was ill yesterday, and Bill did most of the skating for the pair.

TOURING JEWISH SOCCER TEAM TO RETURN HERE

Arrangements were completed last night for the Maccabees, all-Jewish soccer champions from Tel-Aviv, Palestine, to appear at Sparta stadium, 22d and Kostner, Nov. 15.

This time Chicago will get to see the entire squad of world travelers in action. The Maccabee regulars will be pitted against Sparta, one of Chicago's outstanding professional teams, while the Palestine reserves will battle the Chicago Maccabees, another of the city's best pro outfits. The Palestine Maccabees all are amateurs.

The Maccabees appeared here last month and created such widespread interest that more than 20,000 fans turned out to watch them beat the Illinois All-Stars, 1 to 0, on a cold and rainy afternoon. Had weather conditions been right it is believed that twice that many would have seen them play.

This second game has been underwritten by a group of west side Bohemian and Jewish sportsmen, who will donate the profits to the fund now being raised in Palestine to send an all-Jewish team to the 1940 Olympic games. This group believes that by bringing back the Maccabees they will create additional interest in the sport.

Sparta stadium, on the west side, is in the heart of Bohemian and Jewish neighborhoods. This will be the final game of the Maccabees' tour, as the team will sail three days later for Palestine. To date, on their 6,000 mile journey, the Maccabees have won 30 games, lost 2, and tied 2.

CARDINALS SEEK FIRST VICTORY IN EAGLES BATTLE

To Show More Strength in Sunday Game.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

A week of intensive drill comes to an end at Wrigley field for the Cardinals and the Bears today, with both squads primed for a return to the victory column, the Bears after a week's absence and the Cardinals after twelve months.

Following a long workout this morning, the Bears board a train for New York, where on Sunday they carry their fight for a championship against an improved Giant eleven. The Cardinals, returning home after a disappointing road trip, are scheduled to work out lightly again tomorrow, then meet the Philadelphia Eagles at Wrigley field Sunday.

Coach George Halas will take every member of the Bear squad east with him for a three weeks' trip, which includes games against Boston and Philadelphia, before the club returns home to prepare for its Thanksgiving morning game at Detroit.

Feathers Bruised a Bit.

Only one casualty was reported by Trainer Andy Lotshaw yesterday. Beattie Feathers was severely bruised last week in the Green Bay game, which ended the Bears' string of six consecutive victories. Feathers will be ready to face the Giants.

It has been twelve long months since the Cardinals won a National league game. Seven consecutive defeats this year and a whipping at the hands of the Bears in their last start last season has stretched the Cardinals' losing streak to eight straight, one of the longest in the National league. In the Cardinal camp, however, where all men are sound of limb again, they say the end has come. By nightfall Sunday the Cardinals expect to be in the win column with triumph over the Eagles, who arrive tonight on the first leg of a western trip that takes them as far as Los Angeles.

Smuckler Is Suspended.

Their chances of accomplishing this were enhanced yesterday when it became known that Dave Smukler, the Eagles' triple threat full back who is rated next to Bronko Nagurski in the pro league, had been indefinitly suspended by Coach Lud Wray for breaking training. Smukler, star of the strong Temple team last year, did not make the trip west with the Eagles and has signed for the rest of the season with a Philadelphia sand lot team.

The Cardinals are not as bad as their won and loss record would indicate. Four of their seven defeats were due as much to their opponents' good luck as Cardinal shortcomings. The club is virtually the same that remained in the championship fight until the last game in 1935 and its individual members possess as much ability as they did twelve months ago.

Latest releases from the National league statistician show them to be leading the league in gains by passing with a total of 878 yards, 13 yards more than the Pittsburgh Pirates have made in eight games and 22 more than the Packers, who are tied for first place in the league with the Bears. The Cardinals have made 81 first downs, one more than the Bears, and are fifth in the league in this department. They have completed 54 passes, 11 less than Pittsburgh and 2 less than Green Bay.

Smith Again in Shape.

Bill Smith, their all-league end last year, who is finally rounding into shape after frequent injuries in early games, is second among the league's pass receivers with 14 passes caught for a total of 292 yards, 30 yards more than Don Hutson of Green Bay, who leads in passes caught.

Injuries and lack of a scoring punch within the 20 yard lines have been the Cardinals' chief handicaps. The injuries have been cleared up and for the first time this year Coach Milan Creighton has a squad of able bodied men at his disposal. Doug Russell, star half back, and Milford Miller, giant tackle, have been sent home for the rest of the season to undergo treatment for damaged knees. Now that they have been definitly eliminated from further participation, the remainder of the squad can settle down to a last ditch fight.

Paddy Driscoll, signed this week as backfield coach, has been working overtime with the backs. With Nichelini, Mikulak, Pangle, Vaughan, Kellogg, and Lawrence, the Cardinals have the nucleus of a good running attack. Getting it to function is Driscoll's assignment.

SMILIN' JACK—THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART

2 Pirate Field Goals in Fourth Beat Eagles, 6-0

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cut loose in the final period of a National league pro football game tonight and beat the Philadelphia Eagles, 6 to 0. The attendance was 7,891.

A pair of field goals by Niccolai, the Pirates' right tackle, brought the Pittsburgh team its sixth victory of the season and a tie with the New York Giants for first place in the eastern division of the league.

Johnny Kusko, Philadelphia full back, dropped back to punt midway in the final period and Wilbur Sortet, Pirate right end, blocked the kick and Ed Skoronski recovered on the Eagles' 36 yard line. Three plays gained only four yards, so Niccolai tried his third field goal of the game from the 41 yard line and it was good.

Don Jackson, Eagle half back, took the next kickoff on his own 8 yard line, but was brought down so hard on the 29 yard line that he fumbled. Zaninelli recovered for the Pirates. Again three plays were good for only four yards and again Niccolai kicked a field goal, this one from the Eagle 31 yard line.

Detroit Wins Opener from Toronto, 3-1

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 5.—(AP)—The world champion Detroit Red Wings opened the 1936-'37 National Hockey league season tonight by defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs. Just as they rallied to take the Stanley cup playoffs from the Leafs, the Red Wings came from behind to win 3 to 1.

Trailing from the middle of the first period, Detroit rallied to score all its three goals in the last nine minutes of the final period. It was outplayed thoroughly for two periods while young Walter [Turk] Broda, playing his first game as a major league goalie, held it scoreless.

Lake Forest Prep Eleven Meets Culver

Lake Forest academy's undefeated and untied eleven went through a long drill yesterday in preparation for its homecoming game with Culver Military academy tomorrow afternoon. The game will renew a series with Culver which began in 1899 and ended in 1923. The Indiana cadets won the last game, 13 to 12.

The Culver team this season includes several boys whose homes are in Chicago and suburbs. They are Golding, Chicago, guard; Broten, Oak Park, guard; Rutledge, Highland Park, end; Templeton, Northbrook, tackle, and the Hoopes brothers of Oak Park, who star at half back and end.

Culver will arrive tomorrow morning for the game. The team is coached by Russ Oliver, former University of Michigan star.

NORTH DAKOTA GAME HARDEST ON DE PAUL LIST

Pollard Leads Unbeaten Homecoming Foe.

De Paul university will face its hardest game of the season tomorrow at Wrigley field, when it meets undefeated North Dakota university, leader of the North Central conference.

The Demons, who will be celebrating homecoming, have met North Dakota twice before. In 1931 the Northmen overwhelmed De Paul, 41 to 6, and the following year scored a 13 to 6 triumph. Since that time De Paul's rating has improved and it should be an even contest.

North Dakota's offense is built around Fritz Pollard of Chicago, colored sophomore half back, son of the famous Brown university half back. Fritz, who was a member of the United State's championship Olympic squad last summer as a hurdler, is a triple threat back.

Every man on the De Paul squad is ready for action with the exception of Paul Mattei, full back, who suffered a fracture of the collarbone in the Western State game. Frank Jenkevicius, guard, won't see much action because of a back injury suffered last Saturday.

Tonight De Paul students are planning to hold a torchlight automobile parade. The cars will assemble on the north side campus and proceed to the loop, and then back to De Paul field.

N. U. President's Son Sued for Yacht Damages

Sumner Walter Scott, son of Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, was sued for $200 in the Municipal court yesterday for damages allegedly done by his racing yacht to the boat of a competitor in a race on Lake Michigan last June 26. The complainant is Carl Holmes, 24 years old, 710 Seward street, Evanston, who alleged that his craft was disabled when Scott's yacht crashed into it.

GILES OFFICIALLY TAKES OVER JOB WITH CINCINNATI

He expressed no surprise that Owner Phil K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs should be interested in the Reds' hard working pitcher, Paul Derringer, or in Lew Riggs, third baseman, but asserted he had entered into no negotiations with the Cubs.

Named to succeed Larry S. MacPhail, resigned, as general manager before the season closed, Giles changed his permanent residence from Rochester to Cincinnati today.

KNOCKS THE "STARCH" OUT OF WHISKERS!

Agree these Tough-Bearded Athletes—

"WILD BILL" CUMMINGS, famous racing-car driver and winner of the Indianapolis Classic. Says Bill: "Ever since I first experimented with a shaving brush, I've used Williams 'Twin-Action' Shaving Cream steadily. It's the only shaving cream that wilts my whiskers right down to the base."

WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPION Barney Ross says of Williams: "There's plenty of punch in Williams Shaving Cream. It knocks the toughness and stiffness out of my whiskers—gives me the cleanest, smoothest shave I've ever had. And I find a dash of Aqua Velva cool and refreshing after a morning shave."

BILL SHAKESPEARE, Notre Dame's great All-American halfback, says: "Williams 'Twin-Action' Cream takes every bit of 'starch' out of my beard. It leaves my whiskers so easy to cut through that I get 2 to 3 extra shaves out of every blade."

Williams "Twin-Action" Shaving Cream Softens Coarse Outer Skin—Wilts Toughest Beards

First, Williams' thick, wet lather penetrates through the oily film on your whiskers. It thoroughly drenches the "starch" out of each hair fibre, leaving it soft as silk.

Soaks Whiskers Softer

1. It soaks the "starch" out of your whiskers quicker than any other popular cream, tests show.

Jay Jay, the Favorite, Closes Fast.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—One of the tightest finishes of the meeting saw Billy Bee carry the Bomar stable colors of Detroit to victory over the 1 to 2 shot, Jay Jay, in the $3,020 Baltimore handicap featured event at Pimlico this afternoon. Billy Bee just staved off the closing rush of Jay Jay to win by a nose.

A muddy track prevailed, but it had been harrowed and worked over to the point where the course was in condition. Billy Bee returned $19.20 for $2 and finished the six furlongs in 1:13 4-5. Moose Peters was the winning rider and did an alert job to help add $2,120 to the Bomar account.

A length and a half back of Jay Jay came Walter M. Jeffords' Indomitable. Sobriety from the Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt barn was fourth.

The sequence of losing favorites came to an end in the Warrntom steeplechase when Mrs. Gladys Whitney's Rideaway was first by five lengths under the handling of Rigan McKinney. The winner was 3 to 5 in the betting and carried 150 pounds. McKinney had a comparatively easy time, waiting behind Forest Charm's pace and then coming on to have little opposition. Dundrillin was second and Daffy third.

Dantara fell and Forest Charm lost his rider. Jocky J. Eaby, rider of Dantara, suffered a broken collarbone, while F. Thorndike, the other rider, escaped with a shaking up.

TICKET SALE ON CITY PREP TITLE BATTLE OPENS

League Champions Meet Nov. 28.

Tickets for the city high school football championship game at Soldiers' field Nov. 28 were placed on sale yesterday in all Chicago public and Catholic schools and the offices of Chicago's Own Christmas benefit fund, 33 North La Salle street. The public school championship will be determined Nov. 21, while the Catholic representative will be named on Nov. 22.

Favorites to reach the Catholic league final rounds are the undefeated Fenwick and Leo elevens. Fenwick plays Catholic High of Joliet at Mills stadium, while Leo meets De Paul at Shewbridge field Sunday afternoon. Victory over Joliet will give Fenwick the west division title.

Interest in the public league competition tomorrow will center on the Schurz-Steinmetz game for the north division title at Spencer field and two contests in the central section, which will bring together Tilden Tech and Harrison at Normal park, and Englewood and Kelly at St. Rita field.

Five games are listed in the Chicago district today. Bloom will play Thornton in a South Suburban league game at Harvey, while Joliet will travel to East Aurora in a Big Seven conference contest. In the Northwest conference Lake Forest will play at Grant and Leyden will meet Warren on the latter's field.

Fenger, south section champion, will close its schedule against Harper at Gano field. Tomorrow Austin, which clinched the west division title last Saturday, will be idle, but will resume preparations Monday for the semi-finals next week.

Argo's eleven will seek its tenth victory of the season against Pullman Tech on the latter's field tomorrow. Only two teams, Bloom and McHenry, have been able to score on Argo. Argo will close its season against Kelly High of Chicago next week.

St. Patrick, which handed St. Philip its only defeat last Sunday in the west section of the Catholic league, will play St. Mel at St. Philip field, Van Buren street and Albany avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

The Suburban league championship will be at stake tomorrow afternoon when Proviso of Maywood opposes Oak Park at the latter's stadium. Both teams are undefeated, Proviso having scored five consecutive victories and Oak Park four.

Riverside, leader in the West Suburban conference with three triumphs and one tie, will meet Maine at Des Plaines tomorrow afternoon. La Grange, holder of second place, will be idle.

Patterson Bout Features Amateur Fights Tonight

Verne Patterson, one of Chicago's best amateur welterweights, will box Dennis Jones, Evanston, in a five round headliner at the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street, tonight. The show is being sponsored by the Garfield Park Eagles. Jack Fargo, Highland Park heavyweight, and Warren Humphrey, Franklin Park, clash for five rounds in the semi-final.

Sam Pian, co-manager of Barney Ross, boarded an airplane yesterday for New York, where he will appear before the boxing commission today and be informed that Izzy Jannazzo has been selected as his protégé's opponent in a welterweight championship match at Madison Square Garden Nov. 27. Also he will inform the commission that Ross will accept a second championship bout with Ceferino Garcia, who held Jannazzo to a 15 round draw Oct. 30, within four months if he whips Izzy. F. M.

Woods and Waters By Bob Becker

Waterfowl hunters and others in the middle west have been thrilled recently by the sight of flock after flock of migrating wild geese. Some of the veteran waterfowl hunters say that it has been years since they have seen so many geese in the sky. We have seen as high as five flocks of honkers over the lake at one time.

A few days ago when we were driving below Bath, Ill., on our way to Cuba Island with William Haerther of Lake Forest we saw about 500 blue and snow geese working into a cornfield less than two blocks from the concrete highway 78. We stopped the car for ten minutes and watched these beautiful birds through binoculars.

How this spectacular migration of geese has intrigued the waterfowlers is indicated in the following letter from C. H. Heinzerling of Garrett, Indiana. He writes:

"The other day we were startled when no less than six flocks of Canadian geese flew over, the smallest of the flocks having no less than 125 birds in it. Then nine flocks were counted between 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon.

"This is something we haven't seen in years. I wonder if you have any explanation to offer, or possibly some reader has a solution."

A combination of weather, increased numbers of geese this year, an earlier migration and doubtless a slight change in the migration route of the snows and blues may be factors responsible for the thrilling wild goose spectacles that have intrigued so many sportsmen this fall. Jack Miner, the distinguished conservationist, reports that the migration was just about two weeks earlier than last season.

When we were in South Dakota the wild geese began to show up earlier than usual. A severe storm along the border, wide in extent, sent them on their way.

Then came another threat of winter and down came the birds ahead of the cool wave. The weather has been such that it moved a great body of birds at one time instead of just sending a few into the flyways. Add to this situation an increase in the wild goose flocks and we believe you have the answer to the beautiful flocks of talking honkers that have been seen in the sky.

The goal judge turned on the light again in 9:30 of the second period, and this time it counted—the Hawks' first score of the season. Worters had batted out a shot by Trudell, but Louie picked up the puck and skated up to a point to his left of the cage, almost abreast of Worters' position. He then passed back to Kendall in front of the cage, and Bill shot the goal.

The Hawk advantage prevailed for five minutes and nine seconds. In 14:39 Lloyd Jackson passed from the vicinity of his left boards to Oliver, who was coming in to his right of the cage. Oliver swished the puck under Karakas to beat him by a split second as he tried to fall on the scooting rubber. The play during the remainder of the period was spirited but developed no serious threat.

The second minute of the overtime gave Hawk fans anxiety in two doses. First, Schriner appeared to have outfoxed the Hawk defense by a solo change of pace approach, straight at the cage. Schriner seemed to have an excellent chance to beat Karakas until held by Levinsky. Levinsky's wrestling maneuver averted the possible goal, but the Americans were given a penalty shot. Gallagher was sent out for the try as Levinsky joined Shields and Seibert in the penalty box. His shot was batted aside by Karakas amidst great applause.

French Riders Hold Lead in Show Jumping

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Turning in a nearly perfect performance, the French army officers held to their lead in the high score competition tonight as the representatives of seven nations continued their battle for international military jumping honors at the national horse show in Madison Square Garden.

With Capt. Piere Clave, world war veteran, setting the pace and ably abetted by Capt. Francois Durand, the tri-color officers were charged with only a half fault in taking the eight difficult obstacles to end the second of the three day competition with a low aggregate of 19½ points. Their other team of Capt. Clave and Lieut. Amador de Busnel made nine mistakes, but under the rules only the best score counted.

U. S. Pair Wins Honors.

Honors for the evening, however, went to the United States pair of Maj. John Tupper Cole and Lieut. J. O. Curtis, and the Swedish combination of Capt. Ernst Hallborg and Lieut. Herbert Sachs. Each team gave a perfect performance. As the result the United States moved into undisputed possession of second place with 23 faults, but the Swedes continued to trail, having been charged with 41 mistakes last night.

Chilean Teams Third.

The two Chilean teams slipped to third place after being tied with the United States and Great Britain for second place on the opening night. Capt. Eduardo Yanez and Lieut. Pelayo Izurieta, mounted on Chilena and Tonada, gave the best exhibition of the two South American combinations. They were charged with only one and a half faults to end the second day with an aggregate of 24½.

The British team went to pieces, their best pair piling up 15½ faults to drop to sixth place with a total of 38½.

End West Section Tests Tonight.

Featherweights and welterweights shared honors in the second night of fighting in the west section trials of the annual Catholic Youth organization boxing tournament last night at the 132d Infantry armory, 2653 Madison street. These tests will be concluded this evening.

In the featherweight division Walter Czepiel, St. Casimir's parish, and Howard Harris, Holy Family, were impressive. Czepiel defeated Al Jackson in three rounds while Haris beat Mike Cappiello, one of the sectional favorites. Both boys will be back in action tonight.

Ernest Cibira, Assumption parish, and Walter Filipowski, St. Roman's, scored brilliant welterweight victories against William Dysykiewicz and Mike Giannone, respectively, to join the ranks of title favorites. Each won a three round decision.

Forty-five contests made up last night's card. Competition tonight will be in each of the eight weight classes. A number of open division entrants, including some of the greatest boxers in the C. Y. O., will be seen in action.

STOCKS CLIMB VIGOROUSLY IN RUSH OF BUYING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 5.—Still under the influence of post-election enthusiasm the stock market bounded ahead with vigor today despite occasional cross currents caused by profit-taking. Once again the industrial averages were pushed to a new peak since 1931 as various issues scored advances running as high as 5 points. Of the 965 issues traded 146 set new peaks for the year.

Sales in the first hour ran at the full session rate of more than 5,000,000 shares as piled up orders swamped the ticker, but in subsequent trading the pace was fast only at times. However, the session was one of the busiest of the year and trading amounted to 3,619,890 shares.

Utility Group Recovers.

One of the features was a strong recovery by the utility shares, many of which managed to regain a large part of yesterday's losses. Power stocks declined fractions to around 3 points yesterday while the rest of the market was advancing, but displayed rallying tendencies today.

Consolidated Edison stepped into the spotlight with a rise in excess of 2 points. Commonwealth and Southern got back a fraction. Gains of at least a point were made by American Water Works, Brooklyn Union Gas, Columbia Gas, North American, Pacific Light, and Public Service of New Jersey.

In the opinion of observers traders who disposed of utility stocks after the reëlection of President Roosevelt bought them back again today. Many in the street believed this group had amply discounted uncertainty over possible adverse legislation or the trend toward lower rates and government competition.

Inflation Is Factor.

With inflation psychology again being advanced as a contributing factor to the rise in basic industries, metal shares again exhibited strength as many of them moved to new high territory, albeit on smaller gains. Light profit taking in the final hour damaged the price structure and Kennecott, to single out one issue, was forced to take a loss.

Business news continued to favor the constructive element, with merchandising concerns reporting large increases in sales. Another stimulating factor was the taking of favorable dividend actions by many corporations whose undistributed profits were large in order to escape the penalty tax.

Steel Issues Irregular.

Steel shares were mixed. Bethlehem advanced to a new peak in early deals, but profit taking on the bulge sent it below its previous close, and the same was true of United States Steel. So-called independent shares turned in the best performance. Inland jumped up nearly 6 points and Crucible was marked up 1¼.

With the early reports from leading carriers indicating that car loading figures will drop slightly from the mark of last week, rail issues again were backward with irregular price changes. Alleghany issues were buoyan and Union Pacific advanced 2 points.

Among chemical shares du Pont spurted 3 points, Allied Chemical 4, and Columbia Carbon 3½. In the motor sector Chrysler eased after posting a new high mark and General Motors did likewise.

Oil Stock Trade Selective.

Dealing in oil stocks took on a selective appearance with the Standards of California and Indiana each bid up more than a point. Traders took Briggs and Timken for a whirl in the motor accessory section.

Amusement shares had an exciting day. Zenith Radio climbed more than a point and Radio scored a fractional advance in an unusually busy market. Sugar shares rose on the assumption the quota system will be retained. Tobacco shares and merchants were firm.

The value of the 1,196 stock issues listed on the New York Stock exchange as of Nov. 1 was $58,507,236,527, compared with $55,105,218,329 for 1,201 issues on Oct. 1, the exchange announced. On Nov. 1 last year 1,168 issues had a market value of $43,002,018,069. Total borrowings against collateral by members of the exchange Nov. 1 were 1.67 per cent of the market value of all listed shares, compared with 1.76 per cent Oct. 1.

Wholesale Commodity Prices Higher in Week

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—A gain of 0.1 per cent in wholesale commodity prices during the week ended Oct. 31 was reported today by the bureau of labor statistics. The all-commodity index rose to 81.2 per cent of the 1926 average.

Carnegie Steel Is Expected to Boost Wages

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

An increase soon in the wages of workers of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation was believed likely in steel circles yesterday, when a statement released in Chicago and Pittsburgh by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the corporation, said negotiations for a wage adjustment were "progressing" and "it is confidently hoped that these negotiations will reach a successful conclusion."

B. F. FAIRLESS.

Favorable wage action by Carnegie-Illinois, it was said in steel circles, would likely be followed by the other companies in the industry as a whole, which now employs about 450,000. Carnegie-Illinois, the largest unit of U. S. Steel corporation, is considered the bellwether for the industry. The Jones & Laughlin Steel company of Pittsburgh earlier this week was reported to have promised its workers an increase.

Carnegie's Statement.

In its statement the Carnegie-Illinois corporation said:

"Informal discussion between officials of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation and the elected representatives of the employé groups have been going on for some months. These discussions grow out of widespread requests for an increase in the wage scale, particularly in the lower earnings brackets.

"It is confidently hoped that these negotiations will reach a successful conclusion. The chief obstacle to final consideration of the wage question has been the economic position of the steel industry, which suffered severely in the years of the depression and only recently began to emerge from conditions of low production, greatly reduced sales, and large operating deficits.

"Negotiations now under way are being held under the collective bargaining procedure introduced with the adoption of the employé representative plan several years ago."

Meet in Chicago Plants.

Representatives of the employés met yesterday with the general superintendents of the Chicago district plants of the Carnegie-Illinois corporation, including the Gary Works, the sheet and tin plate plant formerly embraced in the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, and the South works at South Chicago. Carnegie-Illinois, which is the largest unit of the United States Steel corporation, now employs about 43,000 men in the Chicago district, with about 15,000 at the Gary works, 10,000 to 11,000 at the shet and tin plate plant, and 14,500 at the South works, with the remainder at other Chicago district plants.

The men at the Chicago plants have been asking increases up to 25 per cent, but it was not believed that such a large rate of increase would be granted.

An estimate places the Carnegie-Illinois annual payroll at $150,000,000. About a half of the company's activities are centered in the Chicago district, indicating that this district's pay roll is about $75,000,000 annually. A 10 per cent increase would mean an increase of $7,500,000 in the buying power of the Chicago area steel workers of Carnegie-Illinois alone.

PAY BOOSTS GRANTED.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 5.—(AP)—A substantial increase in the business of the General Fireproofing company will result in a pay increase for 1,500 emloyés, effective Nov. 9, the company announced today. The amount of the increase will be based on the employés' rate cards, the company said, and will be determined this week. Wage negotiations have been under way for some time between the company and the employé representatives.

Mine Wages Increased.

TIMMINS, Ont., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Management of Hollinger gold mines today announced an increase of 5 cents an hour in the basic rate of wages at Hollinger, McIntyre, and Dome mines. The increase, effective Nov. 1, is estimated to add about $700,000 to the camp's pay roll. Management estimated the increase will be about $400,000 annually at Hollinger, $170,000 at McIntyre, and $130,000 at Dome.

FOREIGNERS BUY DOLLARS TO PUT IN U. S. STOCKS

Heavy purchases of American securities by foreigners involving the transfer of capital to this country yesterday caused a decline in the principal foreign currencies against the dollar.

Gold engagements reported yesterday included $1,911,000 from England, bringing the total engaged from that country since Sept. 26 to $100,500,000.

For the week ended on Wednesday gold imports at New York were $20,510,000, consisting of $16,731,000 from England, $3,099,000 from Canada, $677,000 from India and $3,000 from Guatemala. At San Francisco $566,000 came in from Australia and at New York $1,122,000 was released from earmark.

The pound sterling dropped a half cent in yesterday's foreign exchange dealings to close at $4.88 7-16. The French franc lost 0.02 of a cent to close at 4.63 cents, the lowest figure at which it has been quoted since the sharp break two weeks ago.

The Holland guilder fell 0.17 of a cent, bringing its loss for the last two days to 0.37 of a cent. The Swiss franc and the Belgian sustained moderate losses.

Act to Avoid New Federal Tax.

Directors of more than a dozen corporations representing a wide range of business and industrial lines yesterday voted to resume dividend payments to stockholders, increase present rates or distribute extra payments.

The disbursements authorized further swell the payments out of corporate profits being made to escape the stiff taxes imposed on undistributed earnings by the federal revenue act of 1936. The sharp expansion of corporation earnings generally, together with the new tax, promise to release the heaviest dividend payments to shareholders during the remainder of the year that has been seen since the peak profit years of 1928 and 1929.

It was estimated the extra dividends authorized yesterday mean distribution of more than $12,000,000 to shareholders. This is exclusive of regular disbursements and resumed payments.

Big Companies Pay More.

Among the large number of concerns whose directors yesterday voted larger payments were Socony-Vacuum Oil company, Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Holland Furnace company, and the Phillips Petroleum company.

An extra dividend of 25 cents was authorized by the directors of Socony-Vacuum. John A. Brown, president, said the payment was expressly voted to cut down the company's tax liability under the 1936 revenue act. Directors would have preferred to retain the cash represented by the payment for "capital expenditures and debt payments," he said. The payment will be distributed Dec. 15 to stockholders of record Nov. 18.

Firestone Dividend Increased.

Firestone Tire and Rubber directors voted to increase the quarterly dividend rate from 30 to 50 cents a share. The first payment at the new rate will be made Nov. 20 to stockholders of record Nov. 15. The company also authorized the regular dividend on its 6 per cent preferred stock.

The Holland Furnace company authorized a dividend of $1, the first payment in more than four years. The last payment made by the company was July 1, 1932. At the same time P. T. Cheff, vice president of the company, reported that earnings are at the best level since 1930 and

CADILLAC LINE PRESENTED

New La Salle Car Larger and Powerful

BY HAL FOUST.

The Cadillac Motor Car company this morning is presenting its 1937 line ranging from the lean La Salle, at a new low price, to the long V-16, which has a new vacuum controled booster for its hydraulic brakes. An additional member is added to the Cadillac family, a sedan on 131 inch wheelbase.

The La Salle, notwithstanding its price cut, is a bigger car with a more powerful engine. Four inches has been added to the wheelbase. The V-8 motor is rated at 125 horse power, an increase of 20 horse power and a step up in acceleration and in top speed.

The hood tapers to a narrow radiator with a latticed grille. Fenders, of course, are skirted. Headlamps are elongated cones. Running boards are separated from the fenders. Trunks are blended into the bodies.

The company reports that its sales of 1936 models were 70 per cent above its 1935 business, so there's probably more public interest in the higher priced vehicles than there was in darker years. Bearing the name Cadillac for 1937 will be four series of V-8s and a V-12 as well as the V-16. Both Fleetwood and Fisher bodies are offered.

The horse power of the Cadillacs has also been stepped up. At the same time the gross weight of the machines has been reduced, making a combination of factors for faster acceleration and for lower fuel consumption.

The employment of hypoid gears is accompanied by lower floors. Road balance, shock absorbers, and steering have been bettered.

8,000 FORD DEALERS MEET IN DETROIT FOR NEW CAR SHOWING

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Eight thousand Ford dealers from all parts of the United States and Canada will visit this city tomorrow and Saturday to meet Henry and Edsel Ford and view the 1937 V-8. The new car will be shown tomorrow morning in the state fairgrounds coliseum.

In the afternoon the dealers will visit Greenfield village for the first general dealer meeting with Henry and Edsel Ford in the 33 years of the company's existence. At this meeting they will present to Ford for his American collection the oldest windmill in the country, built by the Pilgrim fathers in 1633. The windmill came from Yarmouth, Mass.

Most of the dealers are coming to this meeting in more than 40 special trains. All hotel facilities in Detroit and Windsor, Ont., across the river, will be exhausted with the result that it will be necessary for 2,500 of the dealers to remain aboard their trains during their stay here. Special arrangements have been made by the railroads to accommodate them in the Pullman yards.

BONDS BEARING TAX EXEMPTIONS SOAR ON BUYING

U. S., State and City Issues in Demand.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

In a sudden post-election scramble for investments with tax exemption features buyers for banks and corporations, as well as individual investors, yesterday sent into the market a flood of orders which pushed the obligations of the federal government, states, and cities to sharply higher levels.

During trading hours on the New York Stock exchange leading issues of long term government bonds rose as much as 19-32 of a point and dealers reported about 5 o'clock that prices had risen from one to two thirty-seconds of a point in over the counter transactions after regular trading hours.

Governments Lead Upturn.

Although direct obligations of the federal government held the spotlight, dealers quickly realized during the morning that "governments" were leading a long procession of issues to higher levels. Practically every issue offering any kind of tax exemption feature shared in the advance.

Municipals joined the parade as the demand widened during the day. Impetus to the upturn in this class of securities was given by a report circulated by dealers in which a New York firm estimated that only about 38 million dollars worth of municipal bonds were left on dealers' shelves.

It was estimated that at the present absorption rate of about 100 million dollars worth of such bonds a month the present supply of municipals suitable for corporation and bank portfolios would be practically exhausted within less than two weeks unless some new offerings are forthcoming.

Guaranteed Issues Also Rise.

Bonds guaranteed by the United States government—Home Owners Loan corporation and Federal Farm Mortgage corporation obligations—participated in the upsurge of prices and were bought in large blocks.

Governments, both direct and indirect, are attractive to corporations because they are nontaxable for corporate income tax purposes. To individuals of means they are less attractive because for purposes of indi-

The company reported net income of $754,000 for the three months ended Sept. 30 after provision for all charges, including the federal income surtax. This compared with $551,000 in the corresponding period last year. For the first nine months profit was $696,000, against $267,000 on a comparable basis for the corresponding 1935 period.

Phillips Petroleum Payment.

Directors of Phillips Petroleum declared a "year-end unclassified dividend" of $1 a share. The company has been paying regular quarterly dividends of 25 cents and has distributed extras of an equal amount for the last three quarters.

The first common stock dividend in four years was ordered by American Steel Foundries, Inc. In addition to a common stock payment of $1, the directors also voted to pay up accumulated dividends of $17.50 on the preferred stock and to pay the regular quarterly disbursement of $1.75.

An extra payment of 25 cents and a regular quarterly dividend of the same amount was ordered by the directors of the Phelps-Dodge corporation.

Others Vote Extra Dividends.

A special dividend of $2 a share was declared by the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet company in addition to the usual quarterly of 25 cents. Both payments will be made Dec. 1 to stock of record Nov. 16.

The Timken Roller Bearing company voted to distribute an extra dividend of 75 cents and raise the regular quarterly rate from 50 to 75 cents, making a total payment of $1.50. POWER OUTPUT RISES TO ANOTHER NEW HIGH MARK

New York, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Electricity output last week reached a new peak of 2,175,810,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 9,154,000 over the preceding week, according to figures issued today by the Edison Electric institute.

The upturn was believed to be due to cold weather throughout the country and the fact that the wind-up of the Presidential campaign attracted millions of listeners to the radio.

As a result of the expansion the percentage improvement over a year ago was lifted to 14.7 per cent, contrasted with a 14.3 per cent improvement over a year ago in the preceding week.

The former peak production of 2,170,807,000 kilowatt hours was reached in the week ended Sept. 19. Last week was the seventeenth consecutive week in which production held above the 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hour figure.

FOOD, BEVERAGE, STEEL IMPORTS RISE SHARPLY

Value and Quantity Far Above Year Ago.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The department of commerce today reported large increases in September imports of foods, beverages, iron, and steel. An increase of 44 per cent in food and beverage imports during the month, compared with the same month a year ago, was disclosed. The iron and steel gain was 21.8 per cent in quantity and 39.4 per cent in value.

Food and beverage imports were listed at $64,148,000, compared with $44,397,000 in September, 1935. Cocoa beans, sugar, whisky, wheat, corn, pork, canned meats, cheese, and potatoes contributed to the upturn.

Rise 8 Per Cent in 9 Months.

For the first nine months of this year, the department said, food and beverage imports totaled $539,326,000, an increase of 8 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago.

Iron and steel imports during September amounted to 51,061 gross tons valued at $2,208,030, the department reported. This represented a quantity increase of 6 per cent and a value increase of 5.5 per cent, as compared with August of this year.

The outstanding increase, 2,556 tons, was in pig iron receipts, followed by those in "other pipe," 2,120 tons; sheets, skelp, and sawplate, 1,057 tons.

Big Gain for Year.

Iron to steel imports, excluding scrap, during the month period amounted to 390,636 tons, valued at $15,965,716, increases of 43 per cent in quantity and 35.6 per cent in value when compared with receipts in the corresponding period of last year.

In another trade report the department said reduced imports of American cotton by Japan for the year ended August 31 were offset by increased purchases in India, China, Brazil, and other "minor producing countries."

Although Japanese imports from all countries increased, the department reported, those from the United States dropped from 1,663,000 500 pound bales in the year ended Aug. 31, 1935, to 1,553,000 in the corresponding 1935-'36 period.

UNDERWRITERS' LABORATORIES CLEARS POSITION

The position of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., 207 East Ohio street, as a nonprofit service organization infield of fire prevention was clarified yesterday in an official transfer of the business to a new charter from the less definite original charter of 1901. There will be no changes in management or technical personnel and no interruption of activities, it was explained.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, which contributed to the original cost of the enterprise, directed its establishment, and has provided for its maintenance, will continue sponsorship. Capital stock is abolished.

The objectives, fully defined in a charter for the first time: "By scientific investigation, study, experiments, and tests, to determine the relation of various materials, devices, constructions, and methods to life, fire and casualty hazards, and to ascertain, define, and publish standards, classifications, and specifications for materials, devices, construction, and methods affecting such hazards, and other information tending to reduce and prevent loss of life and property from fire, crime, and casualty."

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—A 10 per cent jump in the national income next year, lifting it to $66,000,000,000, was forecast by the bureau of agricultural economics today in reporting prospects for increased demand for farm products.

The bureau said most of the prospective improvement in demand for farmers' goods would be due to domestic conditions.

POTATO FUTURES SET NEW HIGHS; MARCH AT $3.37 A 100 POUNDS

New record high prices for potato futures on the Mercantile exchange were established yesterday. The close was at gains of 2 to 5 cents, with March contracts at $3.37 per 100 pounds. Further improvement in the cash market, a forecast for snow in the northwest and north central states, and reports that Idaho shippers were holding back supplies from the market, was responsible for the advance in futures. Sales of futures totaled 34 cars.

Better futures declined ¼ to ⅜ cent on selling induced by reports of heavy production, large receipts, and a slow consumptive demand. November butter closed at 31 cents a pound. Sales were 255 cars.

Reports that stocks of eggs in cold storage were being reduced at a more rapid rate than at this period last year advanced egg futures ⅜ to ½ cent, with November closing at 27 cents a dozen. Sales were 355 cars. Prices follow:

RFC Restricts New Loans; Advances to Business Small

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Further evidence of the restricted activities of the Reconstruction Finance corporation was supplied today by a report of its disbursements since it was established Feb. 2, 1932, until Oct. 30, 1936. This showed that advances of all kinds in October aggregated $44,690,785, including about $12,000,000 to purchase securities from the PWA for resale and $4,000,000 in subscriptions to capital stock of the Federal Home Loan banks.

Advances to private business were small as compared with the vast operations during the depression. In October banks received only about $4,240,000, all to closed banks to aid in accelerating refunds to depositors; railroads received loans of $8,000,000; mortgage loan companies, $2,600,000; drainage districts, $900,000; self liquidating projects, $4,800,000; industrial and commercial businesses, $4,280,000; mining industries, $75,000.

Reports Other Operations.

The corporation disbursed about $1,000,000 for purchase of preferred stock and capital notes in October, while about $7,000,000 of such preferred stock was retired by the banks; $2,000,000 was loaned for financing agricultural products, and $100,000 was advanced to the rural electrification administration.

On the credit side the corporation reported that in October the banks had repaid about $12,000 on previous loans. In all disbursements by the RFC to banks, including closed banks, since Feb. 2, 1932, reached $1,957,583,565, but of this $1,738,694,457, or 89 per cent, has been repaid by the banks, leaving only about $220,000,000 outstanding. The report showed that the RFC has disbursed in all $918,648,107 to 2,698 closed banks through October, $802,355,696 of which has been repaid.

Disburses Nearly 9 Billions.

The report showed that since Feb. 2, 1932, a grand total of $8,978,655,795 had been disbursed in various types of loans and advances. Of this total $6,292,448,531 was disbursed for activities of the corporation other than advances to other governmental agencies and for direct relief, and of this sum, $4,241,363,713, or 67 per cent, already has been repaid.

Total authorizations by the RFC for the period since its establishment aggregated $11,336,308,910, the difference between this and the total disbursed being represented chiefly by cancellations of authorized loans by prospective borrowers who found that they did not need the money and authorizations which have not yet been disbursed.

METAL PRICES CONTINUE RISE; SET NEW HIGHS

Metal prices again bounded upward yesterday, continuing the forward movement which has been under way for some time. Prices of copper and lead for export advanced to new post-depression highs and tin also advanced sharply.

At New York export copper yesterday brought 10.70 to 10.75 cents a pound, the highest prices since March 31, compared with 10.60 to 10.725 cents a pound on the preceding day, and in London it was quoted at the equivalent of 10.76 cents a pound.

The price of lead was advanced by two producers $2 a ton, which brought that metal to the highest point since December, 1931. This was the fourth increase in less than two weeks, bringing the New York price to 5 cents a pound.

Straits pig tin was quoted in New York yesterday at 48.25 cents a pound, a new high and up 2⅛ to 2⅜ cents over the Monday price. The New York market was in chaotic condition as the result of cabled reports that the Siamese government had reached an agreement with the international tin committee on a plan for the curtailment of production and export.

The grain exchange is expected to take formal action on the matter in a day or two.

CLEVELAND BANK WILL REDEEM ALL PREFERRED

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The National City Bank of Cleveland has called a special meeting of stockholders for Nov. 16 to authorize an increase in the company's common stock. Proceeds will be used to retire the balance of its preferred stock issued in 1933. Originally $4,000,000 of preferred shares were purchased by the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Under the plan approved by the directors, stockholders will be asked to approve an increase in the common stock from 235,000 shares of $20 par value to 375,000 shares of the same par value. The additional shares will be offered to stockholders of record at the close of business Nov. 12 in the ratio of six shares of new stock for each ten shares of stock now held, at $30 a share.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today in connection with its study of investment trusts and investment companies that public hearings would be held during next week, beginning Monday, on Lehman corporation, General American Investors company, Inc., and Prudential Investors, all of New York.

Yellow Truck-Coach Plan Approved by Stockholders

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing company, Pontiac, Mich., have approved a recapitalization plan and sale of 900,000 additional shares of class B stock, it was announced today at the offices of the General Motors corporation, which controls the truck unit.

U. S. GOLD HOLDINGS INCREASE; EQUAL HALF OF WORLD'S SUPPLIES

The gold supply of the United States, which has been increasing to new peak figures for several months, last week was further augmented to the extent of $27,000,000 as the result of importations, according to the statement of the federal reserve board.

The additional gold lifted the total supply to $11,058,000,000, a record figure for any country at any time and aproximately half the world's total supply of monetary gold.

Last week's increase in gold failed to bring corresponding expansion in bank reserves, as has been the case in the past. Total reserves of the member banks of the federal reserve system fell 39 million dollars. Surplus reserves, representing the excess over legal requirements, were down 20 millions from the preceding week's total.

Commercial loans of the New York and Chicago banks declined. The Chicago banks reported a decrease of $2,000,000. The outstanding commercial loans of the New York banks were $11,000,000 below the preceding week's total.

TEXAS TURKEY PRICES SKID; SUPPLY LARGER

Brady, Tex., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Turkey prices skidded off the high level of last year as the Thanksgiving market opened today with an abundance of choice, well finished birds in sight.

The best bid was 12 cents a pound wholesale for No. 1 birds. The market reacted swiftly to reports from all over the southwest that flocks were 25 to 50 per cent larger than in 1935, when drouth conditions checked production. This year's price was about 2 cents lower.

Sellers were few on the opening, most of the growers holding back in anticipation of a price increase, but dealers gave growers little hope for advancing quotations.

Brownwood dealers expect to ship between 60 and 65 carloads of dressed turkeys during the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets. This would amount to around 100,000 birds, considerably more than last year.

Chesapeake & Ohio Stock Increase Plan Approved

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway voted approval today of the proposal to amend the company's charter to authorize the issuance of new limited preference stock. Under the proposal the new stock will be limited to an aggregate amount which shall not exceed 40 per cent of the company's outstanding stock and surplus, including the preference stock so issued.

EARNING POWER OF INDUSTRIES RISES SHARPLY

275 Concerns Show Gain of 55.8% Over Year Ago.

New York, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Earning power of the nation's industries jumped sharply in the third quarter, with heavy industry setting the pace.

The first 275 companies reporting net income for the period gained 55.8 per cent over the same period last year, a compilation by the Associated Press today shows. Total income was $308,569,971, against $197,964,647.

The extent of the improvement recorded in recent years of recovery was indicated by the fact that only 16 corporations were "in the red" for the first nine months. A few years ago between 15 and 20 per cent of the total turned in deficits.

Heavy Industries Improve.

Heavy industry—making goods used by other manufacturers—chalked up the widest gains. Analysts point out, however, that the big percentage improvement in this group was partly due to many companies reporting losses a year ago and substantial profits in their latest statements.

Heavy industrial machinery, steel and railroad equipment makers' net income rocketed 909, 469 and 285 per cent, respectively, to lead the recovery parade.

Other important gainers included building supply, automobile accessory and electric equipment manufacturers. Coal mines cut losses, while the net of liquor firms dipped slightly from 1935.

Gains Shown by Divisions.

HOGS RECOVER EARLY LOSS ON PACKERS' BIDS

The trend of the hog market was reversed abruptly yesterday as a fight for volume developed between smaller interests and big local packers after a weak to 10 cents lower opening. Early losses were quickly recovered and the closing sales to all buyers were fully steady to strong with Wednesday's average.

The extreme top was $9.65, but sizable orders went over unfilled. The average for the season remained unchanged at $9.50, being only 15 cents under the extreme top, which was the narrowest spread between these two prices since Feb. 10. Only once on record did the spread narrow down to 5 cents, although it has frequently been 10 cents.

Most classes of cattle sold readily at the recent sharp price gains, top sales at $12 for 955 to 1,003 pound steers equaling the eight month highs established Wednesday. Some plain quality steers were slow but fully steady. Calves, however, slumped 25 cents.

Maritime Strike Causes Two More Rail Embargoes

Two more embargoes were announced yesterday by the embargo bureau of the Association of American Railroads against shipments to ports affected by the maritime strike. The Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad announced an embargo on all shipments via steamship lines through any Pacific coast port, and the Burlington-Rock Island announced an embargo for all freight movement via the Luckenbach and Gulf Steamship lines.

CHICAGO CORP. SHARES LEAD IN TRADING HERE

13 Issues Set New High Marks for Year.

Chicago corporation shares led trading yesterday in the Chicago stock list which advanced sharply. The Chicago investment trust shares advanced ⅝ on a turnover of 20,550 shares. La Salle street attributed the strength in this issue to the possibility that the directors may declare the full arrearage of $5.50 a share plus the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the preferred issue to escape the provisions of the federal tax on undistributed profits.

Such an action by the directors, it was said, would strengthen the position of the common stock. Another factor was said to be the general upturn in the stock market which has enhanced the value of shares in the trust's portfolio. The preferred reached a new high of 54, a gain of 2¼.

13 New Peaks Recorded.

In the broad upturn, thirteen new 1936 peaks were recorded. Among these were Bliss and Laughlin, which closed at 33⅜, up 1¼; Bastian Blessing, 17¼, up ⅝; Borg Warner, 87, up 3½, Dayton Rubber, 18½, up 1¼; Alfred Decker and Cohn, preferred, 90, up 5; Sangamo Electric, 69¼, up 2; Schwitzer Cummins, 26½, up 2¼, and Zenith Radio, 40⅝, up 1⅛.

Marshall Field touched a new high mark of 21⅞, but fell back to close at 21⅝, a decline of ⅛. Zenith, which has been one of the stellar performers this year, was considerably more active than it has been in recent weeks.

Utility Issues Active.

After Chicago corporation the most active issue on the list was Central and South West Utilities which gained ⅝ to close at 3¼ on a turnover of 17,660 shares. Middle West continued active, advancing ⅝ to close at 13 on a turnover of 7,200 shares. General Household and Butler Brothers were also active, the former gaining a fraction and the latter closing unchanged.

The losses which the utilities registered on Wednesday, apparently through fear of what might happen to them as a result of the Roosevelt victory, were largely recovered yesterday, with most shares in this division showing net gains on the day.

SPIEGEL, M'CRORY REPORT SHARPLY INCREASED SALES

Sharply increased sales for October were reported yesterday by Spiegel, May Stern Co., Inc., and the McCrory Stores corporation. Spiegel, May, Stern, Chicago mail order house, reported that for the second month in its history sales were the largest for any month in its history, exceeding the September, 1936, volume by $1,562,367.

October sales totaled $6,146,747, an increase of 39.10 per cent over the $4,418,880 sales reported for October, 1935, and more than twice the predepression peak of $2,694,715 in October, 1929.

This was the forty-fifth consecutive month in which sales showed an increase over the same month of the preceding year.

Sales for the first ten months of this year were $34,135,595, compared with $26,569,113 for the same period of 1935—an increase of 28.47 per cent.

The McCrory company reported that its sales for October were $3,510,853, compared with $3,183,492 in October, 1935, an increase of 10.3 per cent. For the ten months ended Oct. 31 sales totaled $30,311,564, compared with $27,898,695 for the like 1935 period—a gain of 8.6 per cent.

NEW WILLYS CAR TO BE LARGER AT LOW PRICES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Toledo, O., Nov. 5.—David R. Wilson, president of the newly reorganized Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., told a meeting of Ohio and Indiana dealers here today that the factory will soon be in mass production of a 1937 Willys to sell $50 to $100 below the second lowest car on the market.

The new models, of daring style, are of standard tread with bodies six inches longer and four inches wider than the undersized predecessor. The radiator front is globular, of body metal with chromed horizontal slots, some of them extending around the sides of the hood to form louvres. Headlamps grow out of large fenders.

LARD HIGHER ON GENERAL COMMISSION HOUSE BUYING

General commission house buying of lard futures developed yesterday in sympathy with the strength in grains and a sharp upturn in lard prices in Liverpool. Hedging sales checked the upturn with the close 5 to 10 cents higher. Demand for cash lard was reported slow. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged.

Cash lard was quoted at $11.72½; loose, $11.15; leaf, $10.75, and clear bellies at $15 per 100 pounds. Prices follow:

CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE FIGHTS CRANE DELISTING

Testifies Move Would Be Injurious to Public.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Hearings on the application of Crane company for delisting of its stock on the Chicago Stock exchange were concluded today before the Securities and Exchange commission with exchange officials asserting such action would be injurious to the public.

A decision in the case is expected within six weeks. The financial community, which has held the opinion that the SEC cannot lawfully deny such a plea, will be awaiting the outcome. Several cases of a similar nature have been heard in the past, but in each the SEC always granted the application and slid out of testing the hazy wording of the statute.

Would Concentrate in East.

The application of Crane company asked to withdraw 145,889 shares of its 7 per cent cumulative preferred shares having a par value of $100 and 2,348,628 of its common stock with a par of $25 a share from listing and registration on the Chicago exchange. The concern proposed to concentrate its sales activities on the New York Stock exchange. The Chicago exchange entered the case to oppose the application.

Appearing on the witness stand today, Jess Halsted, secretary of the Chicago exchange, told the SEC that customers would be put at a disadvantage if the Crane plea were granted. Halsted asserted that a customer putting in an order for 50 shares of Crane stock on the Chicago exchange would save $6.25, because to a similar order on the New York board would be tacked a charge of ⅛ point, a levy on any orders for less than the 100 round lot.

In addition, Halsted pointed out that the state of New York imposes a transfer tax, which would amount to 4 cents a share on Crane stock, and that Illinois has no such tax.

Chicago Is Active Market.

Under the questioning of Abner Goldstone, SEC counsel, Halsted and J. W. Townsend, attorney for the Chicago exchange, asserted that the exchange had provided a market for the company and had aided materially in its growth. Figures were produced dating back to 1921 to show that Chicago had been the active market for the stock. Halsted refused to admit that Chicago was a secondary market and the New York Stock exchange the primary market for Crane stock.

Figures on the history of trading in Crane stock were coupled with the admission of E. M. Ashcraft Jr., Crane counsel, that more Crane shares were held in Illinois than in any other state.

In order to clarify the moot point as to which exchange provided the better market, Attorney Goldstone requested Townsend to furnish the closing bid and asked quotations in the securities from Sept. 1 to Nov. 5 on the Chicago exchange. It is generally believed that the narrower the spread between bid and asked prices the better the market.

$21,500,000 CITY LOAN PROPOSED FOR JUDGMENTS

Controler Says Proposal Would Cut Interest.

City Controler Robert B. Upham proposed yesterday to the city council finance committee that it authorize two funding bond issues, totaling $21,500,000, for the retirement of judgments and judgment interest outstanding against the city. These judgments include those for condemnations, special assessments, personal injuries, and other items.

Under Upham's plan, one bond issue, for $13,000,000, would be used to clear up judgments obtained prior to March 31, 1931, under previous administrations, and the second issue, $8,500,000, would be used for judgments since then. The bonds would bear 3 per cent interest. The judgments bear 5 per cent interest.

Would Save Interest.

The funding bonds, Upham said, would be callable after eight years and would save the city a large amount of money in interest. At present the city has a judgment tax levy of $1,200,00 0a year, which can be abated if the bonds are issued.

Upham said he believed the council could approve the issues without legislative action. A question may arise, he said, as to whether the city would exceed its bonding power on the second issue for $8,500,000. A test case will probably be sought, he said, to obtain a decision on the legality of this issue, if it is approved.

Judgments by Classes.

Special assessments	$ 7,800,000
General judgments	9,200,000
Special assessment interest	2,000,000
General judgment interest	2,500,000
Total	$21,500,000

Falstaff Brewing.

Investors' Guide: Please send me detailed information concerning the stock of Falstaff Brewing corporation. Thank you.—S. D.

Answer: Falstaff Brewing corporation was formed in 1933 to acquire the business of a company of similar name. It markets four brands of beer under the Falstaff name, selling to 4,300 customers in 21 states, including some 250 wholesalers and jobbers. The main plant almost covers a city block in St. Louis.

A subsidiary formed in November, 1935, to acquire the plant of the Fred Krug Brewery company of Omaha, Neb., was merged with the parent company by a vote of stockholders on Oct. 14, 1936.

The consolidated corporation is to have outstanding capitalization of $300,000 short term first mortgage bonds, 113,965 shares of $1 par 6 per cent preferred stock, and 450,000 common shares. Previously the parent company had $140,000 funded debt and 450,000 common shares. Good will is to be written down from $2,175,000 to $1. The new preferred is convertible into common until 1942.

For the first ten months of operations ended Dec. 31, 1933, net sales were $1,781,800 and net income was $236,000, or 52 cents a share. Net income was $171,000, or 38 cents a share, in 1934, and $343,000, or 76 cents a share, in 1935. Sales were $2,444,000 in 1934 and $3,712,000 in 1935.

Net sales were $2,212,000 and net income was $289,000, or 64 cents a share, in the first six months of 1936, compared with $1,496,000 and $82,000, or 18 cents a share, in the corresponding period of 1935.

Pennsylvania Railroad.

Investors' Guide: Would you please give me particulars of the Pennsylvania Railroad general mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds?—B. C.

Answer: Bonds of the Pennsylvania railroad are accorded a high investment rating. The general mortgage 3¾s of 1970, of which $60,000,000 are outstanding, are rated as sound. They were sold during 1936 to replace higher interest rate bonds and to provide funds for capital expenditures.

The Pennsylvania has operated at a profit in each of the last six years, an unusual record among the railroads. Fixed charges were covered 1.29 times in 1935, 1.23 times in 1934, and 1.23 times in 1933. Interest on funded debt was earned 1.79 times in 1935, 1.66 times in 1934, and 1.68 times in 1933.

BONDS BEARING TAX EXEMPTIONS SOAR ON BUYING

Federal, State and City Issues in Demand.

Corporate bonds followed the tax exempts toward higher levels, with the speculative railroad issues again returning to favor. Issues of the Milwaukee, Santa Fe, Lehigh Valley, New York Central, and Northern Pacific railroads made sharp gains. Imminence of publication of October earnings statements was reported to be a factor in the heavy demand for railroad liens.

Utility Bonds Turn Upward.

Utility bonds, which turned lower on Wednesday following the New Deal victory in the election, turned upward today and this strength encouraged broadened buying of industrial issues, particularly those with provisions enabling holders to convert them into common stock. Steel company issues were in demand, Republic 4½s and Youngstown 3½s joining in the advance. Foreign government issues were fairly steady, Japan 6s making the best showing with a gain of nearly half a point.

In addition to the scramble for tax exemption buyers for corporations and banks were making up for the period just before the election during which they had kept out of the market.

With the election over institutional buyers apparently suddenly realized that they had to get into the market and they converged on it with their accumulated orders.

Volume of Trading Expands.

Total transactions in all types of bonds traded on the New York Stock exchange yesterday expanded to $18,161,500, the heaviest volume for the full five hour session since Oct. 9. This compared with the turnover of $14,984,400 on Wednesday.

Part of increase in the volume of transactions of both stocks and bonds in New York represented foreign funds, particularly British, that were being poured into American markets.

SANITARY BOARD BOND REFUNDING TO BEGIN JAN. 1

First retirement of bonds of the Chicago sanitary district under the district's $140,000,000 refunding operation will be effected on Jan. 1 when $6,623,000 will be applied to that purpose, Ross A. Woodhull, president, announced yesterday.

All the 5, 4½, and 4¼ per cent bonds which are due for retirement on that date or on any interest date thereafter will be retired, Woodhull said. The remaining bonds to be retired, totaling about $2,000,000, will be 4 per cent bonds. Since all the 4 per cent bonds due optionally on that date cannot be retired, the proper number will be drawn by lot, Woodhull said, in the district's office at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Under the refunding ordinance all optionally due bonds bearing higher interest rates must be retired before the bonds bearing lower interest rates can be redeemed.

New England Power Issue Awarded to Lehman Group

A group headed by Lehman Brothers yesterday was awarded $10,067,000 of 3¼ per cent first mortgage bonds of the New England Power company on a bid of 102.5009. The bonds, dated Nov. 5 and due in 1961, will be offered sometime next week at 103.50.

COTTON ADVANCES EARLY, BUT MEETS PROFIT TAKING

Aggressive buying yesterday of December cotton futures, credited to mills, and much broader general speculative interest in the market, advanced prices in American markets nearly 50 cents a bale in the early trading. Profit taking developed later. December contracts closed at the highest level of the day, while the distant futures were easier, especially the October, 1937, contract.

Closing sales of cotton futures in Chicago were 3 points higher to 3 points lower. Price changes in other markets ranged from 9 points higher to 8 points lower. [A point equals 1-100 cent a pound or 5 cents a bale.]

A cotton crop of 11,896,000 bales is indicated by the E. H. Miller-Shields & Co. report. The government's October estimate was 11,609,000 bales. In 1935 a total of 10,638,000 bales was secured. Ginning of cotton to Nov. 1 aggregated 9,871,000 bales, against 7,744,000 bales for the same period in 1935.

Spot cotton closed 5 to 10 points higher, with New Orleans at 12.30 cents, Houston and Galveston at 12.10 cents, and New York at 12.35 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw advanced 10 points today on a more active demand from refiners, with spots quoted at 3.65c per lb. Sales reported included 18,000 bags of Philippines from stores at 3.60c and 56,000 bags of Porto Rican and 40,000 Cuban for November shipment at 3.65c to refiners, while an operator bought 54,000 bags of excess Philippines for November to January shipment at 3.65c. At the close there were further buyers at the 3.65c level for this year's quota sugar, but offerings were light with nothing more available below 3.70c. Futures showed further gains on renewed buying, influenced by strength in the spot market and indications of a close supply and demand situation for the coming season. Prices at best showed gains of 8 to 11 points with the late position at new highs, but setbacks near the close shaved the advance. Sales were 28,200 tons.

CORN ADVANCES; ADDS 30 MILLION TO CROP'S VALUE

Influenced by Inflation Talk, More Speculation.

Corn futures advanced 1⅛ to 2⅛ cents a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday and added approximately $30,000,000 to the value of the 1936 harvest, which is estimated at 1,505,000,000 bushels. Further inflation talk, a marked increase in speculative interest in the future market, and a dearth of offerings of cash corn were responsible for the upturn.

December corn in Chicago closed at 98 cents a bushel, the highest level since late in August. At Kansas City corn futures gained 2¼ to 2⅝ cents, with the December contract closing at $1.01¾.

Cash corn in the Chicago sample market advanced 1 to 3 cents, with many carlots sold at a dollar or more a bushel.

Nearby Wheat Options Rise.

Wheat and other grains were affected by the strength in corn. The nearby deliveries of wheat gained ½ to ¾ cent a bushel. July wheat, which represents the 1937 harvest, lost a small fraction. Oats advanced ½ cent, rye ½ to 1¼ cents, barley 1 cent, and soy beans 1 to 1⅛ cents a bushel.

Owing to persistent delay in harvesting the new corn crop and the small movement of the grain to terminal markets, there is said to be comparatively little hedging pressure in the way of sales of future contracts against a possible decline in the price of cash corn. This, it was asserted, has resulted in congestion developing in the December delivery.

The trade had reports that processors were liberal holders of December contracts in order to assure themselves of being able to secure supplies at a reasonable price.

Corn Spread Widens.

Professional traders yesterday were reported to have been aggressive buyers of December corn against sales of May, resulting in widening the differenece to 5½ cents a bushel premium for the December option. On Wednesday the spread was 4¾ cents.

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Wk. ago.	Mo ago.
Wheat	$1.15½	$1.14¾	$1.14⅝	$1.13
Corn	.98	.95½	.93⅜	.94¾
Oats	.42⅝	.41⅞	.40⅞	.41⅞
Rye	.85	.83⅝	.83	.81¼

Speculative interest in wheat futures yesterday showed marked expansion compared with last week. Houses that frequently act for mills were active on the buying side of the December future.

More Argentine Corn Due.

The steamship Winona with 121,000 bushels of Argentine corn is scheduled to arrive at Chicago tomorrow. This will make the third lot of Argentine corn received here with an aggregate of 306,000 bushels. A cargo of Argentine corn, the amount not stated, arrived at Duluth late last week and is offered for sale at $1.05 a bushel.

Montreal yesterday reported 23 vessels had unloaded full cargoes of Argentine corn at that port and 17 more vessels were expected before the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence river. Montreal shipping men expressed the belief that 10,000,000 bushels of Argentine coru would be transshipped from the Canadian port to the United States.

CROP INSURANCE PLANS PROGRESS, WALLACE AVERS

Company Executive Asks 'Conservative' Start.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace said today that establishment of a vast federal crop insurance plan would not mean curtailment of benefit payments to farmers under federal farm programs. The present nation-wide organization of the agricultural adjustment administration probably could be used in the insurance organization, Wallace told a press conference.

Earlier in the day he had presided stock and mutual insurance compasteock and mutual insurance companies and members of a special committee named by President Roosevelt to formulate a crop insurance plan for presentation to the new congress.

Regarded Government Function.

Wallace said the insurance men agreed that the all-risk crop insurance proposal was a governmental function because it was of "such magnitude that only the government could swing it." The secretary said the insurance spokesmen had promised full coöperation and had asked that insurance actuaries have access to data developed by the government.

Asked if government insurance would not encroach upon hail and other insurance now written by private companies, Wallace said the insurance officials "were not alarmed."

H. M. Bissell, Hartford, Conn., executive who attended the closed conference, told newsmen afterward that he had advised a "conservative" start by the government on the "stupendous task." Bissell added that farmers, their congressmen, and national farm organizations probably would advocate a "liberal" start.

Wallace, asked by reporters what commodity would be used to start the federal program, said wheat had been mentioned most often in committee discussions.

Wallace's Views on Future.

The secretary said greatly increased plantings of wheat, corn, and other crops probably would result next season from the short yields caused by drouth this year. He said this would not affect the AAA program for 1937 but might cause difficulties in 1938.

To meet increased yields expected with normal weather and prevent depressing prices, Wallace added: "It will be necessary to use all the powers we now have; have the utmost coöperation from the press and the farmers; have a smoothly functioning government organization and farmer committees, and, I hope, the coöperation of the eastern city press."

COMMODITY PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities today advanced to 82.45 [new high]. The previous day it was 82.03, a week ago 81.19, a month ago 80.88, a year ago 76.81. Range of recent years:

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Rubber Tired Farming.

November 5, 1936.

Since the innovation of "rubber tired farming" workers have been literally "riding on air" at the Tribune's experimental farms. For the last three years men on these farms have been using rubber tires more and more on tractors that furnish power for field implements.

Visitors were surprised to find rubber tires on tractors when the first set was bought and used an the Yorkville farm in 1934. It is roughly estimated that today probably a third of the new tractors that are being bought by farmers are equipped with rubber tires.

It is the opinion of the managers of the Tribune's farms near Yorkville and Wheaton that rubber tired tractors are here to stay and will be used more and more in field work. They have accepted them as a part of the regular equipment on the farm's tractors.

Four Tractors on Farm.

Four tractors are used on the Yorkville farm and the manager keeps two of them equipped with rubber tires and two with steel rims. Just as he finds use for both tractors and horses, he has need for tractors equipped with rubber tires and others with steel rims.

After three years of experience the Yorkville farm manager has found that he can do a better job in planting corn by drawing the planter with a tractor equipped with steel rims. The rubber tired tractors creep and jump around enough to make the cross rows slightly crooked where the corn is checked. The manager also prefers steel rimmed wheels in pulling corn pickers. During the corn picking season in late fall and early winter the surface of the ground is often slick and rubber tires without chains slip more than the steel rims. It is more satisfactory to have steel rims with lugs than rubber tires and chains when the ground is slippery.

When Tires Are Used.

It has become a regular practice on both the Yorkville and Wheaton farms to use rubber tired tractors in ordering ground for planters and drills, in cultivating corn or soy beans, in mowing timothy, red clover, alfalfa and soy beans for hay, in pulling wagons in a hay field, and in pulling hay loaders back of wagons. Under certain conditions they like rubber tires on the tractors in plowing.

"In breaking sweet clover sod when the ground is wet I have found it best to use steel rims on the tractors," said the manager of the Yorkville place. "I find it much better to use steel rims on slick ground than to go to the trouble of putting chains on rubber tires."

There are men on the Tribune farms who can remember when most farmers used walking plows. These same men who, as boys, walked behind two horse plows and later rode horse drawn sulkies and then tractors with steel rims, now drive balloon tired tractors drawing gang plows. Modern farming seems pretty soft to these old-timers.
